(a) The board of administration shall have exclusive control of the administration of said fund except as otherwise provided.

(b) The said fund shall be invested by the state board of land commissioners as part of the long term investment fund.

(c) The board of administration shall deposit monthly in the state treasury all amounts received by it as provided in this section and section 68-1307.

(d) The state treasurer shall be custodian of the retirement fund, subject to the exclusive control of the board of administration as to the administration thereof and the state board of land commissioners as to the investment thereof. All payment from said fund shall be made by him only upon vouchers signed by two (2) board members designated by the board of administration. A duly attested copy of a resolution of the board of administration designating such persons and bearing on its face specimen signatures of such persons shall be filed with the treasurer as his authority for making payments upon such vouchers. No voucher shall be drawn unless it has previously been authorized by resolution of the board of administration.

(e) Interest earned on any cash deposit in a bank by the state treasurer and income on other assets constituting a part of the said fund shall be paid into said fund as received. Income, of whatever nature, earned on the retirement fund during any fiscal year, in excess of the interest credited to contributions during said year shall be retained in said fund as a reserve against deficiencies in interest earned in other years, losses under investments, and other contingencies.

(f) Except as herein provided, no member and no employees of the board of administration shall have any interest direct, or indirect, in the making of any investment, or in the gains of profits accruing therefrom. And no member or employee of the said board directly or indirectly, for himself or as an agent or partner of others, shall borrow any of its funds or deposits, nor shall any such member or employee in any manner use the same except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by said board; nor shall any member or employee of said board become an indorser or surety as to, or in any manner an obliger for investments by the board.

(g) The normal rates of contribution of members shall be based on sex and the age at the nearest birthday at the time of entrance into the retirement system. The normal rates of contribution shall be such as will provide an average annuity at age sixty-five (65) equal to one one hundred-fortieth (1/140) of the final compensation of members, according to the tables adopted by the board, for each year of service rendered after entering the system. Nothing in this section shall prevent the adoption of one (1) schedule of rates for males and one (1) schedule for females.

(h) The actual amount of annuity receivable by any member upon retirement shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions, as provided in subdivisions (a) and (k) of section 68-1307.

(i) From and after July 1, 1955, the board of administration shall certify to the head of each office or department of the state and to the registrar of the university the normal rate of contribution as provided in this act for each member in such office, department, or the university, respectively. The head of each office or department of the state shall apply such rate of contribution to the compensation of each member, and shall certify to the state auditor on each and every payroll the amount to be contributed and shall furnish immediately to the board of administration a copy of each and every such payroll; and each such amount shall be deducted by the head of each office or department and shall be remitted to the board. The registrar of the university shall apply the rate of contribution certified to him by the board to the compensation of each member employed by the university and the contributions so determined shall be deducted by the registrar of the university from the compensation of each such member; each such amount shall be remitted to the board and the registrar of the university shall furnish to the board a copy of each and every salary roll and payroll from which such amounts have been deducted. Each contribution deducted and remitted to the board shall be credited by the board, together with regular interest, to an individual account of the member for whom the contribution was made. Payment of salaries or wages less such contribution shall be full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for the service rendered by members during the period covered by such payment, except their claims to the benefits to which they may be entitled under the provisions of this act.

(j) From and after July 1, 1955, the board of administration shall certify to the city clerk, or other officer designated by the legislative body, of each contracting city the rate of contribution as provided in this act for each member included under the retirement system respectively. The city clerk, or other officer, shall apply the rate of contribution certified to him by the board to the compensation of each member included in the retirement system and the contribution so determined shall be deducted by the city clerk, or other officer, from the compensation of each such member; each such amount shall be remitted to the board and the city clerk or other officer, shall furnish to the board a copy of each and every salary roll and payroll from which such amounts have been deducted. Each contribution deducted and remitted to the board shall be credited by the board, together with regular interest, to an individual account of the member for whom the contribution was made. Payment of salaries or wages less such contribution shall be full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims to the benefits to which they may be entitled under the provisions of this act.

(k) Subject to the rules and regulations to be established and promulgated by the board of administration, any member may elect to contribute at rates in excess of those provided for in subsection (i) and (j) of this section of this act, for the purpose of providing additional benefits, but the exercise of this privilege by a member shall not place on the state or contracting city any additional financial obligation. The provisions of subdivision (f) and (g) of section 68-203 shall apply also to additional contributions. The board, upon application shall furnish to such member information concerning the nature and amount of additional benefits to be provided by such additional contributions.

(l) In addition to the contributions hereinbefore provided to be paid by employees who are members of the retirement system created by this act, every such employee shall pay an annual membership fee of one dollar ($1.00) which amount, together with other moneys appropriated for that purpose, shall be used for the support of the board of administration.

(m) From and after July 1, 1955, should the state service of a member be discontinued otherwise than by death or retirement, he shall after the date of discontinuance, be paid such part of his accumulated contributions as he demands. The board may, in its discretion, withhold for not more than one (1) year after a member last rendered state service, all or part of his accumulated normal contributions if after a previous discontinuance of state service he withdrew all or part of his accumulated normal contributions and failed to redeposit such withdrawn amount in the retirement fund as provided in subsection (n).

Any member with ten (10) or more years of service, whose service is discontinued otherwise than by death or retirement, shall have the right to elect within ninety (90) days after such termination of service, and without right of revocation, whether to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund. Upon the qualification for retirement by reason of age or disability of a member who has elected to allow his accumulated contributions to remain in the retirement fund, he shall receive a retirement allowance in accordance with the provisions of section 68-901, exclusive of subparagraph (g) of section 68-901.

(n) Any member may redeposit in the retirement fund, in one sum or in not to exceed twelve (12) monthly or twenty-four (24) semimonthly payments, an amount equal to that which he withdrew therefrom at the last termination of his membership, subject to minimum monthly or semimonthly payments as fixed by the board of administration. If a member, upon re-entering the retirement system after a termination of his membership, does not elect to make or, having so elected, subsequently does not make such redeposit, he shall re-enter as a new member without credit for any service except the prior service credited to him before said termination, and the rate of his contribution for future years shall be the normal rate provided for in this act at his age of re-entrance; otherwise his rate of contribution for future years shall be the same as his rate prior to the last termination of his membership, and his membership shall be the same as if unbroken by such last termination. Regardless of whether such redeposit is made, the documents held by the retirement system as executed by said member prior to termination of membership shall be held by the system for the same purposes as prior to said termination, and beneficiaries nominated in such documents shall continue unchanged until changed as provided herein.

(o) The board may in its discretion transfer the savings account of a member to the pension accumulation fund if the account has been dormant for a period of ten (10) years provided that no right of the member shall be jeopardized by such transfer and the savings account shall be transferred to the member's name upon subsequent re-entry to membership.

(m) substituted the words "right of revocation" for the words "right or revocation" and added subd. (o).

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, any person who has been retired for service (as distinguished from disability) under the provisions of this act may be employed in state service in accordance with the laws governing such service in the same manner as a person who has not been so retired.

(c) Any person so employed shall be considered as reinstated from retirement and his retirement allowance shall be cancelled forthwith. His individual account shall be credited with an amount which is the actuarial equivalent of his annuity at the time of such reinstatement, and his rate of contribution for future years shall be the same as if he had continued in state service during the period of his retirement. Elective officers and officers appointed directly by the governor who have elected to become and are members of the system may continue to serve in office for the duration of the term for which elected or appointed. Every employee of the university who becomes a member, and who, at the time of becoming such member has attained the age of seventy-five (75) years, shall be retired forthwith. On and after January 1, 1951, every member who at that time has attained the age of seventy (70) years, shall be retired forthwith, and thereafter every such member must be retired on the first (1st) day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of seventy (70) years"; in subd. 68-1003. Effect of refusal of beneficiary to submit to medical examination.

68-1001. Reinstatement from disability retirement. (a) The board of administration, may, at its pleasure, require any disability beneficiary to undergo medical examination. Such examination shall be made by a physician or surgeon, appointed by the board, at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon. Upon the basis of such examination the board shall determine whether said disability beneficiary is still incapacitated, physically or mentally, for service in the office or department of the state or of the contracting city, where he was employed and in the position held by him when retired for disability, or for duties proposed to be assigned to him. If the board of administration determines that said beneficiary is not so incapacitated, his retirement allowance shall be cancelled forthwith. If he was an employee of the state or of the university, he shall be reinstated to the position held by him when retired for disability or to a position in the same classification with duties within his capacity. If he was an employee of a contracting city, the board shall notify the proper official of said city that said disability has been terminated and that said person is eligible for reinstatement to duty. The fact that said person was retired for disability shall not prejudice any right to reinstatement to duty which he may have or claim to have.

(b) In the case of such a member who is an employee of a contracting city, and who for any reason is not so reinstated or is not re-employed by said city in a position subject to the retirement system, he shall be paid an amount which is the actuarial equivalent of his annuity at that time, as based on a disabled life, but said amount shall not exceed the amount of his accumulated contributions as such amount stood at the time of his retirement for disability.

(c) Should a disability beneficiary re-enter the state service and be eligible for membership in the retirement system in acordance with section 68-202, his retirement allowance shall be cancelled and he shall immediately become a member of the retirement system, his rate of contribution for future years being that established for his age at the time of such re-entry. His individual account shall be credited with an amount which is the actuarial equivalent of his annuity at that time, as based on a disabled life, but such amount shall not exceed the amount of his accumulated contributions as such amount stood at the time of his retirement for disability. Such member shall receive credit for prior service in the same manner as though he had never been retired for disability.

68-1002. Reduction of allowance when employed. Should a disability beneficiary engage in a gainful occupation not in the state service or should he re-enter the state service in a capacity ineligible for membership in the retirement system, the board of administration shall reduce the amount of his monthly pension to an amount which, when added to the compensation earned monthly by him in such occupation, shall not exceed the amount of his monthly compensation at the time of his retirement. Should the earning capacity of such beneficiary be further altered, the board may further alter his pension to an amount which shall not exceed the amount upon which he was originally retired, but which, subject to such limitation, shall equal, when added to the compensation earned by him, the amount of his compensation at the time of his retirement.

68-1003. Effect of refusal of beneficiary to submit to medical examination. Should any disability beneficiary refuse to submit to medical examination, his pension may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should such refusal continue for one (1) year his retirement allowance may be cancelled.

Regular interest shall be credited on the unpaid balance of such benefit, at rates then in use under the system as adopted by the board from time to time.

(d) If compensation is awarded by the industrial accident board of the state of Montana by reason of a finding that the member's death resulted from injury or disease arising out of or in the course of employment, the death benefit payable hereunder shall be limited to a refund of the member's accumulated contributions. In any case where the industrial accident board makes a determination that death of a state employee resulted from injury or disease arising out of and in the course of employment and pays compensation therefor, the industrial accident board shall certify its findings and determination to the board of administration of the public employees' retirement system.

(e) Survivorship provision. In lieu of the benefits provided in (a) and (b) above, if the deceased member is qualified by reason of service for a retirement benefit, the beneficiary nominated by the deceased member may elect to receive a monthly life annuity. Said monthly life annuity is to be based on the beneficiary's attained age at the time of the deceased member's death and to be calculated from an amount equal to the required reserve for the deceased member's creditable service, together with the deceased member's accumulated contributions; and provided that this provision be retroactive for all members who had an option for a lesser retirement allowance filed in the retirement system office at the time of their death.

(f) The beneficiary named in (e) above shall have the right within ninety (90) days of the member's death to elect to receive a death benefit instead of the benefit designated in (e) above.

Demurrer

That part of this section which requires the commission and other parties defendant to file their answer to the complaint within thirty days does not preclude the filing of a dmurrer. There is no reason why the commission may not properly demur upon grounds which raise only questions of law that are preliminary to a consideration of the case on the merits. As to the contention that this results in the delay of the trial, it is sufficient to say that it is proper for the court to extend the time for answering for a reasonable time after disposition of the demurrer. TITLE 72—RAILROADS

Chapter 1. Railroads—regulation by board of railroad commissioners, 72-164.
6. General regulation of business of railroads, 72-668 to 72-670.

CHAPTER 1—RAILROADS—REGULATION BY BOARD OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS

Section 72-164. Railroad commission may order electric signal bells installed.

Vacancy

The time limitations prescribed in section 23-809 which provides the secretary of state shall certify to the various county clerks the names of persons nominated for election not less than 45 days nor more than 90 days before the election, has no application to an election to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of a regularly elected railroad commissioner where, such commissioner defers and withholds the effective date of his resignation until but 32 days remain between such effective date and the day of the general election. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 647.

The provisions of section 23-809, a general statute, are in conflict with the special provisions of this section, a special statute, which applies specifically and exclusively to the filling of vacancies occurring in the board of commissioners of the state of Montana. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 646.

There can be no special election to elect the governor's appointee's successor under this section, for the result of a special election could oust the governor's appointee prior to the next general election held next after such appointee's appointment and qualification. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 647.

The office of railroad commissioner is one that is required to be filled by the voters at the general elections held biennially, and it is only when a vacancy occurs that a temporary appointment is authorized to stop the gap and permit the board to continue to function with three members until the electors are presented with their first opportunity to select the appointee's successor which opportunity is afforded under the law at the next general election held following the occurrence of the vacancy. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 646.

72-118. (3796) Power to alter classification or rate—hearing complaint.

Change in Rates

Advantage, preference or discrimination standing alone is not sufficient justification for interference with intrastate rates. It is only undue or unreasonable advantage, preference or prejudice, or undue, unreasonable or unjust discrimination that justifies intervention by the interstate commerce commission. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1030.

Disparity between Interstate Rates and Intrastate Rates

The consequences of an intrastate rate increase by the state board are quite different from the standpoint of a shipper from an interstate rate increase by the interstate commerce commission. The reason for this difference is that the interstate commerce commission has the power and authority to declare a rate unreasonable or discriminatory retroactively and to compel reparation to a shipper who has paid freight charges in excess of a reasonable rate. The state board has no such authority. Consequently, the state board should require independent proof on matters essential to warrant an increase in intrastate rates and charges and should not assume that the intrastate rate was properly related to the interstate rate prior to the change made in the latter and that to maintain this relationship the intrastate rate had to be increased exactly the same as the interstate rate. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1027.

The state board has no authority to grant an automatic raise in intrastate rates simply because the interstate commerce commission had granted a raise in interstate rates. The mere disparity between the interstate rates and the intrastate rates does not compel the state board to grant an increase so as to remove the disparity. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1027.

Discontinuance of Service

An order of the board that there should be no curtailment or discontinuance of passenger train service between points within the state except where authorized by commission is valid under the statute and in line with authorities that a public utility may not discontinue its service without approval of the public service commission. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1094. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

Railroad was not authorized to discontinue railway service between points within Montana without permission of the commission, although in an earlier petition by the railroad to discontinue such service the commission had ruled it had no jurisdiction. The erroneous ruling of the board that it had no jurisdiction over proceedings to abandon the service so far as it affected intrastate transportation did not justify the railroad in removing the trains. That order was subject to review and the obligation to have that order reviewed rested on the railway company as a necessary step to procure the consent of the board for the abandonment of the train service. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

72-125. (3803) Court review of action of board—pleadings.

Obligation to Review

Where the board ruled that it had no jurisdiction in acting on a railroad's petition to discontinue service, the railroad was not authorized to discontinue such service between points within the state without the consent of the commission. The order was subject to review and the obligation to have that order reviewed rested on the railway company, as a necessary step to procure the consent of the board for the abandonment of the train service. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

72-132. (3809) Action to determine reasonableness of rates, etc.

Appellant Review

The findings of the board are by law deemed prima facie just, reasonable and proper, and courts should ascribe to them the strength due to the judgments of a tribunal appointed by law and informed by experience. The board's conclusion is subject to review, but when supported by evidence is accepted as final. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 350.

Requiring Continuation of Service at a Loss

Where convenience and necessity is found to exist, evidence of earnings and losses on its various services would be material before a railroad would be heard to complain that a service is an undue burden on interstate commerce or that in rendering the service there is an unlawful taking of property without due process of law. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 352.

The fact that several trains are run at a loss, is not, standing alone, sufficient to justify the discontinuance of the trains in question. It has long been settled that a requirement that a particular service be rendered at a loss does not make a service confiscatory and thereby an unconstitutional taking of property. The Constitution does not grant to a railroad company a continuing privilege of exercising its franchise and at the same time permit it to escape from the duties incidental to it. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 351.

(3842) Railroad commission may order electric signal bells installed. Authority is hereby given to the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana upon petition in writing made to it by any board of county commissioners of the state of Montana, to order railroad companies to install and maintain an electrically operated bell or other signalling device at all points in the state of Montana where the main lines, spurs, or switches of any railroad in continuous operation and use, owned or operated by them, cross any public highway now lawfully established or hereafter laid out within the state of Montana, and where the contour of the country adjacent to said crossing is such that a person approaching same along said highway cannot, at a distance of twenty-five (25) feet of said crossing, obtain an unobstructed view of said railroad track for a distance of one half (½) mile on either side of said crossing; or where any other hazardous conditions exist which make it advisable that electric signalling devices be installed; provided, however, all persons driving motor vehicles upon the public highways of this state, outside of corporate limits of incorporated cities or towns, where the view is obscure, or when a moving train is within sight or hearing, shall bring said vehicle to a full stop not less than ten (10) nor more than one hundred (100) feet from where said highway intersects railroad tracks within this state, before crossing the same, at all crossings where a flagman or a mechanical device is not maintained to warn the traveling public of approaching trains or cars.

TITLE 74—SALES AND EXCHANGE

CHAPTER 1—SALE AND AGREEMENTS FOR SALE

74-101. (7581) Sale defined.

74-104. (7584) Agreement to sell.

Operation and Effect

A seller ordinarily may not sue for the purchase price of the property until title has passed to the buyer. The actual passing of a title, as between the parties to a contract of sale of personal property, depends upon the intention of the parties. DeMers v. O'Leary, 126 M 528, 254 P 2d 1080, 1084.

CHAPTER 2—CONTRACT FOR SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY, WHEN VALID—FILING—SEIZURE ON DEFAULT

74-203. (7593) Contract for sale of real property.

Memorandum

An endorsed bank check with the additional words "payment land" written on it is insufficient to constitute the written "note or memorandum" required by the statutes for it does not contain all the essentials of the agreement. Lewis v. Peterson, 127 M 474, 267 P 2d 127, 128.

CHAPTER 3—RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF SELLER—DELIVERY AND WARRANTY

74-321. (7618) Warranty of provisions for domestic use.

Measure of Damages

The applicable section governing the measure of damages when plaintiff's sheep died after eating feed sold by defendant is section 17-314 wherein defendant is liable for all damages that were foreseen, or could easily have been foreseen, as likely to result from the putting of the thing sold to the use for which it was sold. Seaton Ranch Co. v. Montana Vegetable Oil & Feed Co., 126 M 415, 252 P 2d 1040, 1045.

Sale—Determination

On a second appeal of a case where the evidence of the "sale" of sheep feed given in the second trial was the same as given in the first trial, the Supreme Court determination on the first appeal that the plaintiff's evidence was sufficient to make out a prima facie case of sale became the law of the case and binding upon the parties and the district court. Seaton Ranch Co. v. Montana Vegetable Oil & Feed Co., 126 M 415, 252 P 2d 1040, 1042.

75-1522. (970) Abandonment of school districts. (1) He shall attach to contiguous districts territory not a part of any district except as hereinafter provided, and he must declare a school district abandoned when a school has not been operated in the district during a period of three (3) consecutive years. The county superintendent in determining the question of abandoning any school district under this act must include any period of time that may have elapsed before the approval of this act; provided, however, that the county superintendent of schools shall notify each school district which has not operated a school for two (2) years, that the nonoperation of a school for another year will bring about abandonment. Failure of the county superintendent to give such notification does not, however, protect the district from abandonment; provided further, that if any such school district has provided transportation either by bus or by the payment to individuals, or has provided payments for board and room in lieu of transportation for an average of at least three (3) children of school age during a period of three (3) consecutive years living within the district, to another district for the purpose of attending school therein for a term of at least one hundred eighty (180) days each year, such transportation shall be deemed equivalent to the actual holding of school in such district for a term of one hundred eighty (180) days in each year, and such district shall not be ordered abandoned.

(2) The abandoned territory shall be attached to a contiguous district or districts. Whenever there are five (5) or more children in abandoned territory eligible for attendance in an elementary school as determined by the county superintendent and residing more than three (3) miles from an established school in the district to which the abandoned territory is attached, the school trustees shall provide a school in such abandoned territory when requested so to do by the parents of at least three (3) of such children. In determining whether such children reside more than three (3) miles from an established school in the district, the measurement must be by the shortest regularly traveled route. Whenever a school district is ordered abandoned and there is any indebtedness outstanding against the district represented either by registered warrants, or bonds, or both, and there is not sufficient money in the funds of the district to pay the same, all money in the funds of the district shall be set aside and applied in payment of such indebtedness, and there shall be levied annually, in the manner provided by law, a tax against all property within the boundaries of such district, as the same existed when such indebtedness was incurred, sufficient to pay such indebtedness as it matures, with all interest becoming due thereon.

(3) All funds of an abandoned district, after all the debts of the district have been paid, shall be placed in the general fund of the district or districts to which its territory is attached on order of the county superintendent. If the territory of an abandoned district is divided and a part attached to two (2) or more districts, the funds of the abandoned district, after all its debts have been paid, shall be apportioned by the county superintendent between the district to which such territory is attached in proportion to the assessed value of the property attached to each thereof. The school buildings, if any, in the abandoned territory, shall not be disposed of or removed unless approval for disposal or removal is given by a majority vote of the residents of the abandoned district present at a meeting in such school buildings, such meeting to be duly called by the board of trustees of the consolidated district. The county superintendent shall have power to declare a school district abandoned when there is an insufficient number of residents of said district who could qualify or when the available residents refuse to qualify in sufficient number as trustees and clerk for said district so that no legal board can be formed or a quorum obtained so that meetings of a board of trustees of such district can be held. Whenever a school district is ordered abandoned upon order of the county superintendent of schools in such case, then he shall attach said school district to a contiguous district or districts as herein provided.

CHAPTER 18—SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Section 75-1805. Creation of new districts out of other districts—change of boundaries.
75-1831. Examination of school district books—accounting methods to be prescribed—reports.

75-1805. (1024) Creation of new districts out of other districts—change of boundaries. (1) A new school district may be created out of portions of one (1) or more existing school districts where the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of property remaining in each district from which territory is taken is not reduced below seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) and where the number of census children between the ages of six (6) and sixteen (16) years is not reduced below fifteen (15). For the purpose of organizing a new school district out of one (1) or more existing districts, a petition in writing shall be made to the county superintendent of schools, signed by parents or guardians of at least ten (10) census children between the ages of six (6) and sixteen (16) years, residing within the boundaries of the proposed new district, and residing at a greater distance than three (3) miles from any schoolhouse owned by any one of such school districts in which a school is maintained. The petition shall describe the boundaries of the proposed new district and give the names of all children of school age residing therein at the date of the presenting of said petition. The petition shall also show the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of the property within the proposed new district which must not be less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) as shown by the last completed assessment roll. Provided, however, that said provision as to the minimum remaining taxable valuation of each district from which territory is taken shall not apply in a case where such district has at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land remaining within its borders and provided, further, that said provision as to the minimum taxable valuation of such proposed new district shall not apply where such proposed district contains at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land.

(2) The county superintendent shall within five (5) days from the receipt of such petition give notice of the hearing of said petition by posting or causing to be posted, a notice thereof at least ten (10) days prior to the time appointed by him for consideration of said petition, in at least three (3) of the most public places in the proposed new district and one (1) on each schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change, or if there be no schoolhouse, then in one (1) of the most public places in each of said old districts; and shall on the day fixed in the notice proceed to hear said petition at the place designated in said notice, which must be either at the courthouse of the county or else at the schoolhouse in one of the school districts affected, unless a protest in writing signed by at least a majority of the school electors residing within such proposed school district shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools before or at the time fixed in the notice for the hearing of said petition, in which event the proposed school district shall not be created. If no such protest be filed, then the county superintendent, upon hearing the petition, shall within ten (10) days from the date of such hearing, make an order establishing the new district and describing the boundaries thereof, or make an order denying such petition.

(3) An appeal may be taken to the board of county commissioners of the county, from either order made as aforesaid by three (3) resident taxpayers of either the old or the new district who are dissatisfied with said order. Such appeal shall be taken within thirty (30) days of the date of such order and upon the hearing of said matter by the board of county commissioners, a decision shall be rendered which shall be final. The appeals mentioned in this section shall be in writing, subscribed by the parties taking the appeal and shall recite sufficient facts to show their rights to appeal hereunder, and that it is an appeal from the decision rendered, and such an appeal shall be filed with the county superintendent within thirty (30) days from the date of the order establishing such new district or denying such petition. The county superintendent shall, within twenty (20) days from the filing of such notice of appeal transmit to the board of county commissioners, and file in the office of the county clerk, the notice of appeal and all petitions, plats, and papers in his possession pertaining to the petition for the creation of such new school district.

(4) The county clerk shall forthwith, upon receipt of such notice of appeal and other papers, give notice to all parties interested, by causing to be posted at least ten (10) days prior to the date of the next regular meeting of the board of county commissioners, in at least three (3) of the most public places in the proposed new district, and one (1) on each schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change, or if there be no schoolhouse, then in one (1) of the most public places in each of said old districts, notices to the effect that the board of county commissioners will, at its office in the courthouse, upon a certain date, specifying the same in such notices, which date shall be during the next regular session of the board, finally hear and determine said appeal and said petition for the creation of such new district. The boundaries of any district can be changed in the following manner, to wit:

(5) A majority of the resident taxpayers who are registered electors and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state, county and school district taxes, residing in territory which is a part of any organized school district may present a petition in writing to the county superintendent of schools, asking that such territory be transferred to, or included in, any other organized district to which said territory is contiguous, provided, however, that no territory within three (3) miles of an established school in such district shall be so transferred and provided further that the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of property in the district from which territory is taken shall not be reduced to less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00); provided, however, that this latter provision shall not apply in cases where the remaining taxable valuation of the district from which the territory is taken contains at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land.

(6) The petition shall describe the territory which it is proposed to transfer or include, and shall also state the reason for desiring such change, and the number of children of school age, if any, residing in the territory to be transferred or included.

(7) The county superintendent shall file said petition in his office immediately on receipt thereof, and shall give notice to the parties interested by posting notices at least ten (10) days prior to the time appointed for considering said petition, one (1) of which shall be in a public place in the territory which is proposed to be transferred or included, and one (1) on the door of each schoolhouse in each district affected by the change, or if there be no schoolhouse in such district, then in some public place in such district or districts, and at the time stated in said notice for the consideration of such petition, which shall not be less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after the date of filing such petition, he shall proceed to hear such petition, and if he deem it advisable and for the best interest of the territory proposed to be transferred or included, he shall grant such petition and make an order fixing the boundaries of the district so changed, which order shall be final, unless an appeal be taken to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein such districts are located within thirty (30) days thereafter, and upon hearing thereof the decision of said board shall be final.

(8) All the papers, documents, and records in the case shall be certified by the county superintendent to the county commissioners for their determination of the matter on appeal; provided, that lands lying contiguous to a district and not attached to any district shall be attached to an adjacent district by the county superintendent of his own motion, and provided further, that all districts shall consist of contiguous territory.

For the purpose of assisting him in checking duplication in such reports, he shall make an alphabetical card index, classified by families, showing the names of all children on the school census, which index shall be kept current according to the census reports turned in to him each year. If the name of the same person be found upon more than one report or if the report contains names which are fictitious or names which properly belong in some other school district, he shall strike out such fictitious names and all duplicate names from all lists except that of the district in which such person was residing in good faith on the first day of October. If the county superintendent should find upon any census list the names of any persons who he believes were not residents in good faith in such district as aforesaid or which he believes are fictitious, he shall notify the clerk of the particular school district and if said clerk shall not establish the correctness of the list within fifteen (15) days after such notification, such names shall be stricken from the list. At the time of taking the annual census the clerk shall use reasonable diligence to ascertain the names of all handicapped children in the district and such information concerning the same as is required by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Section 75-2401. Re-election of teachers—when automatic—acceptance.

75-2401. (1075) Re-election of teachers—when automatic—acceptance. After the election of any teacher or principal for the fourth consecutive year in any school district in the state, such teacher or principal so elected shall be deemed re-elected from year to year thereafter at the same salary unless the board of trustees shall by majority vote of its members on or before the first day of April give notice in writing to said teacher or principal that he has been re-elected or that his services will not be required for the ensuing year, but in this written notice, the board of trustees, if requested by the teacher or principal, must declare clearly and explicitly the specific reason or reasons for the failure of re-employment of such teacher. The teacher or principal, if he so desires, shall be granted a hearing and reconsideration of such dismissal, before the board of trustees of that school district. The request for a hearing and reconsideration must be made in writing and submitted to the board of school trustees within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of dismissal. The board of trustees must hold a hearing and reconsider its action within ten (10) days after receipt of such request for a hearing and reconsideration. Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the re-election of such teacher or principal by such board at an earlier date, and also provided that in case of re-election of such teacher or principal, he shall notify the board of trustees in writing within twenty (20) days after the notice of such re-election of his acceptance of the position tendered him for another year and failure to so notify the board of trustees shall be regarded as conclusive evidence of his nonacceptance of the position.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment raised the number of years after which re-election is deemed automatic from three to four.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 26, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 26, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1957.

Tenure

A teacher's tenure is a substantial, valuable and beneficial right, which cannot be taken away except for good cause. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209, 214.

The number of hours a teacher may teach in a day is not a factor in determining her right to tenure. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209, 215.

Appeals to County School Superintendent

Writ of prohibition does not lie against the county superintendent of schools to prevent her from acting in an appeal taken to her by a teacher who had been denied re-employment by the school board since by this section appeals from such dismissals go to the county superintendent of schools. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209.

Rules

The rules, a violation of which gives the school board the right and power to discharge are the rules referred to in the teacher's contract, viz. "rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the district, which are made a part hereof by reference." Hence a teacher could not be discharged for violations of rules of the superintendent of the high school, which rules were not part of the "rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the District, which are made a part" of the teacher's contract. School attendance shall begin within the first week of the school term, unless the child is excused from such attendance by the superintendent of the public schools, in city and other districts having such superintendent, or by the clerk of the board of trustees in districts not having such superintendent, or by the principal of the private or parochial school, upon satisfactory showing either that the bodily or mental condition of the child does not permit of its attendance at school, or that the child is being instructed at home by a person qualified, in the opinion of the superintendent of schools in city or other districts having such superintendent, to teach the branches named in this section; provided, that the county superintendent may excuse children from attendance upon such schools where, in his judgment the distance makes such attendance an undue hardship. In case the county superintendent, city superintendent, principal, or clerk refuses to excuse a child from attendance at school, an appeal may be taken from such decision to the district court of the county, upon giving a bond, within ten (10) days after such refusal, to the approval of said court, to pay all costs of the appeal; and the decision of the district court in the matter shall be final. Any parent, guardian or other person having the care or custody of a child between the ages of eight (8) and sixteen (16) years, who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty dollars ($20.00).

(2) Every school district, its officers and employees, and every person kept separate and apart from all other funds, and to be used only for the purchase of the bus or busses needed to replace the bus or busses and two-way radios for which said reserve was created, unless authorized by a majority of the votes cast by the qualified electors of the district at an election called for that purpose. Provided, however, that school district trustees may authorize as standard equipment, the installation of two-way radios in a school bus or busses operating in school districts where weather and road conditions may constitute a hazard to the safety of the school pupil passengers. (a) to (g). * * * [Subdivisions (a) to (g), same as parent volume.]

(h) In isolated cases where due to isolation pupils must live away from home to attend school or due to excessive distances, impassable roads or special circumstances where parents cannot transport their children payments in accordance with the above schedule are inadequate and adherence to such schedule would subject the parents or guardians of a school child or the child himself to financial or physical hardship the schedule may be altered by the county transportation committee subject to written approval by the state superintendent of public instruction; provided, that, in no case shall the altered schedule allow more than thirty dollars ($30.00) per month for one child, twelve dollars ($12.00) per month for the second child, and six dollars ($6.00) per month for each child in addition to two (2) from the same family. A degree of isolation chart shall be provided school district trustees by the state superintendent of public instruction to serve as a guide in requesting increased transportation due to isolation.

The applicant for such alteration of the schedule shall submit a written statement in duplicate to the board of trustees of the district which is obligated to make payment for transportation or services in lieu thereof, and to the county transportation committee through the county superintendent, stating the special facts and circumstances upon which he relies to justify the alteration. The county transportation committee shall act on the application regardless of the approval or disapproval by the board of trustees of the district wherein such application was initiated.

If such application be approved by the county transportation committee and alterations of the schedule will result in increased payments to be made by the state to the district, the application and pertinent data and the decision of the county transportation committee shall be submitted to the state superintendent of public instruction for final approval or disapproval.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment in the second paragraph of subd. (h) substituted the sentence "The county transportation committee shall act on the application regardless of the approval or disapproval by the board of trustees of the district wherein such application was initiated" for one which read "The county transportation committee shall not act upon any such application unless it has been approved by the district board," and in the third paragraph changed the word "alteration" to "alterations."

75-3412. Transportation matters in controversy—settlement—county transportation committees. All transportation matters in controversy shall be settled by the county transportation committee hereinafter defined. Provided, that, if the applicant for transportation feels that he has not met with justice in the decision of the county transportation committee, he may appeal to the state superintendent of public instruction, in which case the county superintendent shall send to the state superintendent of public instruction all data and evidence connected with the case.

(a) To facilitate and administer the policies relating to the transportation of school pupils, there are hereby created county transportation committees. Such committees shall be organized in each county and shall consist of the county superintendent of schools, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, or such other member of the board as he may designate, one representative chosen by each high school board of trustees, who shall be a member of the board, or the high school superintendent, and a trustee from the elementary districts in each high school district who shall be selected at a joint meeting of the elementary district boards within the high school district. In counties which do not have high school districts, the elementary district representatives shall be selected at a county-wide meeting of the boards of trustees of the elementary districts of the county in a number equal to those of the high school boards, excepting that in no case shall an elementary district member of the transportation committee be a member of a school board which is both a high school board and an elementary district board. Provided, however, that the county transportation committee shall have not less than five members and that where there is only one high school board in the county that both the high school board and the elementary districts may select two representatives. The county superintendent of schools shall be chairman of this committee and a quorum shall consist of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership. It shall be the duty of the county transportation committee to approve bus routes and applications for increased transportation payments, and to act in all controversies resulting from transportation matters.

When the transportation interests of a district are affected by the actions and interest of the county transportation committee of another county, it shall be represented on the county transportation committee of both counties, but shall have a voice only in matters affecting its high school.

Any school district which objects to the particular bus route or transportation area to which it has been assigned may upon vote of its board of trustees signifying such objection, be assigned to an adjoining district or transportation area which maintains a public high school, provided that the board of trustees of the latter school is willing to have such district assigned to its area. In case of a continued disagreement, on the initiative of a petition signed by twenty per cent (20%) of the qualified electors of any district indicating dissatisfaction with the area to which it has been assigned the board of trustees shall place the matter of which area to belong to at the trustee election in April; provided, however, that if such pupils are not transported to the nearest high school, the state reimbursement shall be limited to the amount which would be paid if they were transported to the nearest high school, unless such attendance has been approved by the county transportation committee and the state department of public instruction. The state board of education through the state superintendent of public instruction shall formulate such rules and regulations as may be necessary for establishing high school transportation areas for determining residence of pupils, and for carrying out the purposes of this act; provided, however, that such regulations shall not prevent or deny to any parent the right to transport or arrange for transportation of his children at his own expense to the high school of any district willing to accept them. Any patron of a school district or portion of a school district dissatisfied with transportation matters in his county shall have the right of appeal to the county transportation committee and to the state superintendent of public instruction.

The 1957 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see 1955 amendment and parent volume.

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 251, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

75-3618. Distribution of money available to districts—formula for apportionment of county funds. After the deduction of transportation reimbursements provided by law, the proceeds of the county ten (10) mill common school levy and the proceeds of the county ten (10) mill special tax for high schools, shall each be separately distributed by the county superintendent to the respective districts in the county, and the county high school if there be one, in proportion to their needs under the foundation financial program. In all cases in which the proceeds of such county levy and the five (5) mill tax for elementary schools provided for in section 10 [75-1723] hereof, when added to all other funds available to the respective districts from the permanent school fund, payments by the federal government for Indian tuition, and all payments by it or any of its agencies in lieu of taxes, and other funds which must be used in support of the foundation financial program are insufficient to finance the foundation financial program, the proceeds of the county common school levy and the proceeds of the county special tax for high schools shall each be separately distributed in accordance with the following procedure; provided, however, that cash balances to the credit of the district at the end of the school year, after authorized reserves have been subtracted as well as outstanding warrants, shall be used by the district to reduce the levies on the district for the general fund after the uniform district levy and county and state equalization aid have been received:

1. Determine the ratio that the total funds available to all districts in the county in support of the foundation program (including proceeds of the county levy) bears to the total costs of the foundation program for all such districts.

2. Determine the ratio that the total funds available to each district in support of the foundation program (excluding all proceeds of the county levy) bears to the cost of the foundation program of each such district.

3. Districts in which the ratio as determined in (2) above exceeds the ratio in (1) above shall not be entitled to distribution of county funds but shall be excluded from further consideration under this section.

4. After elimination of districts referred to in (3) above, determine the ratio that the total funds available to all remaining districts in the county in support of the foundation program (including proceeds of the county levy) bears to the total cost of the foundation program of all such remaining districts. Each remaining district shall then be entitled to distribution of funds from the county levy, which, when added to all other funds available to such district in support of the foundation program shall be sufficient to finance such proportionate part of its foundation program.

For the purpose of determining levies in a joint school district maintaining a high school, the total cost of the general fund and other budgets of such joint districts shall be divided in the ratio which the number of pupils in the joint district residing in the county bears to the total ANB of the joint district. Such resulting high school budgets shall be considered as separate budgets for high school purposes of the respective counties involved, receiving a part of the ten (10) mill levy, state equalization aid and additional moneys on either the high school district or the part of the joint school district involved as any other high school of the county.

For elementary budgets in a joint school district the total cost of the foundation program for such joint school district shall be divided in the ratio which the number of pupils in the joint district residing in the county bears to the total ANB of the joint district. Each part of such budget so divided shall be treated as a separate budget for such part of the joint district and one of the school districts of the county for the purpose of apportioning proceeds of the county levy. The resulting amount shall be used as the foundation financial program requirement of the joint district for the apportionment of the county levy. The balance of the budget over the foundation program, plus any deficiency in the state equalization payment on the foundation program, shall be an obligation of all parts of the joint school district and the levy for this amount shall be determined by dividing the amount required by the total taxable valuation of the entire joint school district.

5. No district school shall be deprived of its needful share of either county levy by reason of it being nonaccredited.

Section 75-4601. High school trustees may undertake public works program—additional trustees—division of taxable valuation—commencement of proceedings.
75-4602. Commission may divide county into high school districts.

75-4601. High school trustees may undertake public works program—additional trustees—division of taxable valuation—commencement of proceedings. In any county having a high school the board of trustees of the county high school, if there be one, and the boards of trustees of any school districts maintaining district high schools, are hereby designated as the boards of trustees of the respective high school districts established under this act, provided that additional members may be elected to the board of trustees of districts maintaining district high schools in the number and manner as follows: When a majority of the boards of the common school districts in the high school district so request. Such requests shall be directed to the county superintendent of schools, who shall proceed as directed in this act.

The taxable valuation of the district in which the high school is located shall be divided by the number of trustees on the high school board. In the case of a first class district this number shall be seven (7), for a second class district five (5), and for a third class district three (3). This figure obtained shall then be divided into the remaining valuation of the high school district, and the resulting number, to the closest whole number, shall be the number of additional board members to be elected; provided, that the number of these additional board members shall not exceed four (4) in districts of the first and second class or two (2) in districts of the third class.

(a) The additional members elected to the board of trustees of districts maintaining high schools shall be elected at a meeting of the trustees of all of the boards of trustees of the common school districts included within the boundaries of the high school district, which meeting shall be held on the fourth Saturday in April beginning with the year 1951. The members so elected shall hold office for a term of three (3) years and such meetings and elections shall be held every third year after the first meeting. The state superintendent of public instruction shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the conduct of said meeting and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools to give written notice of the meeting by registered mail to each trustee not less than seven (7) days before such meeting. The additional trustees elected shall be elected from the trustees of the common school districts included within the high school district with the exception of the membership of the board of trustees of the school districts maintaining high schools.

(b) The additional members elected to the board of trustees of districts maintaining high schools, shall take office immediately after qualifying and shall participate on an equal basis with other members in all business transacted by the board of trustees pertaining to the high school maintained by said districts.

To effectuate the purpose of this act, the board of trustees of any high school district, as herein provided for, is hereby authorized to undertake a program of public works in the construction, improvement or repair of buildings, furnishing and equipping the same and purchasing the necessary land therefor, for the use of any or all high schools in such high school district, and to accept funds from the United States, its instrumentalities or any of its agencies in aid of any one or more of such purposes. Such proceedings may be commenced by resolution upon the part of such board of trustees of such high school district of its own motion and without any petition being filed therefor, such proceedings may also be commenced on petition of thirty per cent (30%) of the qualified electors of the high school district. Upon presentation of this petition to the high school district board of trustees, the latter shall, within sixty (60) days take steps to present the matter asked for in the petition to a vote of the people of the high school district.

75-4602. Commission may divide county into high school districts. In all counties having a high school, or high schools, a commission consisting of the county commissioners and the county superintendent of schools shall at the request of any high school board of trustees in the county, divide the entire county into and establish one (1) or more high school districts for the purpose of this act, after hearing; provided, that each high school district so formed must have one (1) or more operating, accredited high schools within its boundaries; provided, further, that both parts of a joint district maintaining a high school may be considered as maintaining an operating high school, and as such each part of the joint district may, together with one (1) or more adjacent common school districts whose pupils attend the high school in the joint district, be set aside as a high school district. Provided, that, such resulting high school district in the county where the joint district high school is not located, shall be responsible for its share of the joint district high school budgets as is arrived at by following the procedure outlined in section 17, chapter 199, Laws of 1949 [75-3618], and shall also be considered as a single high school district with the high school district of the joint district, wherein the high school is located for purposes of bonding as provided in sections 75-4601—4605, R. C. M., 1947, as amended by chapter 188, Laws of 1951, and also for purposes of selecting additional trustees as provided for in section 75-4601, R. C. M., 1947, as amended by chapter 188, Laws of 1951. That the commission shall fix the time, date and place, and at such time, date and place hold a public hearing of the requested division of the county into high school districts, at which hearing any interested person may appear and be heard concerning the requested division. Written notice of such hearing shall be mailed by the county superintendent of schools to the chairman of each and every board of trustees of each and every school district in the county, and the chairman of the board of trustees of the county high school, stating the time, date and place of such public hearing, and shall be mailed not less than two (2) weeks preceding the date fixed for such hearing. The certificate of the county superintendent of schools filed with the commission reciting that said notices were mailed shall be conclusive.

The boundaries established by said commission shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of public instruction.

If any high school district shall cease to have within its borders an operating, accredited high school, then it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools to consolidate and annex the common school districts comprising said high school district to one or more operating high school districts within a period of six (6) months after one (1) year of being declared non-operating or non-accredited; provided, that before said county superintendent of schools may declare such a consolidation and annexation, he shall give the board of trustees of each of the common school districts within said high school district proposed to be consolidated and annexed twenty (20) days' notice of his intention so to do.

In creating such districts the commission shall give primary consideration to the factor of convenience of the patrons of the several schools. Common school districts may be grouped for the purpose of this act and when practicable high school districts shall be made up of contiguous and adjacent common school districts but the commission must take into consideration the existence or non-existence of obstacles of travel, such as mountains and rivers and existence or non-existence of highways and distances to high school. These handicapped are defined as follows:

(1) Mentally handicapped children are children who are not capable of profiting from the general educational program of the public schools. These children may be considered in three groups as follows: (a) Educable mentally handicapped. Those children who, at maturity, cannot be expected to attain a level of intellectual functioning greater than that commonly expected from an eleven-year-old, but not less than that of a seven-year-old. Nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the purpose and function of the School for the Deaf and Blind in Great Falls.

Two (2) or more districts may combine to provide such educational facilities.

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 206, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

84-1817. (2396.3) Distribution of state highway construction funds. (1) Allotment of state construction funds for federal aid highway systems. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, the state highway commission shall allot available state construction moneys to the federal aid interstate highway system, the federal aid primary highway system, the federal aid secondary highway system and the federal aid urban highway system in proportion to the amounts necessary to match the respective amounts of federal aid available for expenditure on these systems at the beginning of each fiscal year.

(2) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid primary highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, the state highway commission shall compute from its records the percentage of incompleted mileage of the federal aid primary highway system within each of said districts which each district respectively bears to the total incompleted mileage of said federal aid primary highway system within this state at that time, and the actual respective percentages of incompleted mileage in each district as so computed and determined at the beginning of each fiscal year shall be used in apportioning construction moneys for that year to each of the said financial districts from the state highway fund as defined and provided by section 84-1816. As a basis for the determination of the amount of incompleted mileage of said federal aid primary highway system in this state for each fiscal year, the state highway commission shall adopt as the criterion the current definition, as prescribed by the bureau of public roads, for a fully and adequately completed federal highway in this state. This criterion shall be considered as a one hundred per cent (100%) completed federal highway; and federal highway mileage which is only partially completed under the application of this criterion, shall be considered as only partially completed on a percentage basis, this to be determined from the relative estimated percentage costs of construction already performed and of additional construction which must be performed to bring said mileage up to the standard of said criterion.

(3) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid secondary highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid secondary highway system shall be apportioned to each of the financial districts as defined in section 84-1815 on a percentage basis as determined in the following manner: One-fourth (¼) in the ratio of land area in each financial district to the total land area in the state; one-fourth (¼) in the ratio of the rural population in each financial district to the total rural population in the state; and one-fourth (¼) in the ratio of the rural road mileage in each financial district to the total rural road mileage in the state; one-fourth (¼) in the ratio of value of rural lands in each financial district to the total value of rural land in the state. Said moneys to be further apportioned to the counties within each financial district in the same ratio of land area, rural population and rural road mileage; and value of rural lands, provided, that to the extent necessary to permit orderly programming and construction of projects, expenditure of construction money in any county may exceed the amount apportioned to that county with the provision that such excess expenditure shall not exceed three (3) times the amount of the last annual apportionment to that county and that any excess expenditures shall be deducted from future apportionments to that county.

For the purposes of this section, rural population is defined as total population less the population in cities over five thousand (5,000) persons and their unincorporated fringe urban areas as reported in the federal census. Decennial census figures for population shall be adjusted during the interim between censuses in accordance with the percentage of change occurring in annual motor vehicle registration figures for each county.

For the purposes of this section, rural road mileage is defined as all road mileage outside incorporated cities, exclusive of road mileage on the federal aid rural primary highway system. Rural road mileage figures reported by the road inventory of the state highway commission shall be used in determining rural road mileage as defined in this section.

(4) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid urban highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid urban highway system shall be apportioned to the cities in the state over five thousand (5,000) population in the ratio of urban population in each city to the total urban population in the state for all cities over five thousand (5,000) population.

For the purpose of this section, urban population is defined as population within the incorporated limits of cities over five thousand (5,000) population and also the population within unincorporated urban fringe areas as delineated and reported in the federal census.

To the extent necessary to permit orderly programming and construction of projects, expenditures of construction of projects, expenditures of construction money in any urban city may exceed the amount apportioned to that city with the provision that such excess expenditure shall be deducted from future apportionments to that city.

(5) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid interstate highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid interstate highway system shall be apportioned to each of the financial districts, as defined in section 84-1815, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, in proportion to the estimated cost of constructing or reconstructing the system in each district as compared with the total estimated cost of constructing or reconstructing the entire system within the state. The cost estimates to be used for apportioning said state construction funds shall be those costs developed by the state highway commission in accordance with the provisions of subsection (d) of section 108 of title I of the federal aid highway act of 1956.

(6) The state highway commission may vary the expenditures made in any financial district under the provisions of this act to the extent of fifteen per cent (15%) above the amount of money allocated to such district in any year for the federal aid primary highway system or the federal aid secondary highway system, and to the extent of one hundred per cent (100%) above the amount of money allocated to such district in any year for the federal aid interstate highway system, provided that the allocation of construction money to such district for the next succeeding fical year shall be decreased by an amount equal to such increased expenditures.

The acts do not seem to be in conflict with one another, hence the Compiler has made a composite section incorporating the changes made by each chapter. For specific changes, see Amendments below.

The amendment by Ch. 18, Laws 1957 in the last paragraph substituted "dealer" for "retailer" in the first sentence; substituted "insignia" for "stamps" in the same sentence; deleted a former second sentence in that paragraph which read "Said stamps shall be properly cancelled prior to sale or removal for consumption under such regulations as the board may prescribe"; substituted "insignia affixed" for "stamp to affix," substituted "insignia" for "stamp" before the words "will be destroyed" and substituted "act" for "law" after the words "provided for in this."

The amendment by Ch. 44, Laws 1957 in the second paragraph of subdivision (2) inserted "under the authority of said Initiative No. 54 as hereby amended"; substituted "residents of Montana" for "residents of this state"; added "or in said Korean War" and added subdivision (3). The amendment did not carry any of the changes made by chapters 18 and 222.

The amendment by Ch. 222, Laws 1957 in subdivision (1) increased the tax from 2¢ to 5¢ and in the last paragraph, carried the same change as made by Ch. 18 in the first sentence; reinstated the second sentence, which had been deleted by Ch. 18; substituted "insignia" for "stamps" in that sentence and substituted "insignia" for "stamp" in the third sentence. This amendment did not carry any of the change made by Ch. 44, Laws 1957.

Provided, however, that if the moneys derived from said first issue of twenty-two million dollars ($22,000,000.00) of bonds as in this section above provided shall be insufficient to pay all claims heretofore filed with and heretofore or hereafter allowed by said board of examiners under the original provisions of said Initiative No. 54 as heretofore amended, and to pay all claims filed and allowed under this amendatory act, together with the expenses of administration of this amendatory act, there shall be issued and sold under the direction and supervision of the board of examiners of the state of Montana limited obligation bonds of the state of Montana in the further sum of six million dollars ($6,000,000.00) or in such sum within that amount as may be necessary for such purposes. The issuance of such bonds shall be made in the same manner and such bonds shall be subject to the same limitations, restrictions, and provisions as apply to said original issue of twenty-two million dollars ($22,000,000.00), except that such bonds shall draw not more than four and one-half per cent (4½%) interest and shall be payable only out of a cigarette tax as hereinafter provided in this amendatory act.

Section 6. That there is hereby added to said Initiative No. 54 a new section to be numbered section 14-A, to read as follows:

Section 14-A. The money arising from the sale of such said additional bonds in the amount of six million dollars ($6,000,000.00) in this amendatory act above-provided for as may be sold as herein provided shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the special fund created by said Initiative No. 54 and known as the "War Veterans' Compensation Fund," and the moneys now in said fund, after payment of all claims heretofore filed with and heretofore or hereafter allowed by the board of examiners under the original provisions of said Initiative No. 54, shall, together with such additional funds as may be derived from the sale of bonds under the said issue of six million dollars ($6,000,000.00) authorized by this amendatory act, be used to pay said honorarium granted by subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) of section 2 hereof, and by section 3 of said Initiative No. 54 as hereby amended, and the expense of administration of this amendatory act. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this amendatory act there is hereby appropriated from the War Veterans' Compensation Fund, in addition to the appropriation made by section 14 of said Initiative No. 54 as originally enacted, the moneys now remaining in said fund and not needed for the payment of the honorarium to persons who served in World War II, and the sum of six million dollars ($6,000,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said honorarium to the persons who served in the military forces in said Korean War.

Section 7. That section 16 of said Initiative No. 54 be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 16. That in addition to the aggregate excise tax upon cigarettes now provided for by section 16 of said Initiative Measure No. 54, there is hereby imposed a tax of one cent (1¢) on each package of cigarettes containing not more than twenty (20) cigarettes, and when a package shall contain more than twenty (20) cigarettes, then one cent (1¢) for each twenty (20) or fraction of twenty (20) cigarettes in such package. Such additional tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as the tax levied and imposed by subdivision (2) of said section 16 of said Initiative Measure No. 54. For the purpose of giving full legal effect to said increase of said excise tax, section 84-5606 of said Title 84 and section 84-5621 of said Title 84 are hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 8. There is hereby added to said Initiative No. 54 a new section to be numbered section 17-A to read as follows:

Section 17-A. Nothing in this amendatory act shall be construed as impairing the security of the twenty-two million dollars ($22,000,000.00) of bonds heretofore sold under the authority of said Initiative Measure No. 54, or of the interest thereon, but the provision made by said Initiative for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon shall remain inviolate.

Section 9. Except where such construction would conflict with express provisions of this amendatory act, said Initiative No. 54 shall be construed as though the amendments made hereby had formed a part of said Initiative at the time of its adoption on November 7, 1950. Nothing herein contained is to be construed as extending the time of filing claims under said Initiative No. 54 as originally adopted nor as amended by chapter 123 of the Laws of the Thirty-third Session of the Montana Legislative Assembly, nor as authorizing any payments from said War Veterans' Compensation Fund except expenses of administration of said Initiative as hereby amended, of claims for the honorarium filed on or prior to January 1, 1954, and the expenses of administration in connection therewith, and of the payments provided for in subdivisions (b), (c) and (d), of section 2, and in sections 3 and 5, of said Initiative No. 54 as amended.

Section 10. Claims for benefits under the provisions of subdivisions (b), (c) and (d) of section 2 and/or under sections 3 and 5 of said Initiative No. 54, as by this amendatory act amended, may be filed at any time before the expiration of three (3) years from and after the January first next following the date of the passage and approval of this act, provided, however, that said period of three (3) years shall be extended for a period equal to the period, or the aggregate of the periods, of the time during which the administration of this act shall be suspended, by reason of litigation or from any other cause.

Section 11. If any provision contained in this amendatory act shall for any reason be held invalid, such decision shall not invalidate the remaining provisions of this act.

Section 12. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 13. This act will take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 26, 1957.

Section 1. That section 6 of said Initiative No. 54 be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 6. Amendment

The 1957 amendment completely rewrote this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

84-5608. Insignia purchased at discount. Every licensed distributor and dealer will be entitled to purchase said insignia at a discount of eight per cent (8%) of their face value, upon payment therefor. This discount is not applicable to that portion of the tax collected for any veterans' honorarium.

Compiler's Note.

This section was amended twice in the 1957 Session. Once by chapter 18 and once by chapter 222. Neither law contained a specific effective date. Chapter 18 was signed by the Governor February 18 while chapter 222 was signed March 12. As the acts are not in conflict with each other the Compiler has made a composite section. For specific changes see Amendments below.

Amendments

The 1957 amendment by Ch. 18 substituted "dealer will" for "retailer shall" and "insignia" for "stamps" in the first sentence and added the second sentence.

The 1957 amendment by Ch. 222 made the same changes as the amendment by Ch. 18 and also decreased the discount from 10% to 8%.

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 222, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

84-5609. Use of tax stamping meters. The board may authorize any manufacturer, distributor or dealer of cigarettes to use a tax stamping meter machine with which to place an insignia upon each package of cigarettes imported, sold or delivered in this state. The board shall supervise and check the operation of such tax stamping meter machines. The operator of such machine, before using the same, shall take the meter thereof to the county treasurer, of the county in which the machine is operated, who is authorized to, and shall set said meter for the number of packages specified and required by the operator. Prior to setting said meter the county treasurer shall collect from said operator the amount of money proper for said setting, less a discount of ten per cent (10%) on that portion of the tax not being collected for any veterans' honorarium. The county treasurer shall immediately report to the board on forms prescribed by it, the name of the operator and the number of packages for which said meter was set and shall immediately forward to the board the amount collected from said operator.

All taxes levied, imposed and assessed under the provisions of subdivision (2) of said section 84-5606 shall, when collected, be paid to the state treasurer and credited to a special fund known as the War Veterans' Compensation Bond Retirement Fund, which fund shall be kept segregated from all money in the state treasury and shall, while any of the bonds hereafter issued and sold for the purpose of paying an honorarium, or adjusted compensation, to the residents of Montana who were in military service in the military forces of the United States in World War II, or any of the interest thereon, remain unpaid, be available for the payment thereof.

Exhaustion of administrative remedies as prerequisite to declaratory relief in respect to unemployment compensation. 14 ALR 2d 838.

87-109. Contributions. (a) Payment. (1) On and after January 1, 1937, contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer for each calendar year in which he is subject to this act, with respect to wages as defined in section 87-149 (c), paid for employment (as defined in this act) occurring during such calendar year. Such contributions shall become due and be paid by each employer to the commission for the fund in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe and shall not be deducted, in whole or in part, from the wages of individuals in his employ.

(2) In the payment of any contributions, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half (½) cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one (1) cent.

(b) Rate of contribution. (1) Each employer shall pay contributions equal to the following percentages of wages, as defined in section 87-149 (c) paid by him with respect to employment:

(A) One and eight-tenths (1.8) per centum with respect to employment during the calendar year 1937;

(B) Two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum with respect to employment during the calendar years 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, and for each calendar year thereafter, except as herein provided in subsection (c) of this section.

(c) Experience rating. The commission shall for the calendar year 1947, and for each calendar year thereafter, classify employers in accordance with their actual contribution and unemployment experience and shall determine for each employer the rate of contribution which shall apply to him throughout the calendar year in order to reflect said experience and classification.

The commission shall apply such form of classification or experience rating system which is best calculated to rate individually and most equitably the employment for each employer and to encourage the stabilization of employment.

In making such classification, the commission shall take account, each to an equal extent, of the following factors relating to the unemployment hazard shown by each employer on the basis of (1) average annual net percentage declines in taxable payrolls for the last three (3) years prior to computation date; (2) number of years the employer has paid contributions; and (3) chargebacks to the individual employer account upon the last employer basis. The computation date is hereby fixed as of the close of business on June 30th of the preceding calendar year.

The rates for the calendar year 1953 and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be so fixed that they would, if applied to all employers and their total taxable annual payrolls for the preceding calendar year, have yielded total paid contributions equalling approximately one and two-tenths (1.2) per centum of the total of all such payrolls.

The commission shall determine the contribution rate applicable to each employer for any calendar year subject to the following limitations:

(1) Each employer's rate shall be two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum unless and until there have been five (5) years prior to the computation date throughout which the employer has paid contributions at the rate of two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(2) The classified contribution rates for the calendar year 1947, and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be: one (1.0) per centum, one and one-half (1.5) per centum, two (2.0) per centum, two and one-half (2.5) per centum, and two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum. The classified contribution rate for the calendar year 1953, and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be: five-tenths (.5) of one per centum, seven-tenths (.7) of one per centum, nine-tenths (.9) of one per centum, one and one-tenth (1.1) per centum, one and three-tenths (1.3) per centum, one and five-tenths (1.5) per centum, one and seven-tenths (1.7) per centum, one and nine-tenths (1.9) per centum, two and one-tenth (2.1) per centum, two and three-tenths (2.3) per centum, two and five-tenths (2.5) per centum, and two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(3) No employer shall be assigned a classified contribution rate higher than the second classified rate above the rate which was assigned to him for the last preceding calendar year except as hereinafter provided.

(4) No employer's rate shall be fixed below two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum whose benefit payments charged as most recent employer have, in the last three (3) years preceding the computation date, exceeded the amount of his contributions for those years, provided that for the calendar year 1957 and thereafter, any employer may, for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this subsection, have the option of making a voluntary contribution to the unemployment compensation fund to cancel the amount by which the benefit payments charged to him under section 87-109 (c) during the last three (3) completed fiscal years exceed his contributions for the same three (3) years. Such voluntary contribution shall be applied first to cancel the amount by which benefits exceed contributions in the earliest of the three (3) years preceding the computation date, any remaining to cancel the excess in the second earliest year preceding the computation date, and any further remaining to cancel the excess in the most recent year preceding the computation date. Whenever the benefit payments charged to an eligible employer in the last three (3) fiscal years exceed his contributions for the same period, the commission shall notify him of the amount of such excess and the rate which would be applicable to him for the ensuing calendar year, if he exercises the option. Such employer must exercise the option of making the voluntary contribution allowed by this section within thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice; otherwise his rate for the ensuing calendar year shall be fixed at two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(5) Rates as fixed by the commission shall stand and be in effect unless and until the cash reserves in the unemployment compensation trust fund at any time in the future fall below twenty-eight million dollars ($28,000,000.00), then the contribution rate of all employers subject to this act shall immediately return to a uniform rate of two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum, and shall continue at the two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum rate until cash reserves in the unemployment compensation trust fund exceed thirty-two million dollars ($32,000,000.00).

(6) The commission shall by regulation adopt such procedures as may be necessary for the substitution, merging or acquisition of an employer account by an employing unit, and the transfer of such employer account, rights, contributions, benefit experience and ratings to the successor employing unit or units.

(7) The commission shall by regulation provide for the proper notification of employers of the classification and rate of contribution applicable to their accounts. Such notification shall be final for all purposes unless and until such employer files a written request with the commission for a redetermination or hearing thereon within thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice. The provisions of section 87-107 applicable to appeals under claims procedure shall apply with like purpose and effect, and be applicable to hearings and request for redeterminations of classifications and rates of contribution filed by employers hereunder.

(8) "Annual taxable payroll" means the total of the four (4) quarters of taxable payrolls of an employer preceding the computation date as fixed herein.

(d) Wages in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00). Commencing January 1, 1941, the provisions of this act requiring the payment of contributions by employers subject to this act shall apply only to wages paid up to and including three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) by an employer to an employee with respect to employment during any calendar year.

Amendments

The 1953 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

The 1955 amendment reorganized the subsection lettering.

The 1957 amendment in subd. (c), third paragraph, substituted "three (3) years prior to computation date" for "three (3) preceding calendar years"; in subd. (c) (1) substituted "five (5) years prior to the computation date" for "five calendar years"; in subd. (c)(4) deleted the word "average" which appeared twice, before the word "benefit" and before the word "amount," substituted "three (3) years preceding the computation date" for "three (3) preceding calendar years" and added all that portion of this subsection beginning with the proviso clause, and in subd. (c)(5) increased the minimum and maximum reserves from $18,000,000.00 and $22,000,000.00 to $28,000,000.00 and $32,000,000.00.

Separability Clause

Section 6 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 read: "If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or inoperative, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this act but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part directly adjudged to be invalid or inoperative."

Repealing Clause

Section 7 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 8 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after the date of its passage and approval and should apply to the benefit payments under section 1 [87-103] of this act as of April 1, 1953. Approved March 4, 1953.

Construction

This statute lends itself to the specific subject of experience ratings, while section 87-138 is general in scope, hence where an employer did not avail himself of the right to file a written request for a redetermination of classification within 30 days after receipt of such notice, such notice was final and the employer could not then make application for an adjustment under section 87-138. Where one statute deals with a subject in general and comprehensive terms and another in a more minute and definite way, the two should be read together if possible but to the extent of any repugnancy between them the special will prevail over the general statute. He shall maintain within the fund three (3) separate accounts: (1) a clearing account, (2) an unemployment trust fund account, and (3) a benefit account. All moneys payable to the fund, upon receipt thereof by the commission, shall be forwarded to the treasurer who shall immediately deposit them in the clearing account. Refunds payable pursuant to sections 87-135 to 87-139 may be paid from the clearing account upon warrants issued by the treasurer under the direction of the commission. The benefit account shall consist of all moneys requisitioned for the payment of benefits from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund. Except as herein otherwise provided, moneys in the clearing and benefit accounts may be deposited by the treasurer, under the direction of the commission, in any bank or public depository in which general funds of the state may be deposited but no public deposit insurance charge or premium shall be paid out of the fund. The treasurer shall give a separate bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as custodian of the fund in an amount fixed by the commission and in a form prescribed by law or approved by the attorney general. Premiums for said bond shall be paid from the administration fund.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment inserted the words "for the payment of benefits" in the sixth sentence.

87-113. Withdrawals. (a) Moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission, except that money credited to this state's account pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may also be withdrawn for the payment of expenses for the administration of this act and of public employment offices, as provided by this act. The commission shall from time to time requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to this state account therein, as it deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account and shall issue his warrants for the payment of benefits solely from such benefit account. Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or in the discretion of the commission, shall be redeposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America, to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund, as provided in section 87-112.

(b) Money credited to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund by the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may be requisitioned and used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this act pursuant to a specific appropriation by the legislature, provided that the expenses are incurred and the money is requisitioned after the enactment of an appropriation law which: (A) specifies the purposes for which such money is appropriated and the amounts appropriated therefor, (B) limits the period within which such money may be expended to a period ending not more than two (2) years after the date of the enactment of the appropriation law, and (C) limits the amount which may be used during any twelve (12) month period beginning on July 1 and ending on the next June 30 to an amount which does not exceed the amount by which (1) the aggregate of the amounts credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, during the same twelve (12) month period and the four (4) preceding twelve (12) month periods, exceeds (2) the aggregate of the amounts used pursuant to this subsection and charged against the amounts credited to the account of this state during any of such five (5) twelve (12) month periods. For the purposes of this subsection, amounts used during any such twelve (12) month period shall be charged against equivalent amounts which were first credited and which are not already so charged; except that no amount used for administration during any such twelve (12) month period may be charged against any amount credited during such a twelve (12) month period earlier than the fourth preceding such period. Money requisitioned for the payment of expenses of administration pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the unemployment compensation administration fund, but until expended, shall remain a part of the unemployment compensation fund. The commission shall maintain a separate record of the deposit, obligation, expenditure, and return of funds so deposited. If any money so deposited is, for any reason, not to be expended for the purpose for which it was appropriated, or, if it remains unexpended at the end of the period specified by the law appropriating such money, it shall be withdrawn and returned to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for credit to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(c) All warrants issued by the treasurer for payment pursuant to this section shall bear the signature of the treasurer and the counter signature of a member of the commission or its duly authorized agent for that purpose.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment divided this section into subdivisions (a), (b) and (c); in subd. (a) added the exception clause to the first sentence; added new material for subd. (b) and in subd. (c) which was formerly the fifth sentence of subd. (a) substituted "pursuant to this section" for "of benefits and refunds."

87-117. Unemployment compensation commission—organization. There is hereby created a commission to be known as the Unemployment Compensation Commission of Montana. The commission shall consist of three (3) members who shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. Two (2) of the members of the commission shall be from different political parties and shall serve for terms of four (4) years, provided, however, that one (1) of those first appointed after this act takes effect shall serve for a term of two (2) years. The third member of the commission, who shall be designated as chairman at the time of his appointment, shall be paid a full-time salary in an amount to be fixed by the governor and shall be the executive director. Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted the words "by and with the advice and consent of the senate" for the words "on a nonpartisan merit basis within sixty days after the passage of this act and after any vacancy occurs in its membership" in the first sentence; inserted the words "shall be from different political parties and shall serve for terms of four (4) years, provided, however, that one (1) of those first appointed after this act takes effect shall serve for a term of two (2) years. They" after the words "Two (2) of the members of the commission" in the second sentence; deleted a sentence which read "Each per diem member shall hold office for a term of six years, except that (1) a member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term; and (2) the terms of office of the member first taking office after the date of enactment of this act shall expire, as designated by the governor at the time of appointment, one at the end of three years, the other at the end of six years" and deleted the word "inefficiency" which appeared after the words "commissioner for" in the last sentence.

Such moneys shall be promptly supplied by moneys furnished by the state of Montana or any of its subdivisions for the use of the unemployment compensation commission and used only for purposes approved by the secretary of labor. The commission shall, if necessary, promptly report to the governor and the governor to the legislature, the amount required for such replacement. This section shall not be construed to relieve this state of its obligation with respect to funds received prior to July 1, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of title III of the social security act.

87-138. Refunds. If not later than three (3) years after the date on which any contributions or interest thereon became due, or not later than one (1) year from the date on which payment was made, whichever is later, an employer who has paid such contributions or interest thereon shall make application for an adjustment thereof in connection with subsequent contribution payments, or for a refund thereof because such adjustment cannot be made, and the commission shall determine that such contributions or interest or any portion thereof was erroneously collected, the commission shall allow such employer to make an adjustment thereof, without interest, in connection with subsequent contribution payments by him, or if such adjustment cannot be made, the commission shall refund said amount, without interest, from the fund. For like cause and within the same period, adjustment or refund may be so made on the commission's own initiative. Construction

This section is general in scope while section 87-109 lends itself to the specific subject of experience ratings and where one statute deals with a subject in general and comprehensive terms and another in a more minute and definite way, the two should be read together if possible but to the extent of any repugnancy between them the special will prevail over the general statute. Hence, an employer could not make application for an adjustment under this section where he did not avail himself of the right to file a written request for a redetermination of classification within 30 days after receipt of such notice as provided for by section 87-109. Wymont Tractor & Equipment Co. v. Unemployment Compensation Comm., — M —, 278 P 2d 208, 210.

(b) Any employing unit or any officer or agent of an employing unit or any other person who makes a false statement or representation knowing it to be false, or who knowingly fails to disclose a material fact, to prevent or reduce the payment of benefits to any individual entitled thereto, or to avoid becoming or remaining subject hereto or to avoid or reduce any contribution or other payment required from an employing unit under this act, or under the employment security law of any other state, or territory or the federal government or who wilfully fails or refuses to make any such contributions or other payment or to furnish any reports required hereunder or to produce or permit the inspection or copying of records as required hereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days in the county jail or by both such fine and imprisonment; and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact, and each day of such failure or refusal shall constitute a separate offense.

(c) Any person who shall wilfully violate any provision of this act or any order, rule or regulation thereunder, the violation of which is made unlawful or the observance of which is required under the terms of this act, and for which a penalty is neither prescribed herein nor provided by any other applicable statute, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days in the county jail or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

(d) Any person who, by reason of the nondisclosure or misrepresentation by him or by another, of a material fact (irrespective of whether such nondisclosure or misrepresentation was known or fraudulent) has received any sum as benefits under this act while any conditions for the receipt of benefits imposed by this act were not fulfilled in his case, or while he was disqualified from receiving benefits, shall, in the discretion of the commission, either be liable to have such sum deducted from any future benefits payable to him under this act or shall be liable to repay to the commission for the unemployment compensation fund, a sum equal to the amount so received by him, and such sum shall be collectible in the manner provided in this act for the collection of past due contributions. Action for collection of overpaid benefits shall be brought within five (5) years after the date of such overpayment, otherwise to be barred as provided in section 93-2604.

89-801. (7093) What waters may be appropriated.

Diffused Surface Water

Defendants could not be prevented from collecting diffused surface waters on their lands since plaintiffs could not make a valid appropriation for use of such water on their lands located a number of miles below. Doney v. Beatty, 124 M 41, 220 P 2d 77, 82.

Prior Rights

Where plaintiff had over the years constructed a series of dikes in order to spread over his land the water which would flow down a dry gulley after the melting of snow or a heavy rainfall, he had a prior right to the extent that his project was finished. He who first diverts the water to a beneficial use has the prior right thereto where the right is based upon the custom and practice of the early settlers and where there was no compliance with the statute. Midkiff v. Kincheloe, 127 M 324, 263 P 2d 976, 978. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in the case in which it was contended that the waters were flood and waste waters and to which the defendant had a right to impound in a stock reservoir, 127 M 324, 263 P 2d 976, 979.)

Surplus Water

Water in excess of amount which defendant was entitled to appropriate and which ran over spillway on to plaintiff's land was "surplus water" and not artificial water. Clausen v. Armington, 123 M 1, 212 P 2d 440.

Necessity of Notice

A person may make a valid appropriation of water by actual diversion and use thereof without filing a notice of appropriation. Clausen v. Armington, 123 M 1, 212 P 2d 440.

Operation and Effect

Plaintiffs were not entitled to any water rights by virtue of a notice which was given 16 years before the enactment of this section, and where the place the water was to be taken as stated in the notice was a mile from where the plaintiff is claiming the water. Stearns v. Benedick, 126 M 272, 247 P 2d 656, 657.

Date of Appropriation Where Statute is Not Complied With

Where ditch was not constructed within reasonable time after date of notice of appropriation, the date of appropriation would not relate back to the date of such notice but would date from the time the water was actually used. Clausen v. Armington, 123 M 1, 212 P 2d 440.

89-829. (7119) Procedure for appropriating waters of adjudicated streams. (1) Any person hereafter desiring to appropriate the waters of a river, or stream, ravine, coulee, spring, lake, or other natural source of supply concerning which there has been an adjudication of rights between appropriators or claimants, as contemplated in section 89-839, shall:

(a) employ a competent engineer to make a survey of the ditch, or aqueduct, whereby the water is to be conveyed from the source of supply, or the dam or other work whereby the water is to be impounded, or both; or

(b) cause to be prepared an aerial photograph with a drawing thereon showing the course of the proposed ditch or aqueduct, or the location of the proposed dam or other work, or both, together with a description of the course of said ditch or the location of said dam attached thereto; and the appropriators shall file with the clerk of the court in the county in which the water is appropriated a petition giving the amount of water sought to be appropriated, a description by name or otherwise of the water course or body from which he intends to appropriate the water, and a general description of the ditch or aqueduct, stating its size, length, and capacity, showing the proposed means of appropriation and use of the water, and also the place of use thereof. If the means of appropriation be a reservoir by which the water is to be impounded, the petition shall state the location and size thereof, together with the contemplated manner of its construction and the means of conveying the water to the place of contemplated use, and the contemplated use.

(2) There shall be filed with the petition a map or aerial photograph as hereinbefore provided showing the point of, and means of diversion, and the course of the ditch or aqueduct to its terminus, and if a reservoir, the contour line thereof, the height and width of the dam, the point and means of discharge therefrom, and the spillway. If the appropriator shall intend to mingle the waters appropriated from one stream with another, or shall intend to deposit the waters impounded in a reservoir into a stream, he shall so state.

(3) The appropriator shall declare in his petition that the water rights sought by him shall be subject to, and that in the use thereof he shall be bound by the terms of any decree theretofore rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudicating the waters of such river, stream, ravine, coulee, spring, lake, or other natural source of supply, or, any body of water to which the same may be tributary, provided that water stored in a reservoir pursuant to an appropriation hereunder which is subsequent to an adjudication of waters in a flowing stream when so released from storage shall not be considered as a part of the natural flow of said adjudicated stream.

(4) The appropriator shall, as near as may be, give the names of all appropriators or claimants who have, or appear to have, rights in the source of supply, from which the appropriation is sought, and whose rights may be in anywise affected by the appropriation, and in the petition the petitioner shall be named as plaintiff, and all other parties as defendants.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment divided subd. (1) into subsections (a) and (b); in subsec. (b) inserted the words "cause to be prepared an aerial photograph with a drawing thereon showing the course of the proposed ditch or aqueduct, or the location of the proposed dam or other work, or both, together with a description of the course of said ditch or the location of said dam attached thereto;" and deleted the words "prepared by the engineer" which appeared between the words "capacity" and "showing"; in subd. (2) inserted the words "or aerial photograph as hereinbefore provided" and in subd. (3) added the proviso clause.

ARTICLE I

A. Where the name of a state is used in this compact, as a party thereto, it shall be construed to include the individuals, corporations, partnerships, associations, districts, administrative departments, bureaus, political subdivisions, agencies, persons, permittees, appropriators, and all others using, claiming, or in any manner asserting any right to the use of the waters of the Yellowstone river system under the authority of said state.

B. Any individual, corporation, partnership, association, district, administrative department, bureau, political subdivision, agency, person. permittee, or appropriator authorized by or under the laws of a signatory state, and all others using, claiming, or in any manner asserting any right to the use of the waters of the Yellowstone river system under the authority of said state, shall be subject to the terms of this compact. Where the singular is used in this article, it shall be construed to include the plural.

ARTICLE II

A. The state of Montana, the state of North Dakota, and the state of Wyoming are hereinafter designated as "Montana," "North Dakota," and "Wyoming," respectively.

B. The terms "commission" and "Yellowstone river compact commission" mean the agency created as provided herein for the administration of this compact.

C. The term "Yellowstone river basin" means areas in Wyoming, Montana, and North Dakota drained by the Yellowstone river and its tributaries, and includes the area in Montana known as lake basin, but excludes those lands lying within Yellowstone national park.

D. The term "Yellowstone river system" means the Yellowstone river and all of its tributaries, including springs and swamps, from their sources to the mouth of the Yellowstone river near Buford, North Dakota, except those portions thereof which are within or contribute to the flow of streams within the Yellowstone national park.

E. The term "tributary" means any stream which in a natural state contributes to the flow of the Yellowstone river, including interstate tributaries and tributaries thereof, but excluding those which are within or contribute to the flow of streams within the Yellowstone national park.

F. The term "interstate tributaries" means the Clarks Fork, Yellowstone river; the Big Horn river (except Little Big Horn river); the Tongue river; and the Powder river, whose confluences with the Yellowstone river are respectively at or near the city (or town) of Laurel, Big Horn, Miles City, and Terry, all in the state of Montana.

G. The terms "divert" and "diversion" mean the taking or removing of water from the Yellowstone river or any tributary thereof when the water so taken or removed is not returned directly into the channel of the Yellowstone river or of the tributary from which it is taken.

H. The term "beneficial use" is herein defined to be that use by which the water supply of a drainage basin is depleted when usefully employed by the activities of man.

I. The term "domestic use" shall mean the use of water by an individual, or by a family unit or household for drinking, cooking, laundering, sanitation and other personal comforts and necessities; and for the irrigation of a family garden or orchard not exceeding one-half acre in area.

J. The term "stock water use" shall mean the use of water for livestock and poultry.

ARTICLE III

A. It is considered that no commission or administrative body is necessary to administer this compact or divide the waters of the Yellowstone river basin as between the states of Montana and North Dakota. The provisions of this compact, as between the states of Wyoming and Montana, shall be administered by a commission composed of one representative from the state of Wyoming and one representative from the state of Montana, to be selected by the governors of said states as such states may choose, and one representative selected by the director of the United States geological survey or whatever federal agency may succeed to the functions and duties of that agency, to be appointed by him at the request of the states to sit with the commission and who shall, when present, act as chairman of the commission without vote, except as herein provided.

B. The salaries and necessary expenses of each state representative shall be paid by the respective state; all other expenses incident to the administration of this compact not borne by the United States shall be allocated to and borne one-half by the state of Wyoming and one-half by the state of Montana.

C. In addition to other powers and duties herein conferred upon the commission and the members thereof, the jurisdiction of the commission shall include the collection, correlation, and presentation of factual data, the maintenance of records having a bearing upon the administration of this compact, and recommendations to such states upon matters connected with the administration of this compact, and the commission may employ such services and make such expenditures as reasonable and necessary within the limit of funds provided for that purpose by the respective states, and shall compile a report for each year ending September 30 and transmit it to the governors of the signatory states on or before December 31 of each year.

D. The secretary of the army; the secretary of the interior; the secretary of agriculture; the chairman, federal power commission; the secretary of commerce, or comparable officers of whatever federal agencies may succeed to the functions and duties of these agencies, and such other federal officers and officers of appropriate agencies of the signatory states having services or data useful or necessary to the compact commission, shall cooperate, ex-officio, with the commission in the execution of its duty in the collection, correlation, and publication of records and data necessary for the proper administration of the compact; and these officers may perform such other services related to the compact as may be mutually agreed upon with the commission.

E. The commission shall have power to formulate rules and regulations and to perform any act which they may find necessary to carry out the provisions of this compact, and to amend such rules and regulations. All such rules and regulations shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of each of the signatory states for public inspection.

F. In case of the failure of the representatives of Wyoming and Montana to unanimously agree on any matter necessary to the proper administration of this compact, then the member selected by the director of the United States geological survey shall have the right to vote upon the matters in disagreement and such points of disagreement shall then be decided by a majority vote of the representatives of the states of Wyoming and Montana and said member selected by the director of the United States geological survey, each being entitled to one vote.

G. The commission herein authorized shall have power to sue and be sued in its official capacity in any federal court of the signatory states, and may adopt and use an official seal which shall be judicially noticed.

ARTICLE IV

The commission shall itself, or in conjunction with other responsible agencies, cause to be established, maintained, and operated such suitable water gaging and evaporation stations as it finds necessary in connection with its duties.

ARTICLE V

A. Appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of the water of the Yellowstone river system existing in each signatory state as of January 1, 1950, shall continue to be enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation.

B. Of the unused and unappropriated waters of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone river as of January 1, 1950, there is allocated to each signatory state such quantity of that water as shall be necessary to provide supplemental water supplies for the rights described in paragraph A of this Article V, such supplemental rights to be acquired and enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation, and the remainder of the unused and unappropriated water is allocated to each state for storage or direct diversions for beneficial use on new lands or for other purposes as follows:

To Montana 40%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from Clarks Fork above Rock Creek.

2. Big Horn River (Exclusive of Little Big Horn River)

a. To Wyoming 80%
To Montana 20%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from the Big Horn river above its junction with the Yellowstone river, and the inflow of the Little Big Horn river shall be excluded from the quantity of water subject to allocation.

To Montana 58%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from the Powder river above its junction with the Yellowstone river.

C. The quantity of water subject to the percentage allocations, in paragraph B 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this Article V, shall be determined on an annual water year basis measured from October 1st of any year through September 30th of the succeeding year. The quantity to which the percentage factors shall be applied through a given date in any water year shall be, in acre-feet, equal to the algebraic sum of:

1. The total diversions, in acre-feet, above the point of measurement, for irrigation, municipal, and industrial uses in Wyoming and Montana developed after January 1, 1950, during the period from October 1st to that given date;

2. The net change in storage, in acre-feet, in all reservoirs in Wyoming and Montana above the point of measurement completed subsequent to January 1, 1950, during the period from October 1st to that given date;

During the period May 1 to September 30, inclusive, of each year, lands within Montana and North Dakota shall be entitled to the beneficial use of the flow of waters of the Yellowstone river below Intake, Montana, on a proportionate basis of acreage irrigated. Waters of tributary streams, having their origin in either Montana or North Dakota, situated entirely in said respective states and flowing into the Yellowstone river below Intake, Montana, are allotted to the respective states in which situated.

2. Devices and facilities for the control and regulation of surface waters.

F. From time to time the commission shall re-examine the allocations herein made and upon unanimous agreement may recommend modifications therein as are fair, just, and equitable, giving consideration among other factors to:

Priorities of water rights;
Acreage irrigated;
Acreage irrigable under existing works; and Potentially irrigable lands.

ARTICLE VI

Nothing contained in this compact shall be so construed or interpreted as to affect adversely any rights to the use of the waters of Yellowstone river and its tributaries owned by or for Indians, Indian tribes, and their reservations.

ARTICLE VII

A. A lower signatory state shall have the right, by compliance with the laws of an upper signatory state, except as to legislative consent, to file application for and receive permits to appropriate and use any waters in the Yellowstone river system not specifically apportioned to or appropriated by such upper state as provided in Article V; and to construct or participate in the construction and use of any dam, storage reservoir, or diversion works in such upper state for the purpose of conserving and regulating water that may be apportioned to or appropriated by the lower state: Provided, that such right is subject to the rights of the upper state to control, regulate, and use the water apportioned to and appropriated by it: And provided further, that should an upper state elect, it may share in the use of any such facilities constructed by a lower state to the extent of its reasonable needs upon assuming or guaranteeing payment of its proportionate share of the cost of the construction, operation, and maintenance. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

B. Each claim hereafter initiated for an appropriation of water in one signatory state for use in another signatory state shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of the signatory state in which the water is to be diverted, and a duplicate copy of the application or notice shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of the signatory state in which the water is to be used.

C. Appropriations may hereafter be adjudicated in the state in which the water is diverted, and where a portion or all of the lands irrigated are in another signatory state, such adjudications shall be confirmed in that state by the proper authority. Each adjudication is to conform with the laws of the state where the water is diverted and shall be recorded in the county and state where the water is used.

D. The use of water allocated under Article V of this compact for projects constructed after the date of this compact by the United States of America or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, shall be charged as a use by the state in which the use is made: Provided, that such use incident to the diversion, impounding, or conveyance of water in one state for use in another shall be charged to such latter state.

ARTICLE VIII

A lower signatory state shall have the right to acquire in an upper state by purchase, or through exercise of the power of eminent domain, such lands, easements, and rights-of-way for the construction, operation, and maintenance of pumping plants, storage reservoirs, canals, conduits, and appurtenant works as may be required for the enjoyment of the privileges granted herein to such lower state. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

ARTICLE IX

Should any facilities be constructed by a lower signatory state in an upper signatory state under the provisions of Article VII, the construction, operation, repairs, and replacements of such facilities shall be subject to the laws of the upper state. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

ARTICLE X

No water shall be diverted from the Yellowstone river basin without the unanimous consent of all the signatory states. In the event water from another river basin shall be imported into the Yellowstone river basin or transferred from one tributary basin to another by the United States of America, Montana, North Dakota, or Wyoming, or any of them jointly, the state having the right to the use of such water shall be given proper credit therefor in determining its share of the water apportioned in accordance with Article V herein.

ARTICLE XI

The provisions of this compact shall remain in full force and effect until amended in the same manner as it is required to be ratified to become operative as provided in Article XV.

ARTICLE XII

This compact may be terminated at any time by unanimous consent of the signatory states, and upon such termination all rights then established hereunder shall continue unimpaired.

ARTICLE XIII

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to limit or prevent any state from instituting or maintaining any action or proceeding, legal or equitable, in any federal court or the United States Supreme Court, for the protection of any right under this compact or the enforcement of any of its provisions.

ARTICLE XIV

The physical and other conditions characteristic of the Yellowstone river and peculiar to the territory drained and served thereby and to the development thereof, have actuated the signatory states in the consummation of this compact, and none of them, nor the United States of America by its consent and approval, concedes thereby the establishment of any general principle or precedent with respect to other interstate streams.

ARTICLE XV

This compact shall become operative when approved by the legislature of each of the signatory states and consented to and approved by the congress of the United States.

ARTICLE XVI

Nothing in this compact shall be deemed:

(a) To impair or affect the sovereignty or jurisdiction of the United States of America in or over the area of waters affected by such compact, any rights or powers of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, in and to the use of the waters of the Yellowstone river basin nor its capacity to acquire rights in and to the use of said waters;

(b) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities to taxation by any state or subdivision thereof, nor to create an obligation on the part of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, by reason of the acquisition, construction, or operation of any property or works of whatsoever kind, to make any payments to any state or political subdivision thereof, state agency, municipality, or entity whatsoever in reimbursement for the loss of taxes;

(c) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, to the laws of any state to an extent other than the extent to which these laws would apply without regard to the compact.

ARTICLE XVII

Should a court of competent jurisdiction hold any part of this compact to be contrary to the constitution of any signatory state or of the United States of America, all other severable provisions of this compact shall continue in full force and effect.

ARTICLE XVIII

No sentence, phrase, or clause in this compact or in any provision thereof, shall be construed or interpreted to divest any signatory state or any of the agencies of [or] officers of such states of the jurisdiction of the water of each state as apportioned in this compact.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the commissioners have signed this compact in quadruplicate original, one of which shall be filed in the archives of the department of state of the United States of America and shall be deemed the authoritative original, and of which a duly certified copy shall be forwarded to the governor of each signatory state.

Title of Act

An act to approve and ratify the "Yellowstone River Compact" between the states of Montana, North Dakota and Wyoming.

89-904. Legislative and congressional approval necessary. Said compact shall not be binding or obligatory upon any of the high contracting parties thereto unless and until the same shall have been approved by the legislature of each of the said states and by the congress of the United States. The governor of Montana shall give notice of the ratification and approval of said compact by the thirty-second legislative assembly of the state of Montana to the governors of each of the remaining signatory states and to the president of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 39, L. 1951.

89-905. Purpose of the act. Under the provisions of the Yellowstone river compact (chapter 39, Laws of Montana, 1951 [89-903, 89-904]), all appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of the waters of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone river, existing in each signatory state as of January 1, 1950, have been recognized and shall continue to be enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation. All appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of the waters of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone river acquired after January 1, 1950, are subject to distribution in the states of Montana and Wyoming in accordance to the percentages in the different basins as provided in subdivisions B and C of Article V of said compact. The purpose of this act is to provide the means to determine the various appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of water of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone river, acquired after January 1, 1950, and the quantity of water diverted and used by each such appropriator during each year, to enable the state of Montana and the Yellowstone river compact commission to comply with and to administer the percentage allocations as provided in subdivisions B and C of Article V of said compact.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 92, L. 1953.

89-3002. Substance of agreement.

89-3001. Authority for governor to assent to agreement between United States and Canada regarding waters of Sage Creek Basin. The governor of Montana is hereby authorized and empowered to assent, on behalf of the state of Montana, to an agreement to be entered into between the government of the United States of America and the government of Canada for, and on behalf of, the state of Montana and its citizens, and the Province of Alberta and its citizens, concerning a division of the waters of the Sage Creek Basin, the said basin being the watershed of an international stream; and, if such agreement be entered into, and such assent given, the governor of Montana is hereby authorized and empowered to take such action as may be necessary to carry the agreement into effect.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 23, L. 1957.

Title of Act

An act authorizing the governor of Montana to assent on behalf of the state of Montana to an agreement to be entered into between the government of the United States of America and the government of Canada for, and on behalf of, the state of Montana and its citizens, and the Province of Alberta and its citizens, for a division between said state and said province of the waters of the Sage Creek Basin; prescribing the formula to be used for effecting the division of the subject waters; and waiving certain rights under the boundary waters' treaty signed at Washington on January 11, 1909; and providing an effective date.

89-3002. Substance of agreement. The said agreement shall in substance provide for:

1. Construction, by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration or other agency of the government of Canada, of a reservoir in Canada at

Elbow Coulee to provide capacity for approximately 7,500 acre-feet of live storage;

2. Construction, by the same agency, of a "Supply Canal to the United States" on the west side of Sage Creek to carry all of the stored water apportioned to the Montana ranchers from a point in Sage Creek below the reservoir to the point where Sage Creek crosses the international boundary. Final location of this canal will be recommended by the Canadian authorities concerned, after completion of a survey by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration;

3. Formation of a water storage society or other organization of the Canadian ranchers appropriate under Alberta laws which will be responsible for:

(a) maintenance and operation of the reservoir and of the diversion works at the head of the supply canal to the United States;

(b) apportionment of the impounded water as between the Alberta ranchers and the Montana ranchers in accordance with the formula outlined hereunder;

(c) diversion of the United States' share of the impounded water to the supply canal to the United States referred to in paragraph 2 above;

(d) provision of suitable storage apportionment and diversion records to the representative of the Montana ranchers and to the board referred to in paragraph 5 below;

(e) maintenance of Sage Creek channel between the reservoir and the point of diversion to the supply canal to the United States in a condition satisfactory to the board referred to in paragraph 5 below.

4. The water storage society or other organization mentioned in paragraph 3 to cooperate with the Montana ranchers and, as and when requested by a representative of the Montana ranchers, to release and divert to the supply canal to the United States all or part of the Montana ranchers' share of the water then impounded in the reservoir;

5. Inspection of the reservoir, channel and diversion works and the records of the storage society by an international board created by the International Joint Commission, to verify compliance with the terms of the agreement for apportionment of the stored water; said board to recommend subsequently any adjustment which may be appropriate;

6. Maintenance of the supply canal to the United States in a condition satisfactory to the board referred to in paragraph 5 above, to be the responsibility of the Montana ranchers, who will be permitted appropriate access to the canal for this purpose at all reasonable times;

7. Apportionment of water shall apply to water remaining in the reservoir at the commencement of the water year, together with the season run off impounded in the reservoir, regardless of whether the run off occurs during only on period of days or weeks or during two or more such periods. Such water shall be apportioned to the Alberta ranchers and the Montana ranchers in the following manner:

(a) If the amount of water thus available in the reservoir for apportionment during the water year is 3,750 acre-feet or less, one third thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and two thirds to the Alberta ranchers;

(b) If the amount is more than 3,750 acre-feet but not more than 5,000 acre-feet, 1,250 acre-feet thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and the remainder to the Alberta ranchers;

(c) If the amount is more than 5,000 acre-feet one fourth thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and three fourths to the Alberta ranchers; provided, that if in any year the amount is more than 7,500 acre-feet, the water in excess of 7,500 acre-feet shall be made available to the Alberta ranchers if they can use it.

If the capacity of the reservoir for live storage should prove to be less than 7,500 acre-feet, the amounts of water stated above will be reduced proportionately.

8. Measurement of diversions to be made at the point of diversion from Sage Creek to the supply canal to the United States;

9. Reservoir losses, defined as "changes in reservoir storage which are unexplained by inflows and deliveries," and physical losses in Sage Creek channel between the reservoir and the point of diversion to the supply canal to the United States, to be shared in the same proportions as the water impounded in the reservoir;

10. All waters in Sage Creek Basin in Alberta, other than the Montana ranchers' share of water impounded in the reservoir calculated in accordance with the formula outlined in paragraph 7 above, to be available for use in Alberta;

11. The flow of water across the international boundary in the Sage Creek Basin not be obstructed in Montana in a manner which causes or is likely to cause damage in Alberta;

12. In consideration of the apportionments of water to be made pursuant to the aforementioned arrangements, the state of Montana and the Montana ranchers to waive any and all rights they might otherwise assert, under Article II of the Boundary Waters' Treaty of 1909, respecting the waters of the Sage Creek Basin.

90-132. (4246) Weight of commodities to be indicated on containers—penalties. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, association, or corporation, to sell or offer for sale in this state any commodity or article of merchandise in a package or container, without having such package or container labeled in plain, intelligible words and figures, with a correct statement of the net weight, measure, or numerical count of its contents, designated, where not otherwise provided, by lettering of at least one-ninth (1/9) inch in height (8 point type). Provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the sale of a commodity within the provisions of this act when such sale is made from bulk and the quantity is weighed, measured, or counted for the immediate purpose of such sale; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall apply to commodities or articles of merchandise, except milk and cream, offered for sale or sold in packages or containers at a price of ten cents (10c) or less per such package or to commodities or articles of merchandise in packages or containers which are sold by the aggregate net weight of the contents thereof.

1. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale in this state any commodity or article of merchandise, except by true net weight, measure, or numerical count, except where the parties otherwise agree. Contracts for work done, or anything to be sold by weight or measure, shall be construed according to the standards hereby adopted as the standards of this state, except where the parties have agreed upon any other calculations of measurement, and all statements and representations of any kind referring to the weight or measure of commodities or articles of merchandise shall be understood in the terms of the standards of weights and measures aforesaid. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell solid substances by liquid measure.

2. It shall be unlawful for any person, in buying or selling any commodity or article of merchandise, to make or give false or short weight or measure, or to sell or offer for sale any commodity or article of merchandise less in weight or measure than he represents, or to use a weight, measure, balance or measuring device that is false and does not conform to the authorized standard for determining the quantity of any commodity or article of merchandise, or to have a weight, measure, balance, or measuring device adjusted for the purpose of giving false or short weight or measure, or to use in buying or selling of any commodity or article of merchandise a computing scale or device indicating the weight and price of such commodity or article of merchandise, upon which scale or device the graduations or indications are falsely or inaccurately placed, either as to weight or price, or to use any computing scale having a horizontal registering bar with a barrel computing device, unless such scale is adjusted to register the correct weight from all angles of vision, and the view on the customer's side shall never be, in any manner, obstructed. The selling and delivering of any commodity or article of merchandise shall be prima facie evidence of the representation on the part of the vendor that the quantity sold and delivered was the quantity bought by the vendee. There shall be taken into consideration the usual and ordinary leakage, evaporation, or waste that there may be from the time a package or container is filled by a vendor until he sells the same. A slight variation from the stated weight, measure or quantity for individual packages not to exceed three percent (3%) is permissible; provided, that the variation is as often above as below the weight, measure or quantity stated.

Any person, who by himself, or his employee or as a proprietor or manager, shall refuse to exhibit any article, commodity or the container of any commodity, produce or anything being sold or offered for sale at a given weight or quantity, or ordinarily so sold, to the state sealer of weights and measures, or his deputies, for the purpose of allowing the same to be tested and proved as to the quantity contained therein as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

4. The term container used in this act is hereby defined to be any receptacle or carton into which a commodity is packed, or any wrappings with which any commodity is wrapped or put up for sale, or to be offered or exposed for sale. The state sealer of weights and measures, or his deputies, may seize any container which facilitates the perpetration of deception or fraud. By order of a court having jurisdiction the containers seized shall be condemned and destroyed or released upon such conditions as the court in its discretion may impose, to insure against their use in violation of this section.

5. There are hereby established the following standard net weights for all berry containers, or hallocks in which strawberries, blackberries, currants, gooseberries, or any other berries, except red or black raspberries, are sold or offered for sale in this state:

(a) Pint hallocks or containers shall be 33.6 cubic inches in capacity and the contents thereof shall have a net minimum weight of twelve (12) ounces.

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove such notice, without the written consent of the state sealer of weights and measures or his deputy. And in case said notice is removed without such written consent, the owner,

CHAPTER 4—TIME

90-407. (10707) Computation of time.

Construction

In 1864 the First Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Montana by the enactment of section 430 of the Bannack Statutes at page 130 incorporated into the law of this jurisdiction the common-law rule and formula for computing time by excluding the first day and including the last which at all times since has been and now is the written law of this jurisdiction. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, — M —, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268 P 558, Novack v. Pericich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

The legislature, by this section, has prescribed the one and only lawful rule or formula for computing both the maximum and the minimum number of days designated in section 75-1606. It computes by "excluding the first day and including the last" day. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, — M —, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268 P 558, Novack v. Pericich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

In computing whether a nomination was made at least 40 days before the day of election, resort must be had to this section which requires that in computing time you exclude the first day and include the last day; thus where date of election was April 3, 1954 the last day for nominating meetings was February 22. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, — M —, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268

P 558, Novack v. Pericich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

Removal of Public Officer

In determining time under section 94-5516 which provides that party charged must be cited to appear "not more than ten nor less than five days from the time the accusation was presented" in action to remove public officer both the first and last day should be excluded. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, overruled in State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, — M —, 284 P 2d 998.

91-104.2. Application to estates remaining undistributed at the time act goes into effect. This act is hereby expressly declared to be retroactive to the extent that it shall apply to all estates which remain undistributed at the time of the effective date of this act.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 173, L. 1955.

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 173, Laws 1955 read "all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, except as herein preserved."

Effective Date

Section 5 of Ch. 173, Laws 1955 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 4, 1955.

91-107. (6980) Written will, how to be executed.

Attestation Clause

Where the attestation clause is regular it presents a prima facie case of the due execution of the will which the court is entitled upon a proper showing to hold prevails over the testimony of the witnesses to the contrary. This is particularly true where the experience and familiarity on the part of the testator with the requisites of the execution of a will exist. In re Swords' Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 674, 677.

The court may accept statements in the attestation clause as against the mere words of the attesting witnesses to the contrary. In re Swords' Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 674, 678.

Construction

This section does not direct that the testator must sign or acknowledge his signature to the subscribing witnesses at a time when both such witnesses are present at the same time. Neither does the section direct that the subscribing witnesses must sign the will at a time when both are present or in the presence of each other. To hold otherwise is to read into the section a requirement that is not there and was not written into such section by the legislators who enacted it into law. In re Woodburn's Estate, 128 M 145, 273 P 2d 391, 394.

The purposes of a statute requiring witnesses to a will are fully met and satisfied when this section is interpreted and construed to permit a testator to sign or acknowledge his will to the subscribing witnesses separately, and such witnesses to sign their names while not in the presence of each other. In re Woodburn's Estate, 128 M 145, 273 P 2d 391, 395.

Operation and Effect

A power of attorney to a physician to perform all medical services for decedent for which he was to receive $2,000, any portion of such amount unpaid on her death to be paid by her executor, was invalid unless executed in compliance with this section. Trenouth v. Mulroney, 124 M 499, 227 P 2d 590, 597.

91-108. (6981) Definition of a holographic will.

Operation and effect

An instrument which meets all the requirements of a holographic will under this statute is sufficient to transfer real estate in Montana upon probate. In re Gift's Estate, 125 M 95, 232 P 2d 328, 331.

A letter, written some five years after the execution of a will, in which the deceased states that he wants his son to be administrator and in which no reference was made of the prior will was not a holographic will nor was it a codicil to decedent's earlier formal will. In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073.

Testamentary Intent

Held, that the letter and surrounding circumstances showed that the decedent had testamentary intent necessary for a valid holographic will. In re Van Voast's Estate, 127 M 450, 266 P 2d 377. (See, however, dissenting opinions, 127 M 450, 266 P 2d 377 at 380 and 389.)

In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073, 1075.

91-122. (6995) Written will—how revoked.

Operation and Effect

Decedent's will was not revoked by a later letter to his son in which he states that he wants his son to be administrator. The letter made no suggestion or declaration of a revocation of his prior will, nor is there any reference thereto. No attempt was made to comply with the provisions of section 91-125 and this section. In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073, 1075.

91-124. (6997) Revocation of duplicate.

91-136. (7009) Children or issue of children of testator, etc.

Operation and Effect

This section can have no application unless it appears from the will that testatrix unintentionally omitted to provide for the children or the issue of a deceased child. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1142.

Any provision which affords evidence that the child or the issue of any deceased child had not been forgotten is sufficient to prevent the application of this section. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

The words "omits to provide" for any children or for the issue of any deceased child as used in this section mean simply an omission to make a provision in the will and have no reference to the pecuniary value of the provision. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

Purpose of Section

The legislative purpose in enacting this section was not to restrict the testatrix or to dictate to her what provisions she should make. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

Will Construed to Apply to Children

Where will contained provision for "each of my heirs-at-law not elsewhere herein mentioned" to receive the sum of one dollar, such provision applied to children of a deceased child, the residuary clause naming part of the living children by name and another clause specifically disinheriting the other living children by name and there was no omission. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1143.

91-502. Title to escheated property vests in state—when. Whenever the title to any property, either real or personal, or mixed, fails for any reason including want of heirs or next of kin, such title shall vest in the state of Montana immediately upon the death of the owner without an inquest or other proceeding in the nature of office found, and there shall be no presumption that such owner died leaving heirs or next of kin; provided that in relation to property other than estates, title shall be presumed to have failed whenever the owner, beneficial owner, or person entitled to any such property within this state has been or shall be and remain unknown for a period of twenty (20) successive years, and during such period whenever the whereabouts of such owner, beneficial owner or persons has been or shall be and remain unknown, and during such period whenever any personal property wherever situated has been or shall be and remain unclaimed, then, in such event, such personal property shall escheat to the state.

All sums escheated under the provisions of the Escheated Property Act shall be deposited by the treasurer in the escheated estates fund; in connection with the recovery of money or property from escheats other than those from estates, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to deduct the costs incurred in reducing such moneys or property to the possession of the state of Montana, which sum shall not exceed five per centum (5%) of the amount so recovered, except for such other costs and fees as the judgment of escheat shall so direct.

Moneys and properties placed in the escheated estates fund shall be held in trust for a period of ten (10) years prior to deposit in the public school fund by the state treasurer; such ten (10) year period being a time within which the owner, beneficial owner, or any person having a right, title, or interest in the property or money escheated may make claim upon the escheated estates fund by the institution of an action for the dissolution of the trust in an amount equal to the full amount or value of the property escheated minus the costs and expenses incident to reducing the same to the possession of the state.

In order to ascertain if any person has knowledge of or is in possession of any escheatable property, it shall be lawful for the attorney general or his assistant to obtain discovery on motion in the district court requiring any such person or persons to divulge any information they may have concerning the possession or location of any property subject to escheat, or any other information pertinent to the recovery of such property by the state of Montana or which information may lead to the discovery of such escheatable property.

91-510. Disposition of moneys from escheated estates. All money or property which is at the time of the passage and approval of this act in the hands of the state treasurer, from escheated estates, shall be placed by him in a fund to be known as the escheated estates fund of the State of Montana: Out of said fund the state treasurer shall pay all claims regularly presented against the state and approved by the state board of examiners in order to defray the costs of enforcing this act and all other acts relating to escheated estates in an amount to be designated and appropriated by the legislative assembly of the state of Montana each biennium. "Costs" shall be construed to mean such expenses as are necessarily employed in the enforcement and administration of the escheated estate laws and all other expenses of enforcing the provisions of the laws relative to escheated estates.

All other sums remaining in the escheated estates fund and not otherwise herein provided for administrative purposes and expenses shall be deposited by the state treasurer in the public school fund on the first day of July, 1953, and on the first day of July of each year thereafter.

Provided further, however, that trust estates created under the provisions of section 91-520, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended, shall not become a part of the escheated estates fund until finally escheated as provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 184, L. 1943; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 165, L. 1953.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment completely rewrote this section. Prior to amendment it read: "All money or property, which is at the time of the passage and approval of this act, in the hands of the state treasurer, from escheated estates, shall be placed by him in the public school fund of the state of Montana and any person claiming such money or property at any time thereafter shall have two (2) years after the passage and approval of this act in which to file and bring an action for the recovery of the same as hereinabove provided."

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 165, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect immediately after its passage and approval. Approved March 3, 1953.

91-512. Duty of attorney general—employment of special assistant. The attorney general of the state of Montana shall be the legal advisor to the state treasurer in connection with all escheated property matters and it shall be the duty of the attorney general to make investigations and conduct inquiries to determine whether there is property in the state of Montana which should escheat to the state of Montana, and to take all steps necessary to secure such escheat, and for this purpose the attorney general is authorized and empowered to employ a special assistant at a salary not to exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000.00) per annum together with actual, necessary expenses while engaged in outside work in connection with the duties of his office as defined by law. Such salary and expenses shall be payable monthly from the escheated estates fund.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment raised the salary of the special assistant from $3,000 to $6,000; added expense provisions and added the last sentence.

91-520. Conditions under which aliens in foreign country may inherit. 1. No person shall receive money or property, save and except mining property, as provided in section 25, Article III, of the Constitution of the state of Montana, as an heir, devisee and/or legatee of a deceased person leaving an estate or portion thereof in the state of Montana, if such heir, devisee and/or legatee, at the time of the death of said deceased person, is not a citizen of the United States and is a resident of a foreign country at the time of the death of said intestate or testator, unless, reciprocally, the foreign country in question would permit the transfer to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in the United States, of property left by a deceased person in said foreign country.

2. In order to prove reciprocity the alien heir, devisee and/or legatee must establish by competent evidence produced at a hearing to determine heirship; (a) that such foreign country recognizes the right of United States citizens to inherit property left by a deceased person in such foreign country; (b) that such foreign country places no restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in the United States.

3. If such proof as required by subsection 2 establishes the fact that such foreign country recognizes the right of inheritance, but restricts the movement of money or property out of such foreign country to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in, and a citizen of the United States, then and in that event, the court upon such a determination, shall at the time of final distribution, order the inheritance of such alien heir, devisee and/or legatee distributed to the state treasurer of the state of Montana, in trust for such named heir, devisee and/or legatee, under such conditions and restrictions as are imposed on the movement of money or property by such foreign country in question to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in, and a citizen of the United States.

4. In an action for dissolution of the trust so created, the following jurisdictional facts must be set forth in the complaint: (a) the name of the beneficiary of the trust; (b) the foreign country in which the beneficiary has his permanent residence; (c) the conditions and restrictions imposed upon the trust funds by the court in its decree of final distribution; (d) the fact that the beneficiary is in the state of Montana; (e) the verification of the complaint by the beneficiary before an official of the state of Montana authorized by law to administer oaths; (f) that the action has been commenced within the period of three (3) years of the date the trust was created, unless the conditions of the trust declare a shorter or longer period to exist in the country of the foreign heir's residence and that reciprocally such period has been imposed to satisfy the requirements of reciprocity, hereinabove set forth; (g) in the event that the beneficiary is a minor or insane person, his action must be instituted within the period of limitation herein provided for the commencement of the action, by his guardian, duly appointed under the laws of the country of residence of said minor or insane person and the record of such appointment shall be fully exemplified and attested by a duly accredited representative of the state department of the government of the United States of America in such foreign country; (h) unless the action herein provided shall have been commenced within three (3) years, or such shorter or longer period as is specifically declared as a condition of the trust, as hereinabove required, then such trust funds shall forthwith escheat to the state of Montana, and no action can thereafter be instituted in the courts of this state for the recovery of such escheated trust funds.

5. The action provided for under the provision of subsection 4 hereof shall in all other respects comply with the requisites of section 91-518.

6. No estate in which alien heirs, devisees and/or legatees have a distributive share shall be considered to be in a condition to petition for final distribution, unless, the court enters a written order in such estate decreeing that an action for determination of heirship has been instituted in which the state of Montana was made a party-defendant and that a decree determining heirship has been entered and filed in said action.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment added all that part of this section following the first paragraph.

The 1953 amendment in subsection 4 (f) added the number "(3)" and the part beginning with the words "unless the conditions"; in subsection 4 (h) inserted "(3)", the words "or such shorter or longer period as is specifically declared as a condition of the trust" and the word "hereinabove" between the words "as" and "required."

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 31, Laws 1951 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 144 Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 144, Laws 1953 provided this act should be in effect immediately after its passage and approval. Approved March 2, 1953.

Determination of Heirship by Court

Rather than relying on the opinion of a California court that heirs in Rumania may inherit from persons dying in this country since there is reciprocity between the United States and Rumania, a trial court should make its own determination of whether or not the country of Rumania has reciprocity with the United States in connection with inheritance after due notice is given to the interested litigants that a case decided in a sister state is to be used in connection with its findings and an opportunity afforded all litigants interested to be heard upon the question. Such trial court should also make a determination as to whether or not such foreign country places restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country, and if so make its order accordingly. In re Stoian's Estate, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088, 1089.)

Foreign Law—Notice

Before one can rely on a foreign country's law that persons in this country may inherit property located in the foreign country there must be notice given of the intent to rely on the foreign law. In re Stoian's Estate, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088, 1089.)

Operation and Effect

Where reciprocity was shown and such foreign heirs were residents of Rumania, their shares in the estate of the deceased, by operation of law, passed to the attorney general of the United States, successor to the rights of the alien property custodian, because Rumania was a "designated enemy country." In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 659.

Where the decedent died in 1940, his estate vested immediately in his heirs and the 1951 amendment to this section which requires in proving reciprocity that the alien heir established that such foreign country places no restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country, the amendment would not apply to the instant proceeding since it would take away or impair vested rights. In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 662.

Operation of Amendment

Where death occurred in 1949, the estate passed at that time and the amendment made in 1951 can have no application to this estate. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 454.

Reciprocity—Burden of Proof

The burden of proving reciprocity falls upon the foreign heirs, because they, being in the foreign country, are in a better position to prove the laws thereof than any other party to the heirship proceedings. The fact that such burden rests upon the foreign heirs does not mean, however, that no other party to the heirship proceedings may make such proof, where it is to their interests to do so. In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 659.

Reciprocity—Proving

Certified copies of decisions of district courts, containing the seal of the court properly authenticated and in substantial compliance with 93-1001-19, showing in substance that in the cases under consideration American citizens either inherited property from the estate of one dying in Yugoslavia or the decision otherwise respected property rights of American citizens in property in Yugoslavia were properly received in evidence. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

Certificates made by the ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Yugoslavia to the United States to the effect that the Constitution and laws of Yugoslavia and treaties between Yugoslavia and the United States accord to citizens of the United States the reciprocal right of inheritance equal to those accorded to citizens of Yugoslavia were properly received in evidence to prove reciprocity. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

The qualification of a witness to testify as an expert is a matter within the sound discretion of the trial court, and where there is no showing of a clear abuse of that discretion the ruling of that court will not be disturbed on appeal. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 455.

It is not a requirement that before a person can be an expert in the field of foreign law that he must have been admitted to practice law in some jurisdiction. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 455.

Portions of the Constitution of Yugoslavia, certified to by the Minister of Justice of Yugoslavia, and relating to the inheritance of private property were properly received in evidence. In re Spoya's Estate, — M —, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

91-521. Duties of executors and administrators in estates involving alien heirs. In any estate where money or property would have vested in any alien person but for the provisions of section 91-520, it shall be the duty of the executor or the administrator thereof, as soon as he shall have completed and filed the inventory and appraisement in said estate to furnish the attorney general with the following written information and file a copy thereof, in the probate proceedings in said estate:

1. The names and addresses of the alien heirs, devisees and/or legatees in said estate;

2. The share, or proportionate share thereof of each of said alien heirs;

3. The appraised value of the entire estate.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 104, L. 1939; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 30, L. 1951.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment provided for the filing of names of alien heirs with the attorney general after inventory and appraisement instead of listing such heirs in the petition for letters and also in the petition for distribution. The amendment also omitted those provisions of the section providing for the disposition of property which would have gone to such heirs. Present provisions for the disposition of such property are found in sec. 91-520.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 30, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 7—PROBATE PROCEEDINGS—GENERAL JURISDICTION OF DISTRICT COURT

91-701. (10018) Jurisdiction of the court over the estate, etc.

"Domiciliary" and "Ancillary" Administration

Administration in the state where the person was domiciled at the time of his death is deemed the principal or primary administration and is ordinarily termed "domiciliary administration," while administration in a state other than where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death but wherein the decedent left property is termed "ancillary" or "auxiliary" administration. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Operation and Effect

Where, at the time of decedent's death his alleged will, wherever executed was a domestic document in Montana wherein decedent was domiciled and left estate and not a foreign writing of some person residing and domiciled in some other state or foreign country, the filing, offering for probate and proving of such domestic will is governed by the provisions of this section, sections 91-801 to 91-812, 91-901 to 91-907 and not by the provisions of sections 91-1001, 91-1002 and 91-1003. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Original Probate

Under the provisions of subdivision 1 of this section it is the declared public policy of this jurisdiction that the first, the primary or the original probate of a will should be made in the county in which the decedent was a resident and domiciled at the time of his death. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Residence

In the enactment of subdivision 1 of this section the legislature has treated "residence" as synonymous with "domicile." In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Residence of Decedent

Where decedent was a life long resident of one county but went to another county to a rest home since no similar care could be obtained in his home county and other evidence disclosed that he did not intend to change his residence, he retained his legal residence in his home county. In re Ingersol's Estate, 128 M 230, 272 P 2d 1003.

91-804. (10023) When executor forfeits right to letters.

Construction

This section is neither mandatory nor jurisdictional. It does not compel action. It merely permits action and then only in a case coming squarely within its provisions. In re Minder's Estate, 128 M 1, 270 P 2d 404, 408.

Mere failure of the executor to file his petition for probate and for letters for 30 days or more after learning of testator's death will not of and in itself effect a forfeiture of the named executor's right to letters testamentary, for, if and when good cause be shown for the delay, then and thereupon, the trial judge is divested of his authority to adjudge an involuntary or implied renunciation of the named executor's right to letters testamentary. In re Minder's Estate, 128 M 1, 270 P 2d 404, 408.

Operation and Effect

Good cause was shown for the delay of the named executor in filing the petition for probate when it was shown that he delayed the filing at the request of the heirs and legatees in order for them to give him an inventory of the estate but that they evaded doing so. In re Minder's Estate, 128 M 1, 270 P 2d 404.

91-806. (10025) Notice of petition for probate—how given.

Operation and Effect

Where the decedent was domiciled in Montana and left an estate, the statutory requirements for offering the will to probate, notice, and the opportunity to contest the purported will may not be circumvented and evaded by the simple device of first offering decedent's alleged will for probate in California, where decedent also left some property, and then returning to Montana, the state of decedent's residence and domicile, with an authenticated copy of the probate proceedings had in California and thereupon, without any notice whatever to the heirs, legatees, and devisees resident in Montana, obtaining an order admitting the alleged will to probate and granting letters of administration, merely upon the presentation of a petition therefor and the submission of the authenticated copy of the California proceedings. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 692.

91-807. (10026) Heirs and named executors to be notified, how.

Operation and Effect

Where the decedent was domiciled in Montana and left an estate, the statutory requirements for offering the will to probate, notice, and the opportunity to contest the purported will may not be circumvented and evaded by the simple device of first offering decedent's alleged will for probate in California, where decedent also left some property, and then returning to Montana, the state of decedent's residence and domicile, with an authenticated copy of the probate proceedings had in California and thereupon, without any notice whatever to the heirs, legatees, and devisees resident in Montana, obtaining an order admitting the alleged will to probate and granting letters of administration, merely upon the presentation of a petition therefor and the submission of the authenticated copy of the California proceedings. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 692.

91-810. (10029) Who may appear and contest the will.

Executor of Prior Will Cannot Contest a Will

The only persons authorized to contest a will are those who, but for the will, would succeed in some degree to the decedent's estate; therefore, an executor named in a prior will cannot contest a codicil naming a new person executor. State ex rel. Hill v. District Court, 126 M 1, 242 P 2d 850, 31 ALR 2d 749 (the court was closely divided on this, however, see the dissenting opinion of two judges, 126 M 1, 242 P 2d 850, 852.)

91-811. (10030) Proof required when no contest. If no person appears to contest the probate of a will, the court or judge may admit the same to probate:

(a) On the testimony of one of the subscribing witnesses only if he testifies that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law, and that the testator was of sound mind at the time of its execution.

(b) If it appears at the time of the filing of the petition to have the will proved that none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county, and that the deposition of one of the witnesses to the will can be taken elsewhere, the court may direct it to be taken and may authorize a photographic copy of the will to be made and presented to such witness on his examination, who may be asked the same questions with respect to it and the handwriting of himself, the testator, and the other witness, as would be pertinent and competent if the original will were present.

(c) If none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county at the time appointed for proving the will, and it is made to appear to the court that the execution of the will cannot be proven under either of the foregoing subdivisions of this section, the court may admit the testimony of other witnesses to prove the sanity of the testator and the execution of the will; and, as evidence of such execution, it may admit proof of the handwriting of the testator and of the subscribing witnesses, or any of them.

CHAPTER 9—PROBATE PROCEEDINGS—CONTESTING PROBATE OF WILLS

Estoppel

Although estoppel usually must be specially pleaded, in a will contest where grounds for objection to probate of will were that deceased had married after the execution of the will, and petitioner answered alleging the last marriage was void by reason of a previous marriage which had not been dissolved, no further pleading would be permissible under this section and therefore evidence of estoppel to question the validity of the divorce and second marriage was properly admissible. In re Anderson's Estate, 121 M 515, 194 P 2d 621, 626.

Operation and Effect

In a will contest the contestant has the burden of proof and ordinarily should be the one to first submit proof. But where the proponent submitted his proof first and covered the entire field there would be no purpose in going over the same ground a second time. In re Swords' Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 674, 679.

CHAPTER 10—PROBATE OF FOREIGN WILLS

Section 91-1001. Wills proved in other states to be recorded, when and where.

91-1001. (10039) Wills proved in other states to be recorded, when and where.

All wills duly proved and allowed in any other of the United States, or in any foreign country or state, may be allowed and recorded in the district court of any county in which the testator shall have left any estate, provided however, that the primary probate of any will of any testator who, at the time of his death, was a resident of Montana and left estate therein, must be had in the county of his residence in this state, and may not be proved and admitted as a foreign will.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment deleted the words "or shall have been a resident at the time of his death" which appeared after the words "testator shall have left any estate" and added the proviso.

Section 3 of Ch. 56, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1953.

Operation and Effect

Where at the time of decedent's death his alleged will was a domestic document in Montana wherein decedent was domiciled and left estate and not a foreign writing of some person residing and domiciled in some other state or foreign country, the filing, offering for probate and proving of such domestic will is governed by the provisions of sections 91-701, 91-801 to 91-812, 91-901 to 91-907 and not by the provisions of sections 91-1001, 91-1002 and 91-1003. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

91-1002. (10040) Proceedings on production of foreign will.

Operation and Effect

Where the decedent was domiciled in Montana and left an estate, the statutory requirements prescribed in Chapter 8 of Title 91, relating to the offering of the will to probate, notice, and the opportunity to contest, may not be circumvented and evaded by the simple device of first offering decedent's alleged will for probate in California, where decedent also left some property, and then returning to Montana, the state of decedent's residence and domicile, with an authenticated copy of the probate proceedings had in California and thereupon, without any notice whatever to the heirs, legatees, and devisees resident in Montana, obtaining an order admitting the alleged will to probate and granting letters of administration, merely upon the presentation of a petition therefor and the submission of the authenticated copy of the California proceedings. In re Smith's Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 692.

Designation of Person to Name Executor

Where testatrix provided that "the nominee of the Roman Catholic Bishop" act as executor the court was required to appoint the person nominated by such bishop as executor and could not appoint another as administrator with the will annexed. CHAPTER 14—PERSONS TO WHOM AND ORDER IN WHICH LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION ARE GRANTED

91-1401. (10068) Order of persons entitled to administer, etc.

Failure to Apply—Effect

The fact that son made no application for letters of administration of estate of deceased mother until after application of public administrator, did not work a forfeiture of his right to be appointed where he was laboring under the impression there was no estate to administer. In re Wilcox' Estate, 122 M 290, 201 P 2d 989, 991.

Where persons entitled to preference in appointment as administrator fail to file a petition until letters have been issued to another and have not availed themselves of the provisions of section 91-1504, they cannot have the letters revoked except under the provisions of section 91-1601 or sections 91-2101 to 91-2105. In re Ruane's Estate, 122 M 387, 204 P 2d 1037, 1039.

Operation and Effect

This section is exclusive and mandatory and if person is properly qualified to administer estate the order of priority cannot be deviated from by the court. In re Wilcox' Estate, 122 M 290, 201 P 2d 989, 990.

Assertion of Claim to Property

Where a person dies without a will the property passes to the heirs immediately subject to administration, therefore the fact that a person claims to be the owner of all the property of the estate of his deceased mother does not affect his statutory right to administer the estate. In re Wilcox' Estate, 122 M 290, 201 P 2d 989, 991.

Section 91-1723. Cost of procuring bonds.

91-1723. (10106) Cost of procuring bonds.

Any receiver, assignee, guardian, trustee, committee, executor, administrator, curator, or other fiduciary required by law, or the order of any court or the judge thereof, to give a bond or other obligation as such, may include, as a part of the lawful expense of executing his trust, such reasonable sum paid a company authorized under the laws of this state to be or become surety on any such bond, for becoming his surety on such bond or obligation, as may be allowed by the court in which, or a judge before whom, he is required to account, not exceeding the sum determined by the rate established for the same or comparable bonds or obligations by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state; and in all actions and proceedings the party entitled to recover costs therein shall be allowed and may tax and recover such sum paid such company for executing any bond, recognizance, undertaking, stipulation, or other obligation, not exceeding, however, the sum determined by the rate established therefor by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment substituted the words "the sum determined by the rate established for the same or comparable bonds or obligations by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state" for the words "one-half of one per cent per annum on the amount of such bond"; deleted the word "therein" which appeared between the words "obligation" and "not" and substituted the words "the sum determined by the rate established therefor by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state" for the words "one-half of one per cent on the amount of such bond, recognizance, undertaking, stipulation, or other obligation, during each year same has been in force."

CHAPTER 20—DISQUALIFICATION OF JUDGE AND TRANSFER OF ADMINISTRATION

91-2001. (10120) Disqualification of judges.

Operation and Effect

There is no case brought to our attention that holds that when a judge is disqualified for imputed bias and prejudice in a probate matter, he must act under section 91-2001 in calling the nearest district judge to preside in the matter. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1078.

This section in substance and effect disqualifies a judge when he is interested in the estate or has served as attorney for an interested party. It has nothing to do with disqualification for imputed bias or prejudice. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1078.

CHAPTER 21—REMOVAL AND SUSPENSION OF EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS

91-2101. (10124) Suspension of powers of executor.

Grounds for Revocation

In petition to remove administratrix appointed as creditor of decedent, allegations that such administratrix was not a creditor of the estate, that the heirs did not wish to have her appointed and that she was hostile to them and incompetent did not aver facts bringing it within the provisions of this section. In re Ruane's Estate, 122 M 387, 204 P 2d 1037, 1039.

91-2103. (10126) Any party interested may appear on hearing.

Public Administrator

The public administrator is not a person interested in the estate within the meaning of this section. In re Ruane's Estate, 122 M 387, 204 P 2d 1037, 1039.

CHAPTER 24—PROVISION FOR SUPPORT OF FAMILY

Section 91-2406. Estates not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars to go to widow or minor child or minor children—those not exceeding three thousand dollars to be summarily administered.

91-2401. (10144) Widow and minor children may remain, etc.

Construction

Widow's claim to family allowance is strongly favored in the law and statutes relating thereto will be liberally construed. In re Hall's Estate, 124 M 355, 224 P 2d 138, 140.

Daughter—Loss of Right to Allowance

Daughter's right to family allowance became lost when she attained the age of eighteen years and upon her remarriage. In re Hall's Estate, 124 M 355, 224 P 2d 138, 140.

Disposition of Allowance as Between Widow and Daughter

Where district court made order for family allowance to both widow and daughter by previous marriage but such payments were discontinued because of insufficient funds in estate, it was proper, where funds thereafter came into estate, to permit payment to widow on amount owing on family allowance so ordered where she was in need and still unmarried, but to deny any share to daughter where she was then over the age of eighteen and married. 91-2406. (10149) Estates not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars to go to widow or minor child or minor children—those not exceeding three thousand dollars to be summarily administered. (1) If, on the return of the inventory of the estate of an intestate, it appears that the value of the whole estate does not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500.00), the court or judge, by an order of distribution for that purpose, must distribute to the widow, if there be a widow, and if no widow, then to the minor child or minor children, if there is or are any, the whole of the estate, including the fee simple title to the real estate, if any, after the payment of the expenses of his last illness, funeral charges, and expenses of the administration, subject to whatever mortgages, liens or encumbrances there may be upon said estate at the time of the death of the deceased, and there must be no further proceedings in the administration, unless further estate be discovered.

(2) When it so appears that the value of the whole estate does not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00), and the expenses of his last illness, funeral charges, and expenses of administration, as well as all other debts of the estate have been paid, it is in the discretion of the court or judge, by an order for that purpose after notice to all persons interested to appear on a day fixed to show cause why such order should not be made, to distribute the whole of the estate to the widow, if there be a widow, and if no widow then to the minor child or minor children, in the same manner as above provided in the case where the value of the whole estate does not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500.00), subject to whatever mortgages, liens or encumbrances there may be upon said estate at the time of the death of deceased. The notice to creditors must be given to present their claims within the time set by law for estates in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00), and those not so presented are barred as in other cases.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment changed the method of distribution. Prior to amendment the first paragraph provided that the judge "must assign, set over and distribute to the widow for the use and support of herself and minor child or minor children, if there be a widow and minor child or minor children, and if there be no minor children, then for the use and support of the widow, and if no widow, then to the minor child or minor children, if there is or are any, for his or their use and support, the whole of the estate, including the fee simple title to the real estate" and the second paragraph contained similar provisions with regard to distribution except that the estate was required to be assigned in the discretion of the judge. The amendment also substituted the words "the time set by law for estates in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00)," for "four (4) months after the first publication of such notice," in the last sentence.

CHAPTER 28—SALES OF PROPERTY OF ESTATE IN GENERAL—BORROWING MONEY—SALES OF CERTAIN PERSONAL PROPERTY

91-2803. (10197) No sales valid except by order of district court.

Confirmation of Sale—Necessity

An order of sale standing alone is not sufficient to pass title from the heirs to a purchaser, but there must also be a confirmation of the sale as a condition precedent to the passing of title. Larson v. Whitmer, 124 M 399, 224 P 2d 983, 986.

Operation and Effect

The statute provides the only method by which the heirs may be divested of title to their property in the process of administering the estate and purchasers from an administrator are bound to take notice of these statutory requirements. Larson v. Whitmer, 124 M 399, 224 P 2d 983, 986.

CHAPTER 30—SALES OF REAL ESTATE AND CONTRACTS FOR PURCHASE OF LAND

Section 91-3001. Executor or administrator may sell property, when.
91-3002. Verified petition for sale—what it may contain and to what it may refer.
91-3003. Order directing interested persons to appear.
91-3013. Private sale of real estate, how made and notice—bids, when and how received.

91-3001. (10210) Executor or administrator may sell property, when. When a sale of the property is necessary to pay the allowance of the family, or the debts outstanding against the decedent, or the debts, expenses, or charges of administration, or legacies; or when it appears to the satisfaction of the court that is for the advantage, benefit, and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, including the minor heirs, if any, that the real estate, or some part thereof, be sold, or that said sale would alleviate expense or hardship to, or be to the best financial interest of, the estate or those interested in the estate, including the minor heirs, if any, or if all heirs petition for such sale, the executor or administrator may sell any real as well as personal property of the estate, upon the order of the court or judge; and an application for the sale of real property may also embrace the sale of personal property.

Implied power of executor or testamentary trustee to sell real estate. 23 ALR 2d 1000.

91-3002. (10211) Verified petition for sale—what it may contain and to what it may refer. To obtain such order for the sale of real property, he must present a verified petition to the court or judge, setting forth the amount of personal property that has come to his hands, and how much thereof, if any, remains undisposed of; the debts outstanding against the decedent, as far as can be ascertained or estimated; the amount due upon the family allowance, or that will be due after the same has been in force one year; the debts, expenses, and charges of administration already accrued, and an estimate of what will or may accrue during the administration; a general description of all the real property of which the decedent died seized, or in which he had any interest, or in which the estate has acquired any interest, and the condition and value thereof; and the names of the legatees and devisees, if any, and of the heirs of the deceased, so far as known to the petitioner; and if said order for sale of real estate is petitioned for on the ground that it is for the advantage, benefit, and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, including the minor heirs, if any, or that said sale would alleviate expense or hardship to, or be to the best financial interest of, the estate or those interested in the estate, including the minor heirs, if any, or if all the heirs petition for such sale, that a sale be made, the petition, in addition to the foregoing facts, must set forth in what way an advantage or benefit would accrue to the estate, and those interested therein, by such sale. If any of the matters here enumerated cannot be ascertained, it must be so stated in the petition; but a failure to set forth the facts showing the sale to be necessary will not invalidate the subsequent proceedings, if the defect be supplied by the proofs at the hearing, and the general facts showing such necessity be stated in the order.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted the words "or that said sale would alleviate expense or hardship to, or be to the best financial interest of, the estate or those interested in the estate, including the minor heirs, if any, or if all the heirs petition for such sale."

91-3003. (10212) Order directing interested persons to appear. If it appears to the court or judge, from such petition, that it is necessary, or that it would be for the advantage, benefit, and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, including the minor heirs, if any, or that said sale would alleviate expense or hardship to, or be to the best financial interest of, the estate or those interested in the estate, including the minor heirs, if any, or if all the heirs petition for such sale, to sell the whole or some portion of the real estate, for the purposes and reasons mentioned in the preceding section, or any of them, such petition must be filed, and an order thereupon made, directing all persons interested in the estate to appear before the court or judge, at a time and place specified, not less than fifteen [15], nor more than thirty [30] days from the time of making such order, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the executor or administrator to sell so much of the real estate of the decedent as is necessary.

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 112, L. 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

91-3004. (10213) Service and publication of order.

Irregularity Not Attacked in Collateral Proceeding

Although publication of notice of sale of real estate did not comply with the provisions of the statute, where jurisdiction had attached, the irregularity could not be attacked in a collateral proceeding. Haugan v. Yale Oil Corp., 124 M 1, 217 P 2d 1084, 1086.

91-3013. (10222) Private sale of real estate, how made and notice—bids, when and how received. When sale of real estate is ordered to be made at private sale, notice of the same must be posted in three (3) of the most public places in the county in which the land is situated, such notice to be posted at least ten (10) days before the date of sale. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper if there be one printed in the same county, if none, then in such as the court or judge may direct, once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks. The notice must state a day on or after which the sale will be made, and a place where offers or bids will be received, and the lands and tenements to be sold must be described therein with common certainty. The day fixed for sale must be within ten (10) days from the day of the last publication of notice, and the sale must not be made before the day so fixed, but must be made within six (6) months thereafter. The bids or offers must be in writing and may be left at the place designated in the notice, or delivered to the executor or administrator personally, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of court to which the return of sale must be made, at any time after the first publication of the notice, and before the making of the sale. If it be shown that it will be for the best interests of the estate, the court or judge may, by an order, shorten the time of notice, which shall not, however, be less than one week, and may provide that the sale may be made on or after a day less than ten [10], in which case the notice of sale and the sale may be made to correspond with such order.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment inserted the provision that the notice must be posted at least ten days before date of sale, provided that the newspaper publication should be "once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks" instead of "two weeks successively next before the day on or after which the sale is to be made" provided that the date of sale must be within ten days from day of last publication instead of at least fifteen days from first publication, substituted the provision that the court might fix the time for sale on or after a day less than ten for a provision that the court might fix a day less than fifteen but not less than eight days after first publication and made other minor changes in wording.

Section 3 of Ch. 170, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect on and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1951.

Irregularity Not Attacked in Collateral Proceeding

Although publication of notice of sale of real estate did not comply with the provisions of the statute, where jurisdiction had attached, the irregularity could not be attacked in a collateral proceeding. Haugan v. Yale Oil Corp., 124 M 1, 217 P 2d 1084, 1086.

91-3016. (10225) Return of proceedings—notice of hearing, etc.

Vacation of Sale on Objection of Heirs

Where sale of land was made by oral agreement with administrator without confirmation of court, and thereafter to clear title a petition for sale of land was filed and bids were received, one by the purchaser for the amount so paid and one from another party for more than twice the amount bid by the purchaser, and sale was confirmed in such purchaser, such sale and judgment of confirmation were void on objection of the heirs although no fraud was practiced, the heirs not being parties to the proceeding. Larson v. Whitmer, 124 M 399, 224 P 2d 983, 986.

CHAPTER 31—MORTGAGING AND LEASING REAL ESTATE

Section 91-3102. Manner of obtaining authority to mortgage—petition, contents and filing.
91-3108. Leasing—procedure to procure order—provisions and terms—execution—effect.

91-3102. (10250) Manner of obtaining authority to mortgage—petition, contents and filing. To obtain an order to mortgage such realty, the proceedings to be taken and the effect thereof must be as follows:

The executor, administrator, or any person interested in the estate may file a verified petition showing: The particular purpose or purposes for which it is proposed to make the mortgage, which shall be either to pay the debts, legacies, or charges of administration, or to pay, reduce, extend, or renew some lien or mortgage already subsisting on said realty, or some part thereof, and to pay, reduce, extend or renew the payment of the promissory note secured by such lien or mortgage; a statement of the debts, legacies, charges of administration, liens, or mortgages to be paid, reduced, extended, or renewed, as the case may be; the advantage that may accrue to the estate from raising the required money by mortgage, or providing for the payment, reduction, extension, or renewal of the subsisting liens, or mortgages, as the case may be; the amount to be raised, with a general description of the property proposed to be mortgaged; and the names of the legatees and devisees, if any, and of the heirs of the deceased, so far as known to the petitioner.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment inserted the words "and to pay, reduce, extend or renew the payment of the promissory note secured by such lien or mortgage" which appear after the words "or some part thereof" in the second paragraph.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 62, Laws 1955 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

91-3108. (10256) Leasing—procedure to procure order—provisions and terms—execution—effect. To obtain an order to lease the realty, the proceedings to be taken and the effect thereof shall be as follows:

1. The executor, administrator, or any person interested in the estate, may file a verified petition showing: The advantage or advantages that may accrue to the estate from giving a lease; a general description of the property proposed to be leased; the term, rental, and general conditions of the proposed lease; and the names of the legatees and devisees, if any, and of the heirs of the deceased, so far as known to the petitioner.

2. Upon filing such petition an order must be made by the court or judge, requiring all persons interested in the estate to appear before the court or judge, at a time and place specified, not less than two nor more than four weeks thereafter, then and there to show cause why the realty (briefly indicating it) should not be leased for the period (stating it), at the rental mentioned in the petition (stating it), and referring to the petition on file for further particulars.

3. The order to show cause must be personally served on the persons residing in the county interested in the estate, at least ten days before the time appointed for hearing the petition, or be published for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

4. At the time and place appointed in the order to show cause, or such other time and place to which the hearing may be postponed, the court or judge having first received satisfactory proof of personal service or publication of the order to show cause, must proceed to hear the petition, and any objections that may be filed or presented thereto. Upon such hearing, witnesses may be compelled to attend and testify in the same manner and with like effect as in other cases, and the court or judge may, in its or his discretion, appoint one or more, not exceeding three, disinterested persons to appraise the rental value of the premises, and direct that a reasonable compensation for their services, not to exceed five dollars per day, be paid by the estate. If, after a full hearing, the court or judge is satisfied that it will be for the advantage of the estate to lease the whole or any portion of the real estate, an order must be made authorizing, empowering, and directing the executor or administrator to make such lease. The order may prescribe the minimum rental to be received for the premises, and the period of the lease, which must in no case be longer than for ten years, except that a lease or contract providing for the exploration of the premises for oil, gas or hydrocarbons may provide for a term of ten years and for as long thereafter as oil, gas or hydrocarbons shall be produced in commercial quantities, and may prescribe the other terms and conditions of such lease.

5. After the making of the order to lease, the executor or administrator must execute, acknowledge, and deliver a lease of the premises, for the rent, and period, and with the conditions specified in the order, such lease before it shall become effective shall be approved by the court or judge thereof before delivery, setting forth in the lease that it is made by authority of the order, and giving the date of such order. A certified copy of the order shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of every county in which the leased land, or any portion thereof, lies.

6. Every lease so made shall be effectual to demise and let, at the rent, for the term, and upon the conditions prescribed therein, the premises described therein. Jurisdiction of the court to administer the decedent's estate shall be effectual to vest such court and judge with jurisdiction to make the order for the lease, and such jurisdiction shall conclusively inure to the benefit of the lessee, his heirs and assigns. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings impairs or invalidates the same, or the lease made in pursuance thereof.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment raised the term for which realty may be leased from five to ten years and substituted "and" for "or" which appears before the words "for as long thereafter" in the last sentence of subdivision 4.

Repealing Clause

CHAPTER 32—GENERAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS

91-3205. (10261) Surviving partner to settle up business, etc.

Inheritance Tax

Real property and tangible personal property retains its status as such upon the death of a partner and is not exempt from inheritance tax under section 91-4413 as intangible property. In re Perry's Estate, 121 M 280, 192 P 2d 532, 537.

When Partnership Property Becomes Part of Estate

Until the affairs of the partnership have been settled the partnership property is not property of the estate of the deceased party to be administered as such. In re Perry's Estate, 121 M 280, 192 P 2d 532, 537.

Operation and Effect

Where jurisdiction has attached, an irregularity in a subsequent proceeding cannot be assailed except upon appeal or a direct action of annulment. Haugan v. Yale Oil Corp., 124 M 1, 217 P 2d 1084, 1087.

CHAPTER 34—LIABILITIES AND COMPENSATION OF EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS

Attorney's Fees

Attorney fees which are for services rendered in defending actions for the removal of the administrator are not chargeable against the estate because they are not for the benefit of the estate but rather are for the interest and benefit of the administrator personally. In re Ruane's Estate, 125 M 204, 233 P 2d 400, 403.

Necessary Expenses

Traveling expenses incurred by an administrator will not be allowed unless it is shown that such travel was necessary for the care, management, or settlement of the estate and that it was necessary to make the trips in question rather than use the mail. In re Ruane's Estate, 125 M 204, 233 P 2d 400, 402.

The administrator and court are bound to "exercise the highest diligence and to limit expenditures with a wise prudence and economy," therefore it is not an abuse of discretion for the court to disallow storage charged for a car for $123.75 when the car had an appraised value of $75 and was later sold for $30. 91-3407. (10287) Compensation of executors and administrators.

What is Included in Estate Upon Which Compensation is Based

Where the administratrix has expenses of $10 filing fee and $4.82 for sheriff's fee for serving subpoenas in an action to defend her position as administratrix; these items when recovered in a cost bill in that action can not be credited to the estate as an asset and thus increase the assets of the estate on which to base compensation for services. 91-3501. (10288) Exhibit of receipts and disbursements, etc.

Account

Where the court ordered the administrator to account, an "Affidavit of Report of Administrator" wherein the administrator sought to excuse his failure to close the estate is not what the statutes call for because it does not show the "amount of money received and expended by him" and it does not justify the administrator's failure to account at all. Effect of Fraud

Where proper notice was given of settlement of final account and petition for distribution of estate, heir or legatee could not, more than six months after settlement of final account and order for distribution of estate, have judgment set aside on ground of fraud. CHAPTER 38—DETERMINATION OF HEIRSHIP AND INTEREST IN ESTATE

Section 91-3801. Proceedings to determine heirship.
91-3802. Appearance of parties.

91-3801. (10324) Proceedings to determine heirship. Any person claiming to be heir to the deceased, or entitled to the distribution in whole or in part of an estate may, at any time after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration upon such estate, file a petition in the matter of such estate, praying the court or judge to ascertain and declare the rights of all persons to said estate, and all interests therein, and to whom distribution thereof should be made. Upon the filing of such petition, the court or judge must make an order directing service of notice to all persons interested in said estate, to appear and show cause, on a day to be therein named, not less than sixty [60] days nor more than four [4] months from the date of the making of such order, in which notice shall be set forth the name of the deceased, the name of the executor or administrator of said estate, the names of all persons who may have appeared claiming any interest in said estate, in the course of the administration of the same, up to the time of the making of said order, and such other persons as the court or judge may direct, including the state of Montana by service upon the attorney general, and also a description of the real estate whereof said deceased died seized or possessed so far as known, described with certainty to a common intent; and requiring said persons, and all persons named or not named having or claiming any interest in the estate of said deceased, at the time and place in said order specified, to appear and exhibit, as hereinafter provided, their respective claims of heirship, ownership, or interest in said estate, to said court or judge, which notice shall be served in the same manner as a summons in a civil action; upon proof of which service, by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the court or judge, the court or judge shall thereupon acquire jurisdiction to ascertain and determine the heirship, ownership, and interest of all parties in and to the property of said deceased, and such determination shall be final and conclusive in the administration of said estate, and of the title and ownership of said property, the court or judge must enter an order establishing proof of the service of such notice; if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge that no issue has been joined relative to heirship, then it shall not be necessary in such estate to file a complaint under the provisions of section 91-3802 and the court or judge shall thereupon enter a decree determining heirship, except in such estates in which nonresident alien heirs are entitled to a distributive share of the estate, in which event and before the entry of a decree determining heirship the court shall proceed to a hearing upon the determination of the question of reciprocity between the foreign country of which the nonresident alien heir is a resident and the United States as provided by section 91-520. Further, in all estates in which the decedent left a will, it shall be unnecessary to determine heirship but this shall not relieve any nonresident alien heirs, legatees and/or devisees from satisfactorily establishing their identity and proving that reciprocity exists between the country in which the nonresident alien legatee or devisee resides and the United States as provided under the provisions of section 91-520; provided, that whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the court or judge that such estate consists of personal property only, and upon application being made showing good reason therefor, the court or judge may, in its discretion, make an order directing service of said notice to all persons interested in said estate to be made by posting or publication, or both, for such shorter period as to the court or judge may appear proper and requisite.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment inserted the words "including the state of Montana by service upon the attorney general" in the second sentence, added that part of the second sentence following the third semi-colon and added that part of the third sentence preceding the semi-colon.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 28, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

91-3802. (10325) Appearance of parties. All persons appearing within the time limited must file their written appearance in person or through their authorized attorney, such attorney filing at the same time written evidence of his authority to so appear, which written evidence must be in the English language, or if in a foreign language, the same must be accompanied by an English translation thereof, duly certified as correct by a United States consul, entry of which appearance shall be made in the minutes of the court and in the register of proceedings of said estate. And the court or judge shall, after the expiration of the time limited for appearing as aforesaid, enter an order adjudging the default of all persons for not appearing as aforesaid, who shall not have appeared as aforesaid. At any time within twenty [20] days after the date of the order of the court or judge establishing proof of service of such notice, any of such persons so appearing may file his complaint in the matter of the estate, setting forth the facts constituting his claim of heirship, ownership, or interest in said estate, with such reasonable particularity as the court or judge may require, and serve a copy of the same upon each of the parties or attorneys who shall have entered their written appearance as aforesaid, if such parties or such attorneys reside within the county; in all estates in which a nonresident alien heir, legatee and/or devisee has or may have an interest in a decedent's estate, the state of Montana shall be considered a necessary party and must be personally served by serving a copy of the complaint and order on the attorney general; and in case any of them do not reside within the county, then service of such copy of said complaint shall be made upon the clerk of said court for them, and the clerk shall forthwith mail the same to the address of such party or attorney as may have left with said clerk his post-office address. Such parties are allowed twenty [20] days after the service of the complaint, as aforesaid within which to plead thereto, and thereafter such proceedings shall be had upon such complaint as in this code provided in case of an ordinary civil action; and the issues of law and of fact arising in the proceeding shall be disposed of in like manner as issues of law and fact are herein provided to be disposed of in civil actions, with a like right to a motion for a new trial and appeal to the supreme court; and the provisions in this code contained, regulating the mode of procedure for the trial of civil actions, the motion for a new trial of civil actions, statements on motion for a new trial, bills of exceptions and statements on appeal, as also in regard to undertakings on appeal, and the mode of taking and perfecting appeals, and the time within which such appeals shall be taken, shall be applicable thereto; provided, however, that all appeals herein must be taken within sixty [60] days from the date of the entry of the judgment or the order complained of.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment inserted the clause between the first and second semicolons in the third sentence relating to nonresident alien heirs.

Repealing Clause

CHAPTER 39—FINAL DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE—DISCHARGE OF EXECUTOR OR ADMINISTRATOR

Section 91-3901. Distribution of estate—how made and to whom.

91-3901. (10327) Distribution of estate—how made and to whom. 1. Upon the final settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator, or at any subsequent time, upon the application of the executor or administrator, or any heir, legatee, or devisee, the court or judge must proceed to distribute the residue of the estate in the hands of the executor or administrator, if any, among the persons who by law are entitled thereto; and if the decedent has left a surviving child, and the issue of other children, and any of them, before the close of the administration, have died while under age and not having been married, no administration on such deceased child's estate is necessary, but all the estate which such deceased child was entitled to be [by] inheritance must, without administration, be distributed to the other heirs at law; provided, that whenever it appears any of the persons claiming to be heirs, or claiming a right to share in said estate, are nonresidents of the United States, then a proceeding to determine their rights shall be held under the provisions and as provided for in the three preceding sections with reference to the determination of heirship.

2. Whenever all the heirs or devisees of any estate who are residents of the United States shall agree that any nonresident of the United States is a lawful heir or devisee of said estate and is lawfully entitled to share therein, said agreement may be reduced to writing and filed with the clerk of the court in the matter of said estate, and thereafter it shall not be necessary for any such nonresident heir or devisee to institute any proceedings to determine his rights of heirship.

3. The provisions of subdivision 2 shall dispense with the proceedings provided for by section 91-3801, insofar as such section relates to establishing heirship, but shall not dispense with the necessity of establishing proof of reciprocity as required in estates in which nonresident aliens are claiming as heirs, legatees and/or devisees.

4. A statement of any receipts and disbursements of the executor or administrator, since the rendition of his final accounts, must be reported and filed at the time of making such distribution; and a settlement thereof, together with an estimate of the expenses of closing the estate, must be made by the court or judge, and included in the order; or the court or judge may order notice of the settlement of such supplementary account, and refer the same as in other cases of the settlement of accounts.

Finality of Decree

In the absence of fraud, a decree of distribution made upon due notice is conclusive of the rights of heirs as against collateral attack. Harrison v. Cannon, 122 M 318, 203 P 2d 978, 980.

Where a decree of distribution was entered on an estate and no appeal was taken from such decree, an affidavit thereafter filed and recorded stating that the affiant was an heir and devisee of the will and claiming an interest in the real estate distributed, was void on its face and constituted no cloud on the title to the land. Hart v. Barron, 122 M 350, 204 P 2d 797, 805.

Fraud—Effect

Where proper notice was given of settlement of final account and petition for distribution of estate, heir or legatee could not, more than six months after settlement of final account and order for distribution of estate, have judgment set aside on ground of fraud. CHAPTER 43—PROBATE PROCEEDINGS, MISCELLANEOUS—CITATIONS —APPEALS, ETC.

91-4311. (10365) Rules of practice generally.

Operation and Effect

Civil actions in the courts of record of this state are commenced by filing a complaint under section 93-3001 and since, under the provisions of this section, the same rule is made applicable to a proceeding for the administration of the estate of a deceased person, such proceeding is commenced by the filing of the initial petition seeking judicial remedies administered by a court or judge exercising probate jurisdiction. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546, 550.

91-4313. (10367) Within what time appeal must be taken.

Operation and Effect

The provisions of this section are mandatory and jurisdictional. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 695.

Time for Taking Appeal

The notice of appeal, being jurisdictional, must be filed and served within the time prescribed and the courts cannot lawfully extend the time nor excuse a failure to comply with the statute. Where, as here, an application for a new trial is not prerequisite to review by appeal, the filing of a motion for a new trial does not have the effect of extending the statutory period prescribed for the giving of notice of appeal. Neither is such time extended by a motion for relief from the judgment on the ground of mistake, inadvertence or excusable neglect. State ex rel. Reid. v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 698.

Effect of Owner of Real Property Being a Resident of a Community Property State

Where the decedent was a resident of California and had used community property funds to purchase land in Montana, there was still an inheritance tax due on the whole of the land value in Montana when it was devised to his wife. She did not have an undivided one-half interest in the Montana land by virtue of the California community property laws, since the effect of the community property laws does not vest title in her automatically but it does enlarge her "bundle of right." (See, however, the dissenting opinion of two judges.) In re Hunter's Estate, 125 M 315, 236 P 2d 94, 99.

91-4402. Transfers in contemplation of death. When the transfer is of property made by a resident or by a nonresident when such nonresident's property is within the state, or within its jurisdiction, by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made in contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death. Every transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made within three (3) years prior to the death of the grantor, vendor or donor, of a material part of his estate, or in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, and without a fair consideration in money or money's worth shall, unless shown to the contrary be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this section, but no such transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made before such three-year period shall be treated as having been made in contemplation of death providing, however, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to have modified, amended, or repealed the provisions of section 91-4408 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment added all that part of the second sentence beginning with the words "but no such transfer * * *."

Deed in Escrow

Where deed to hotel property was deposited in escrow and the agreement required the grantee, a stranger, to pay certain specified amounts monthly for a period of three years after which he was to pay a certain amount monthly for the remainder of the lifetime of the grantor which amount was not disproportionately less than the value of the property and the grantee was to have immediate possession, make repairs and carry insurance on the property, there was not a taxable transfer of property in contemplation of death. In re Sebree's Estate, 122 M 509, 206 P 2d 553.

Determination of Whether or Not Gift is in Contemplation of Death

Generally, the test to be applied is to ascertain the dominant motive of the donor in the light of his bodily and mental condition, and "the best evidence of the decedent's state of mind at the time and the reasons for making the transfers are the statements and expressions of the decedent himself." In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 844.

Gifts Not in Contemplation of Death

Where decedent after forming a corporation for the operation of his farm transferred some of the stock to members of his family who had been working on the farm and evidence disclosed that it was because he had offered them a share in the business if they worked in it, the gifts were not in contemplation of death and were made for purposes associated with life rather than with death. In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 844.

Joint Bank Account

Where money, solely the property of one person, was deposited in a joint bank account payable either to her or the other person without consideration, and such deposit was made within three years of the death of the person, half of the account was a gift in contemplation of death and taxable under this section, and after the death of the person, the half then received by right of survivorship is taxable under section 91-4405. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989.

United States Savings Bonds

Where person with her own funds purchased Series G United States savings bonds payable to her or in the alternative to another person named on the bonds and she retained control of the bonds they were not "held in the joint names of two or more persons" within the meaning of section 91-4405, and they amounted to a transfer to take effect at or after death taxable at their full market value under this section. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989, 997.

For there to be an absolute inter vivos gift and not taxable as a transfer in contemplation of death, there must be the expiration of the presumptive period and an absence of proof to the contrary. If there is no delivery to the cotenant, the transfer is one to take effect at or after death and taxable as such. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 462.

Law Applicable

Where trust was created in the year 1915 under which certain persons were to receive portions of the trust funds on the death of settlor of the trust who died in 1945, the transfer, for inheritance tax purposes, was to be taxed at the rate in existence in 1945 and not at the rate in existence in 1915. 91-4404. Transfers under power of appointment.

Inheritance, succession, or estate tax on property covered by power of appointment as affected by location of property, or residence of parties, outside the taxing state or country. 19 ALR 2d 1415.

91-4405. Joint estates, government bonds, tenants by the entirety, joint bank accounts, and similarly held property. Whenever any property, however acquired, real or personal, tangible or intangible, including government bonds of the United States, inscribed in co-ownership form, or held in joint tenancy by two [2] or more persons, or as tenants by the entirety, or is deposited in any bank or other depositary in the joint names of two [2] or more persons and payable to the survivor or survivors of them upon the death of one of them, the right of the survivor or survivors to the immediate possession or ownership is a taxable transfer. The tax is upon the transfer of decedent's interest, one-half or other proper fraction, as evidenced by the written instrument creating the same, as though the property to which the transfer relates belonged to the joint tenants, tenants by the entirety, joint depositors, holders in co-ownership form, or persons, as tenants in common, and had been, for inheritance tax purposes, bequeathed or devised to the survivor or survivors by will, except such part thereof as may be shown to have originally belonged to the survivor and never to have belonged to the decedent. This section shall not be construed to repeal or modify the provisions of section 91-4402, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment revised the wording of this section, adding the last sentence and changing the description of the property to which the section applies, the former description being "any property, real or personal * * * held in the joint names of two or more persons, or as tenants by the entirety, or is deposited in banks or other institutions or depositaries in the joint names of two or more persons and payable to either or the survivor."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 181, L. 1951 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith, except as provided in that act.

Cross-Reference

See annotations to sec. 91-4402. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989.

Construction

The exception at the end of this section means "except such part of the decedent's fractional share of the property thus deemed to be bequeathed or devised by will as may be shown to have originally belonged to the survivor and never to have belonged to the decedent prior to the creation of the joint tenancy." In re Kuhr's Estate, 123 M 593, 220 P 2d 83, 85.

Entire Estate Property of Surviving Spouse—No Tax Due

Where property held in joint tenancy by husband and wife was purchased with the funds of the surviving husband, no inheritance tax was due on such property. In re Kuhr's Estate, 123 M 593, 220 P 2d 83, 85.

Operation and Effect

Where a husband and wife purchase land jointly and the funds come from a joint bank account to which it can be shown that the husband originally contributed all the money, one-half of the realty is considered the wife's share upon her death and it is subject to the tax imposed by this section. The fact that the consideration at some previous time came as a gift from one spouse to another is unimportant. In order for the exception in the statute to apply, it must be shown that the immediate joint tenancy originally belonged to the survivor prior to the creation of the immediate joint tenancy. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 344.

In the case of joint bank accounts where it can be shown that the money was originally furnished by the survivor and none by the decedent the account is not taxable for it comes within the exception in this section. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 345.

Where the husband and wife hold a promissory note jointly it is taxable under this section. The property so taxed is the credits or choses in action, the various promissory notes, and that property never had belonged to the survivor prior to its acquisition by the husband and wife. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 346.

In estates where the death occurred before March 1, 1951, the effective date of this section; the tax on government series E and G bonds is generally imposed by section 91-4402. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 462.

United States Savings Bonds

United States savings bonds registered jointly in the name of the decedent and one of her three children and kept in a safe deposit box in the name of the decedent and one of her children to which such daughter had access did not constitute a gift to any of the children, the possession remaining joint and the bonds were taxable. In re Brown's Estate, 122 M 451, 206 P 2d 816, 821.

Government bonds can never be held in tenancy by the entirety, because either cotenant may sell the bonds upon surrender of the bond and receive the full accrued value; while the very characteristic that distinguishes the tenancy by the entirety from other cotenancies is that neither of the cotenants alone can terminate the tenancy or sever the estate. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 461, 462.

Proceeds of life insurance policies which have matured as endowments and which are left with the insurance company at a fixed rate of interest, the principal sum payable at death, in accordance with one of the optional modes of settlement, are not exempt under the insurance exemption of this section. In re Harper's Estate, 124 M 52, 218 P 2d 927.

91-4407. Tax on clear market value—deductions. The tax so imposed shall be upon the clear market value of such property passing by any such transfer to each person, institution, association, corporation or body politic, at the rates hereinafter prescribed and only upon the excess of the exemption hereinafter granted to such person, institution, association, corporation or body politic, and in determining the clear market value of the property so passing by any such transfer the following deductions, and no other shall be allowed; debts of the decedent owing at the date of death, expenses of funeral and last illness, all Montana state, county, municipal and federal taxes, including all penalties and interest thereon, owing by decedent at the date of death, the ordinary expenses of administration, including the commissions and fees of executors and administrators and their attorneys actually allowed and paid, and federal estate taxes due or paid.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "all Montana state, county, municipal and federal taxes, including all penalties and interest thereon, owing by decedent at the date of death" for the words "all state, county and municipal taxes which are a lien against property situated in this state at the date of death."

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 5, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 7, 1957.

Construction

The words "actually allowed and paid" as used in the statute do not relate to the ordinary expenses of administration. In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 846.

Operation and Effect

This statute is clear and direct and declares no deduction shall be allowed except those specified therein. In re McAnelly's Estate, 127 M 158, 258 P 2d 741, 748.

Ordinary Expenses

While ordinarily the appraisers are the ones who fix the value of the property of an estate, where the estate consists of stock in a closely held corporation, the services of an accountant may become necessary to determine the fair market value of the stock and the cost of such services are an ordinary expense in the administration of the estate. DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Interest on Federal Estate Tax

Interest on federal estate tax is not deductible under this section since it is not mentioned. The statute is clear and direct and declares no deduction shall be allowed except those specified therein. In re McAnelly's Estate, 127 M 158, 258 P 2d 741, 748.

As to personal property of a partnership, only so much thereof as is necessary to discharge the duties imposed on the survivor passes to him and the balance of the partnership property should be divided between the surviving partners and the heirs of the deceased partner, which retains its character as tangible property and is not tax exempt. In re Perry's Estate, 121 M 280, 192 P 2d 532, 538.

91-4421. (10400.11) Payment of tax on transfer of securities by foreign representative—duty of holder of securities or assets of nonresident decedent—apportionment of deductions—information to be given board of equalization—amount of tax to be retained on delivery of assets—penalties. (1) If a foreign executor, administrator, or trustee shall assign or transfer any stocks, bonds, mortgages, or other securities, in this state, or within the jurisdiction of this state, standing in the name of a decedent or in trust for a decedent, liable to any such tax, the tax shall be paid to the treasurer of the proper county or the state treasurer on the transfer thereof; otherwise the corporation permitting such transfer shall become liable to pay such tax.

(2) No safe deposit company, bank, or other institution, person or persons, holding securities or assets of a nonresident decedent, nor any corporation organized under the laws of this state, in which a nonresident decedent held stock, bonds, mortgages, or other securities, at his decease, shall deliver or transfer the same to the executors, administrators or legal representatives of said decedent, or upon their order or request, unless notice of the time and place of such intended transfer be served upon the state board of equalization at least ten (10) days prior to the said transfer; nor shall any such safe deposit company, bank, or other institution, person or persons, nor any corporation, deliver or transfer any securities or assets of the estate of a nonresident decedent without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay any tax which may thereafter be assessed on account of the transfer of such securities or assets under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws, without an order from the proper court authorizing such transfer; and it shall be lawful for the state board of equalizating, personally or by representative, to examine said securities or assets at any time before such delivery or transfer. Failure to serve such notice or to allow such examination or to retain a sufficient portion or amount to pay such tax as herein provided, shall render said safe deposit company, trust company, bank, or other institution, person or persons, or such corporation, liable to the payment of the tax due upon said securities or assets in pursuance of the provisions of the inheritance tax laws. The state board of equalization may issue a certificate authorizing the transfer of any such stock, securities or assets whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the said board that no tax is due thereon; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions shall not apply to shares of stock in any Montana corporation held by a nonresident of Montana at the time of his death whose death occurred on or after January 30, 1945, and who was at the time of his death domiciled in any other district or state of the United States, provided reciprocal rights are granted by such district or state of domicile similar to section 91-4413, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, and in such event this subsection (2) shall not apply to the transfer of stocks, bonds, mortgages or other securities exempt from taxation under the provisions of section 91-4413, and a Montana corporation, or its agent, may transfer stocks, bonds, mortgages and other securities without any liability for the tax imposed under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws where there are reciprocal rights as set forth in section 91-4413, and in such event no application for consent to transfer such stock need be made to the state board of equalization of the state of Montana, and the corporation, or its duly authorized transfer agent may transfer such shares of stock upon its books without any such application or consent to transfer.

(3) Whenever a tax may be due from the estate, or the beneficiaries therein, of any resident or nonresident decedent upon the transfer of any property, when the property or the estate left by such decedent is partly within and partly without this state, or upon any stocks, bonds, mortgages, or other securities representing property or estate partly within and partly without this state, any beneficiary of such estate shall be entitled to deduct only his proper proportion of that portion of the total debts and expenses of administration which the gross estate in Montana or within its jurisdiction bears to the gross estate both within and without this state, but no deduction shall be made for any federal estate, inheritance, succession or transfer taxes paid to the United States. As to his Montana exemption, each beneficiary shall be entitled to deduct only that portion represented by the ratio between his interest in the property in this state or within its jurisdiction and his interest in the entire estate.

(4) The state board of equalization shall require such reports and information and shall make such orders, rules, and regulations as it may deem necessary to enable the said board to secure the necessary information from domestic corporations, and to ascertain the amount of and collect such tax; and no holding company or other corporation subject to the provisions of this section shall deliver or transfer any such stocks, bonds, mortgages, or other securities of a Montana corporation without retaining a sufficient portion thereof to pay any tax which may thereafter be assessed under the provisions of this act on account of such transfer, except upon order of the proper court or a certificate of consent of the state board of equalization.

(5) Any corporation or holding company violating the provisions of this section shall be liable to the state for the amount of the tax together with a penalty of ten per centum (10%) thereof.

91-4423. (10400.13) Jurisdiction of district court—notice to state board required before hearing. The district court of every county of the state having jurisdiction to grant letters testamentary or of administration upon the estate of a decedent whose property is chargeable with any tax under the inheritance tax laws, or to appoint a trustee of such estate or any part thereof, or to give ancillary letters thereon, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions arising under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws, and to do any act in relation thereto authorized by law to be done by a district court in other matters or proceedings coming within its jurisdiction; and if two [2] or more district courts shall be entitled to exercise any such jurisdiction, the district court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder, shall retain the same to the exclusion of every other district court.

Before any decree determining inheritance tax in any estate shall be made by the court, the court shall require proof that due notice has been given to the state board of equalization before the hearing upon the petition to have inheritance tax determined, whether such hearing be at the time of the hearing on the final account or otherwise; and the court shall likewise require proof that a copy of such petition has been given to the board not later than the time of giving the notice; and, before the time fixed in said notice, said board shall cause to be filed, with the clerk of the district court, a certificate signed by the board stating that the amount of the inheritance tax determined to be due the state of Montana as appearing in the report or petition, has been properly computed therein or, if no tax is due, such certificate shall so state; and, if the board shall object to the amount of the tax so computed, the board shall, before the time fixed for the hearing, file with the clerk of the court its written objections thereto, setting forth therein the nature of the objections. If neither such certificate nor objections shall have been filed at the time fixed for the hearing, it shall be conclusively presumed that the board concurs in the amount so computed.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment substituted the last paragraph for a paragraph which read, "Before decree of distribution in any estate shall be issued by the district judge, or the issuance of an order discharging the executor, administrator or trustee of any estate, there shall be filed with the clerk of the district court a certificate signed by the state board of equalization stating that the amount of inheritance tax determined to be due to the state of Montana, as appearing in the order of the court determining tax, has been properly computed, or if no tax is due such certificate shall so state."

91-4430. (10400.20) Notice of hearing. Notice of such hearing to determine the inheritance tax shall be given in the same manner and may be included in the notice of hearing the administration account, as provided by law. A copy of the application for exclusion of any property to avoid inheritance tax thereon shall be given with notice of hearing thereof, and notice of any such hearing shall be mailed to the state board of equalization not less than fifteen (15) days before such hearing, upon notice forms provided by said board and containing such information as it may require.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted that part of the second sentence to the first comma, substituted "and notice of any such hearing" for "Notice in writing of such hearing," increased the time from ten to fifteen days and substituted "notice forms provided by said board and containing such information as it may require" for "such blanks and containing such information as the state board of equalization may provide."

Repeal

This section (Sec. 15, Ch. 65, L. 1923; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 150, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 141, L. 1927), relating to inheritance tax on property transferred subject to any charge, estate or interest determinable by death, was repealed by Sec. 1, Ch. 100, Laws 1955.

91-4438. (10400.28) Rehearing within sixty days.

Supervisory Control

The Supreme Court was without jurisdiction in State ex rel. Blankenbaker v. District Court, 109 M 331, 96 P 2d 936 to review the record of the proceedings on its writ of supervisory control since the relatrix had a clear and adequate remedy by appeal from the judgment and order fixing the tax which she was required to pay, all duly prescribed by written law, but she failed to avail herself of such remedy and the judgment and order. Hence the opinion, decision and holding of this court in the case of State ex rel. Blankenbaker v. District Court, 109 M 331, 96 P 2d 936, are expressly disapproved and overruled. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 705.

Evidence of Value

Evidence that furniture was old and of little value may be admitted although no answer or reply was filed to controvert the verified affirmative allegations of the state since only those pleadings enumerated in the statute are necessary. In re Sebree's Estate, 122 M 509, 206 P 2d 553, 555.

CHAPTER 45—GUARDIAN AND WARD

91-4509. (5876) Guardian of property of nonresident person, etc.

Failure to Appoint Attorney for Minor

Fact that no attorneys were appointed to represent minors in proceeding for sale of real estate by administrator of estate did not affect the validity of the proceedings under section 91-4316. Haugan v. Yale Oil Corp., 124 M 1, 217 P 2d 1084, 1087.

91-4515. (5878) Rules of awarding custody of minors.

Operation and Effect

On a hearing of a modification of a decree which awarded the father custody of the minor child, the trial court did not abuse his discretion in denying the motion to modify the decree. While there has been a change of condition surrounding the mother since she has since remarried and maintains a home there was no showing that the father has not taken good care of the infant and there is evidence that the mother hasn't visited the child for some time. Barham v. Barham, 127 M 216, 259 P 2d 805. (See, however, dissenting opinion, 127 M 216, 259 P 2d 805, 807.)

Note to Guardian Individually

Where guardian made loan of guardianship funds and after the running of the statute of limitations a note was made payable to the guardian individually and not in his capacity as guardian, such note nevertheless revived the debt for the benefit of the wards. CHAPTER 47—GUARDIANS OF INSANE AND INCOMPETENT PERSONS

Section 91-4704. Petition for restoration to capacity.

91-4701. (10412) Guardians of insane and other incompetent persons.

Notice

Court is without authority to appoint a guardian of the person and estate without service of a notice of the time and place of the hearing of the guardianship petition, and a guardian appointed without such notice is a guardian de facto. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629, 632.

91-4704. (10415) Petition for restoration to capacity. A person who has been declared insane or incompetent, or the guardian, or any relative of such person within the third degree, or any friend, may apply, by petition, to the district court of the county in which he was declared insane, to have the fact of his restoration to capacity judicially determined. The petition shall be verified, and shall state that such person is then sane or competent. Upon receiving the petition, the court or judge must appoint a day for a hearing before the court, and, if the petitioner request it, shall order an investigation before a jury, which shall be summoned and impaneled in the same manner as juries are summoned and impaneled in civil actions. The court or judge shall cause notice of the trial to be given to the guardian of a person so declared insane or incompetent, if there be a guardian, and to his or her husband or wife, if there be one, and to his or her father or mother, if living in the county, and to the superintendent of Montana state hospital in all cases in which the petitioner is on parole from said hospital. On the trial, the guardian or relative of the person declared insane or incompetent, the superintendent of Montana state hospital, and, in the discretion of the court or judge, any other person, may contest the right to the relief demanded. Witnesses may be required to appear and testify, as in civil cases, and may be called and examined by the court or judge on its or his own motion. If it be found that the person be of sound mind, and capable of taking care of himself and his property, his restoration to capacity shall be adjudged, and the guardianship of such person, if such person shall be not a minor, shall cease. The clerk of the court by which such petition is determined shall mail a copy of the order determining the same to the superintendent of Montana state hospital.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment added the words "and to the superintendent of Montana state hospital in all cases in which the petitioner is on parole from said hospital" at the end of the fourth sentence; inserted the words "the superintendent of Montana state hospital" in the fifth sentence; inserted the words "or his" appearing after the words "court or judge on its" in the sixth sentence and added the last sentence.

91-4818. Commitment to veterans' administration or other agency of United States government.

(1) and (2). * * * [Subdivisions (1) and (2), same as parent volume.]

(3) Upon receipt of a certificate of the veterans' administration or such other agency of the United States that facilities are available for the care or treatment of any person heretofore or hereafter committed to any hospital for the insane or other institution for the care or treatment of persons similarly afflicted and that such person is eligible for care or treatment, the superintendent of the institution may cause the transfer of such person to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States for care or treatment. Upon effecting any such transfer, the committing court or proper officer thereof shall be notified thereof by the transferring agency. No person shall be transferred to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States if he be confined pursuant to conviction of any felony or misdemeanor or if he has been acquitted of the charge solely on the ground of insanity, unless prior to transfer the court or other authority originally committing such person shall enter an order for such transfer after appropriate motion and hearing.

Any person transferred as provided in this section shall be deemed to be committed to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States pursuant to the original commitment.

Section 91-4911. Procedure to mortgage, lease or grant right of way.

Release of Debt

Where defendant was indebted to a guardianship estate a release executed by the guardian without authorization of the court would not bind the wards after they attained their majority. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 378.

91-4903. (10419) Guardian to manage his estate, maintain ward, etc.

Management of Estate

Guardian is not responsible for loss sustained by holding cattle which were in poor shape for two years in order to obtain better marketing conditions, since the failure of the cattle to improve was due to severe winters and dry summers. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629.

Note to Guardian Individually

Where guardian made loan of guardianship funds and after the running of the statute of limitations a note was made payable to the guardian individually and not in his capacity as guardian, such note nevertheless revived the debt for the benefit of the wards. Operation and Effect

Where one co-guardian filed a final account and the other co-guardian appeared at the hearing and produced his records and filed an affidavit stating that the material portions of the final account as filed by the other co-guardian were correct, the procedure followed was sufficient to authorize the court to accept and approve the documents as a joint final account. Guardianship of Reid, 128 M 197, 271 P 2d 1031, 1036.

91-4909. (10425) Expenses and compensation of guardians.

Attorney's Fees

This section allows the guardian his reasonable expenses incurred in the execution of the trust and attorney's fees are of that character. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629, 636.

De Facto Guardian

A de facto guardian is entitled to a just and reasonable compensation for his services to be fixed in the sound discretion of the court. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629, 636.

91-4911. (10427) Procedure to mortgage, lease or grant right of way. To obtain an order to mortgage, lease such real estate, or grant a right of way, the proceedings to be taken and the effect thereof must be as follows:

1. The guardian, or any person interested in the estate of the ward, shall file a verified petition showing, in the case of an application to mortgage real property, the following matters: the particular purpose or purposes for which it is proposed to make the mortgage, which shall be either to pay the debts, costs and charges of maintenance, charges of administration, or to pay, reduce, extend, or renew some lien or mortgage already subsisting on said realty, or some part thereof, or for the purpose of benefitting or improving the real estate of the ward; a statement of such debts, charges, costs of administration, or liens or mortgages to be paid, reduced, extended, or renewed, or the purpose and advisability of improving the real estate, as the case may be; the advantage that may accrue to the state from raising money, the amount proposed to be raised, together with the general description of the property proposed to be mortgaged, and the names of the ward and next of kin, if any, so far as known to the petitioner. In the case of an application to lease or grant an easement for right of way, including an application to make an oil and gas lease, said petitioner shall show the advantage that may accrue to the estate from giving the lease an easement for right of way; a general description of the property proposed to be leased or the easement for right of way to be granted; the terms, rental and general conditions of the proposed lease or right of way to be granted; and the names of the ward and next of kin, so far as known to the petitioner.

2. Thereafter the same procedure shall be had in all respects as is provided by the laws of Montana relating to the mortgaging or leasing of the real estate of a decedent, and the following sections are hereby expressly made applicable to the mortgaging or leasing of a ward's property by a guardian: section 91-3101, sections 91-3103 to 91-3109, inclusive.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment inserted all references to the granting of a right of way or easement therefor; authorized the making of oil and gas leases, and substituted the reference to 91-3103 to 91-3109, inclusive for 91-3103 to 91-3107 and 91-3109.

Noncompliance with Law

Although guardian did not comply with the procedure outlined in the leasing of the ward's land, he will not be penalized when there is no showing of any loss or detriment to the estate by reason of such noncompliance. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629, 635.

CHAPTER 1—INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD—CREATION AND POWERS

Section 92-104. Industrial accident board—compensation—terms and salaries.
92-116. Expenses to be paid from what fund.

92-104. (2819) Industrial accident board—compensation—terms and salaries. There is hereby created a board to consist of three (3) members. The commissioner of labor and industry shall be one member, the commissioner of agriculture shall be one member, and one member shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate. The board shall be known as the Industrial Accident Board and shall have the powers, duties, and functions hereinafter conferred. The term of office of the appointed member of the board shall be four (4) years and until his successor shall have been appointed and confirmed. He shall receive an annual salary of seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00), payable monthly and shall be chairman of the board. The board shall elect one of their own number as treasurer of the board; provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not be applicable to the chairman of the board until the expiration of term of the present chairman of said board.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 96, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 95, L. 1919; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 254, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 2819, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 161, L. 1953.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment completely rewrote this section. Prior to amendment it read: "There is hereby created a board to consist of three members; the commissioner of agriculture, labor, and industry shall be one member; the state auditor shall be one member, and one member shall be appointed by the governor, which board shall be known as the industrial accident board, and shall have the powers, duties, and functions hereinafter conferred. The term of office of the appointed member of the board shall be for four years and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, payable monthly, and shall be chairman of the board. The board shall elect one of their number as treasurer of the board."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 161, Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 161, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 3, 1953.

Appointment of Governor

Prior to the enactment of chapter 161, Laws of 1953 an appointment by the governor to the board was effective at once by the governor's act alone. By chapter 161 is added the condition that an appointment to the board by the governor is neither complete nor effective until the consent of the senate has been given. State v. Swanberg, — M —, 299 P 2d 446, 448.

An appointment made by the governor on May 1, 1955, which was during a time when the senate was not in session was not effective since it was not with the consent of the senate. The incumbent would continue to hold the office. Section 7, article 7 of the Constitution, which authorizes the governor to make recess appointments when a vacancy occurs has reference only to such vacancies which leave the office without anyone to discharge the duties and does not apply to a case where the incumbent holds until his successor is elected or appointed and qualified and is discharging the duties of his office. State v. Swanberg, — M —, 299 P 2d 446, 448.

Construction

Chapter 161, Laws of 1953 did not create a new board nor a new office but preserved intact the old board which had functioned as such since 1915 but provided for a change only in the personnel of the board, and of the conditions laid down under which the governor might appoint to that board. 92-116. (2831) Expenses to be paid from what fund. The industrial administration fund provided by section 92-837 shall consist of the following:

(1) All fees provided in section 92-119, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(2) All assessments paid to the board by employers who elect to become bound by Plan No. 1 of this act;

(3) All assessments paid to the board by insurers who insure employers under Plan No. 2 of the act;

(4) All fees paid for inspection of boilers and issuance of licenses to operating engineers as required by law;

(5) All assessments levied against the industrial insurance fund as provided by this act.

Said fund shall be divided into two (2) accounts, to be known, respectively, as the general account and the industrial insurance fund account. The general account shall be credited with all of the assessments and fees described in items (1), (2), (3) and (4) above. The assessments described in item (5) above shall be allocated between and credited to, the general account and the industrial insurance fund account, respectively, in the manner and proportions hereinafter provided. The general account shall be debited with expenses incurred by the board in the general administration of the provisions of this act, including the salaries of its members, officers and employees, and the actual and necessary traveling expenses and disbursements of such members, officers and employees, incurred while on the business of the board either within or without the state, other than any such salaries, disbursements and expenses, or portions thereof, incurred in the operation or administration of the industrial insurance fund. The industrial insurance fund account shall be debited with all expenses, disbursements and salaries which are incurred in the administration or operation of the industrial insurance fund, including a portion of the salaries of the members of the board and its officers and employees, commensurate to the time spent by them on the business of such fund, and also the cost of inspections and examinations of places of employment covered under Plan No. 3. The funds in each of said accounts shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein described with respect to each such account, and any balance remaining in either of said accounts shall not be transferred to the other. Disbursements from the industrial administration fund shall be made after being approved by the board upon claim therefor to be audited and approved by the state board of examiners.

At the beginning of each fiscal year the board shall levy against the industrial insurance fund an assessment in an amount not exceeding ten per cent (10%) of the gross annual direct premium income of the said industrial insurance fund for the previous fiscal year, less return premiums, and said assessment shall be paid forthwith by the treasurer into the industrial administration fund. The amount of said assessment shall be allocated and credited as follows, to-wit: Sixty-two per cent (62%) thereof to the said industrial insurance fund account, and the balance thereof to the said general account.

"Dependent"

Dependency does not mean absolute dependency for the necessities of life, but rather that the applicant looked to and relied on the contributions of the workman, in whole or in part, as a means of support and maintenance, and a person may be a dependent although able to maintain himself without any aid from the contributor. Thus, where the decedent had agreed to contribute $40 per week to his parents, they were fully and reasonably justified in looking to and relying on these contributions as a means of support and constitutes them dependents within the statute. 92-418. (2870) Injury or injured defined.

Disease Aggravated or Accelerated by Accident

The rule that the employer takes the employee as he finds him is well established. The fact that an employee was suffering from a pre-existing disease or disability does not preclude compensation if the disease or disability was aggravated or accelerated by an industrial injury which arose out of and in the course of the employment. Gaffney v. Industrial Accident Board, — M —, 287 P 2d 256, 259.

"Fortuitous" Defined

The word "fortuitous" means happening by chance or accident; coming or occurring unexpectedly or without known cause; and is synonymous with "industrial accident." Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, — M —, 283 P 2d 966, 969.

Heart Failure as an Industrial Accident

Heart failure brought about by unusual stress and strain in employment amounts to an industrial accident for which an award of compensation should be made. Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, — M —, 283 P 2d 966, 969.

CHAPTER 6—CLAIMS—LIABILITY FOR INJURY UNDER DIFFERENT PLANS OF ACT

92-601. (2899) Claims must be presented within what time.

Equitable Estoppel

Where employee did not file his written claim for compensation within 12 months from the date of the happening of the accident because he was not examined thoroughly during that time, although he repeatedly asked that X-Rays be given, the doctrine of equitable estoppel should apply, and the employee should receive his compensation. McCoy v. Mike Horse Mining & Milling Co., 126 M 435, 252 P 2d 1036, 1039.

The doctrine of equitable estoppel is a flexible one, founded in equity and good conscience; its object is to prevent a party from taking an unconscionable advantage of his own wrong while asserting his strict legal rights. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, — M —, 280 P 2d 1086, 1090.

Equitable estoppel may prevent a defendant from contending that a claim was not filed in time. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, — M —, 280 P 2d 1086.

Under the facts of the case the employee's failure to file his claim within the statutory time should not operate to bar his claim, since his failure was brought about by the direct intervention of the employer's agents. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, — M —, 280 P 2d 1086.

Aggravation or Acceleration of Disease

The rule that the employer takes the employee as he finds him is well established. The fact that an employee was suffering from a pre-existing disease or disability does not preclude compensation if the disease or disability was aggravated or accelerated by an industrial injury which arose out of and in the course of the employment. Gaffney v. Industrial Accident Board, — M —, 287 P 2d 256, 259.

Decision of Board—Presumption

Where a decision of the board as to whether an accident arose out of or in the course of the employment involved the consideration of conflicting evidence as to essential facts or the deduction of permissible but diverse inferences therefrom, its solution of such conflict is presumed to be correct, and the burden of proof is upon the party attacking it to show they were erroneous. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

Heart Failure

Heart failure may be classified as an industrial accident where it is brought about by unusual stress and strain in employment. Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, — M —, 283 P 2d 966, 969.

Injury Arising Out of and in the Course of Employment

If act resulting in injury is incidental to the employment, the fact that it was done during the lunch period does not prevent the award of compensation. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

Injuries sustained after the completion of the regular work by an employee subject to call may in a proper case be compensable as an injury arising out of and in the course of employment. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

Where employees of defendant were permitted to play handball in garage and had played such game daily during their lunch hour for a period of about three months, and employees were required to eat their lunches on the premises so as to be there if a call came, and only employees participated in the game, an injury caused when an employee, while jumping for the ball, accidentally struck another breaking his glasses, was sufficiently incidental to the employment to have arisen out of and in the course of his employment. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

No exact formula can be laid down which will automatically solve every case involving the question whether an accident arises out of and in the course of the employment, but each case must depend upon its particular facts and circumstances. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

The 1951 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $1.50.

The 1953 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $3.00.

Construction

The clause in this section "not exceeding however, the maximum compensation allowed in cases of total disability, and not exceeding the total compensation provided in this act for the total loss of the member causing such partial disability" has reference only to the total weekly compensation. It has nothing to do with the length of time the award must be paid. Spieth v. Stuart, — M —, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Under this section a claimant must show loss of earnings, while under section 92-709 he is entitled to an arbitrary sum—a percentage of his salary—as compensation for the loss of the member regardless of loss of earning or earning capacity. Construing this section and section 92-709 most favorably to the workman, he may take his choice by proceeding under this section and prove loss of earnings, or he may proceed under section 92-709 and obtain the arbitrary amount. Spieth v. Stuart, — M —, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Compiler's Note

Section 8 of Ch. 38, L. 1953 is compiled as section 92-823.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment raised the maximum amount allowed for treatment from $500 to $1,000 and substituted the words "be required every five (5) years, if necessary" at the end of the section for "not be required unless made necessary by a subsequent industrial accident arising out of and suffered in the course of employment."

The 1953 amendment increased from 9 to 12 months the period for which hospital and medical services be rendered and increased the maximum sum for such services from $1,000 to $1,500; substituted the word "and" for "or" appearing between the words "hospital" and "medical facilities" in the third paragraph; increased the maximum amount payable for artificial members as follows: "Hand or arm to elbow" from $150.00 to $250.00, "Arm above elbow" from $175.00 to $300.00, "Foot or leg" from $150.00 to $250.00, "Eye" from $10.00 to $25.00 and "teeth" from $125.00 to $175.00.

The 1955 amendment increased from 12 to 18 months the period for which hospital and medical services be rendered; raised the maximum sum for such services from $1500 to $2500 and added the proviso allowing for additional hospital expenses of $1,000 in cases of total disability.

The 1957 amendment in the second paragraph increased from 18 to 36 months the period for which hospital and medical services be rendered and in the proviso substituted "an additional amount for such additional hospital and medical expenses as in special cases it may deem proper" for "an additional amount up to one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for such additional hospital expenses"; in the fourth paragraph deleted former provisions concerning maximum amount payable for artificial members which read "The expense of furnishing any such member shall not exceed the following amounts: Hand or arm to elbow—two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). Arm above elbow—three hundred dollars ($300.00). Foot or leg—two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). Eye—twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Teeth—one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175.00)" and in the last sentence inserted the words "unless the board shall determine a replacement is needed within a shorter period."

Repealing Clauses

Section 7 of Ch. 7, L. 1949 and Sec. 6 of Ch. 48, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 8 of Ch. 7, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 3, 1949.

Construction

Under this section a claimant is entitled to an arbitrary sum—a percentage of his salary—as compensation for the loss of the member regardless of loss of earning or earning capacity, while under section 92-703 a claimant must show loss of earnings. Construing this section and section 92-703 most favorable to the workman, he may take his choice by proceeding under section 92-703 and prove loss of earnings, or he may proceed under this section and receive an arbitrary amount. Spieth v. Stuart, — M —, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Operation and Effect

Where there was proof of a limitation of muscular movement to the extent of forty or fifty per cent, but no proof of the inability to obtain employment or how or in what manner the claimant's ability to earn had been in anywise reduced because of the injuries, the trial court was correct in denying the claimant compensation since the loss of earning power as the result of an injury is not necessarily proportional to the bodily functional disability. Shaffer v. Midland Empire Packing Co., 127 M 211, 259 P 2d 340, 342.

The test is not whether there has been a loss of earnings or income caused by the injury, but rather has there been a loss of earning capacity—a loss of ability to earn in the open labor market. Shaffer v. Midland Empire Packing Co., 127 M 211, 259 P 2d 340, 342.

92-709A. Permanent and total disability created by a second injury—second injury fund. (1) If an employee who has previously lost, or lost the use of, one [1] hand, one [1] arm, one [1] foot, one [1] leg, or one [1] eye, from any cause or origin and irrespective of compensability becomes permanently and totally disabled through the loss, or loss of use, of another such member or organ, the employer, insurance carrier, or industrial accident fund, as the case may be, shall be liable only for the compensation payable for such second loss; provided, that in addition to such compensation and after the completion of the payments therefor, the employee shall be paid the remainder of the compensation that would be due for permanent total disability, out of a special fund known as the "Second-Injury Fund," and created for such purpose in the following manner:

In every case of the death of an employee under this act, where there is no person entitled to compensation, the employer if under Plan I, or his insurance carrier if under Plan II, or the industrial accident fund if under Plan III, shall pay to the second injury fund of the industrial accident board the sum of five hundred and no/100 ($500.00) dollars to be deposited for the benefit of said fund, and the board shall direct the distribution thereof.

When in the judgment of the industrial accident board, the amount of money in the second injury fund is such that there is a surplus above and beyond known liabilities, the board may in its discretion suspend or decrease further collection of assessments for a period of time to be determined by the board but in no event to exceed one [1] calendar year.

(2) There is hereby appropriated from moneys in the industrial accident fund the sum of twenty thousand and no/100 ($20,000.00) dollars to immediately create said second injury fund and to pay the compensation provided for in this act. When in the judgment of the industrial accident board, the contributions to the second injury fund so warrant, the board shall direct the reimbursement of the industrial accident fund out of said second injury fund. In addition to the reimbursement hereinabove directed to be made, the board shall cause to be paid to the industrial accident fund from said second injury fund, when contributions thereto so warrant, interest at the rate of 3% per annum upon said sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) hereinabove appropriated or upon such portion thereof as may from time to time remain in said second injury fund.

Title of Act

An act to amend that portion of the Workmen's Compensation Act contained in chapter 7 of Volume 6 of the Revised Codes of Montana of 1947 by adding thereto a new section to be known as section 92-709A; encouraging the employment of disabled veterans and other disabled persons; providing for payment of workmen's compensation for a second injury; creating a second injury fund in the industrial accident board through payments from employers, insurers, and the industrial accident fund; appropriating twenty thousand and no/100 ($20,000.00) dollars from the industrial accident fund for the purposes of this act and providing for the repayment thereof.

Pleading aggravation of a preexisting physical condition in workmen's compensation cases. 32 ALR 2d 1459.

92-712. (2923) Adjustment of compensation in case of further injuries.

Construction

The fact that a man has once received compensation, as for example where he has previously received 250 weeks or half the statutory amount does not mean that forever after he is in the eyes of the compensation laws but half a man, so that he can never again receive a compensation award going beyond the other fifty per cent of total. After having received his prior payments, he may, in future years, be physically able to and does resume full gainful employment for several years, and if he does, there is no reason or logic why a disability from an unscheduled industrial accidental injury, which would bring anyone else total permanent disability benefits, should yield him only half as much. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709, 712.

The limitation affixed to unscheduled injuries applies only to the particular injury which results from a particular accident. Any other interpretation would be discriminatory as between a person having a prior industrial accidental injury and another person who had the same kind of an injury outside of industry; when both thereafter had an unscheduled industrial accidental injury, the former would have his prior payments deducted while the latter would receive full payment. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709, 712.

Worker, who suffered a prior industrial accident several years before to a different segment of his body and drew compensation for several months for that injury but at the time of his present injury he was not receiving compensation for the prior injury nor were the prior payments commuted or paid in a lump sum, would not have that compensation deducted from the claim under the present injury. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709.

92-715. (2926) Monthly payments converted into a lump sum. The monthly payments provided for in this act may be converted, in whole or in part, into a lump sum payment, which lump sum payment shall not exceed the estimated value of the present worth of the deferred payments capitalized at the rate of two per centum (2%) per annum. Such conversion can only be made upon the written application of the injured workman, his beneficiary, or major or minor dependents, as the case may be, and shall rest in the discretion of the board, both as to the amount of such lump sum payment and the advisability of such conversion. The board is hereby vested with full power, authority, and jurisdiction to compromise claims and to approve compromises of claims under this act; and all settlements and compromises of compensation provided in this act shall be absolutely null and void without the approval of the board. Any approval of the board must be in writing and set forth specifically the reasons for such lump sum or compromise payment.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment reduced the rate of capitalization provided for in the first sentence from 5% to 2%.

The 1957 amendment added the last sentence.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 225, L. 1951 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 225, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 5, 1951.

Operation and Effect

Where the evidence before the district court was ample to sustain that court's judgment that the claimant should be awarded total disability rating and that a lump sum award and payment be made to him, such judgment will be affirmed. Kustudia v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 115, 258 P 2d 965, 970.

The legislature evidently intended in the enactment of the Workmen's Compensation Act that the monthly payments should be the rule and lump sum settlements the exception. The various purposes of the method of periodical payments, is as far as possible, to preclude the possibility of an improvident claimant or dependent wasting the means of support and thereby becoming a burden upon the public; and also that the result of the industrial accident may be better appraised during the periodic payments. Moffett v. Industrial Accident Board, — M —, 301 P 2d 340.

92-814.1. Requiring claimant to submit to examination — report of physician—cost. In the event of a dispute concerning the physical condition of a claimant, or the cause or causes of his injury or disability, if any, the board, at the request of the claimant, employer or insurer, as the case may be, shall require the claimant to submit to such examination as it may deem desirable by a physician or physicians within the state of Montana or elsewhere who have had adequate and substantial experience in the particular field of medicine concerned with the matters presented by the dispute. The physician making such examination shall file a written report of his findings with the board for its use in the determination of the controversy involved. 92-821. (2947) Jurisdiction of board to hear disputes and controversies.

Attack on Decision—Burden of Proof

Where the decisions of the board and court involve the consideration of conflicting evidence as to essential facts or the deduction of permissible but diverse inferences therefrom, their solutions of such conflict are presumed to be correct, and the burden of proof is upon the party attacking them to show that they were erroneous. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

92-823. (2949) Time for filing—final findings and awards. The board shall hold the initial hearing to determine any dispute or controversy arising under this act within ninety (90) days from the date on which such disputed claim was filed with the board. After a final hearing by the board, it shall within thirty (30) days, make and file its findings upon all facts involved in the controversy, and its award, which shall state its determination as to the right of the parties.

Appeal Time Provisions Mandatory and Jurisdictional

The appeal time provisions of this section are mandatory and jurisdictional; thus, where an application for a rehearing was denied, and appeal to the district court was not made until 36 days after the application for rehearing was denied and 28 days after notice of such order and decision of the board was received, the district court was without jurisdiction to entertain the appeal. State ex rel. Albrecht v. District Court, 126 M 178, 246 P 2d 1035, 1036, 1037.

Appeal to Supreme Court

Where the evidence before the district court was ample to sustain that court's judgment, such judgment will be affirmed. Although full credit and effect are given to the findings made by the board the court will uphold the judgment of the district court, if the conclusions of law reached by the board are not correct. Kustudia v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 115, 258 P 2d 965, 970.

Operation and Effect

Where claimant appealed from the decision of the industrial accident board and then dismissed such appeal without prejudice in order to present a motion for a rehearing as contemplated by this section, there was no waiver of his right of appeal. Spieth v. Stuart, — M —, 299 P 2d 106, 110.

Accidents Occurring Outside of State

Employees who are resident citizens of the state, employed and paid in Montana through the only office of their employer, a Montana corporation, are entitled to the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Laws of Montana although they were injured in another state. State v. Industrial Accident Board, — M —, 300 P 2d 954. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 300 P 2d 954, 963.)

Operation and Effect

The court cannot under the guise of liberal interpretation, disregard plain provisions of the statute, but when it is open to more than one interpretation, one favorable to the employee and the other against him, the court must give it the construction most favorable to the injured workman. The board in fixing rates shall provide for the expenses of administering the fund allowed by law, the disbursements on account of injuries and deaths of employees in each class, an adequate catastrophe reserve, re-

The industrial accident board is hereby authorized in its discretion to cancel an employer's right to operate under plan No. 3 of the workmen's compensation act for failure to pay the premiums due the industrial insurance fund; provided that when the industrial accident board makes an order cancelling an employer's right for failure to pay premiums to the industrial insurance fund it shall be the duty of the industrial accident board to make such order at least thirty (30) days before the cancellation becomes effective and to send a formal notice to the sheriff or sheriffs of the county or counties where the employer is operating, and it shall be the duty of the said sheriff or sheriffs to post a notice in at least three (3) conspicuous places where the workmen can readily see said notices, to the effect that the industrial accident board has cancelled the right of the said employer to operate under the act; and said notice shall give the date of the effectiveness of said order. In an equity case, where no cause appears why a new trial or the taking of further evidence should be ordered, it is the court's duty to finally determine the same. Fey v. A. A. Oil Corporation, — M —, 285 P 2d 578, 589.

Equity Cases

Under this section the Supreme Court is authorized in reviewing the decrees in equity cases, where all of the facts were presented on an appeal and showed that the cause was ripe for an ultimate decision, to make such disposition of the case as the court below ought to have made; the reluctance of an occasional judge to abide by and apply the foregoing mandates of the legislature neither repeals nor changes the statute. Bond v. Birk, 126 M 250, 247 P 2d 199, 205, 206.

Examination of Evidence in Equity Proceedings and Disposition of Cases

In equity cases Supreme Court has right to make independent findings of fact after a review of all evidence, but if there is in the record substantial evidence supporting the findings of the trial court Supreme Court will not interfere with those findings. Sanders v. Sanders, 124 M 595, 229 P 2d 164. (The court was evenly divided on this point, see dissenting opinion.)

Function of Supreme Court as to Questions of Fact

In an equity case on appeal the court reviews all questions of fact arising upon the evidence presented and determined such questions of fact as well as the questions of law, unless for good cause, a new trial or the taking of further evidence is ordered in the court below. Hart v. Barron, 122 M 350, 204 P 2d 797, 804.

Operation and Effect

Under the power granted to the Supreme Court by this section, the court may direct that a proper judgment be entered in any case. Thus in a quiet title action, where the lower court found that at the time of the commencement of the action the plaintiff was in ownership, but the judgment states that since the filing of the complaint and at all times thereto the plaintiff was in ownership, the judgment is modified to conform with the findings. Warren v. Warren, 127 M 259, 261 P 2d 364, 366.

93-219. Judge becoming candidate for elective office—resigning of supreme court office—exceptions—vacancy. Whenever any person holding or occupying the office of chief justice or associate justice on the supreme court of the state of Montana shall become a candidate for election to any elective office under the laws of/or in the state of Montana, such person shall forthwith, and in any event at or before the time required for such person to file as a candidate for such office at any primary or special or general election, resign said office of chief justice or associate justice of said supreme court except where such person is a bona fide candidate for re-election to the identical office then held or occupied by him or for another nonpartisan judicial office the term of which shall commence not earlier than the end of the term of the office then held or occupied by such justice and said resignation shall become effective forthwith on delivery of the same to the proper officer or superior, and in the event of failure so to resign said office of chief justice or associate justice of said supreme court or of district judge of any of said district courts the same shall, ipso facto, become wholly vacant and unoccupied and the said former holder or occupant shall have no further right, power, or authority therein for any purpose, and no right to any emoluments thereof, notwithstanding the fact that a successor is not appointed or elected; and said vacancy shall become operative to deprive any person of the emoluments of said office then held in order to carry out the policy of this act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 139, L. 1957.

Title of Act

An act providing that any justice of the supreme court of the state of Montana who becomes a candidate for any elective office except as a bona fide candidate for re-election to the office then occupied by such justice shall at or before filing for said elective office as required by law resign the office then held; providing that the office of any said justice of the said supreme court failing to so resign shall become vacant; giving directions with reference to the filling of such vacancy and for the repeal of any and all acts, statutes or code provisions in conflict therewith; and providing for an effective date.

93-220. Filling vacancy. In all cases the proper appointing or other power shall promptly fill all vacancies occurring because of the provisions of this act by appointment of competent and qualified persons according to law.

93-302. Appointment and election of judge. That on or before July 1, 1957, the governor of this state shall designate and appoint a judge of the said eleventh judicial district who shall hold office until the general election to be held during the year 1958, and until his successor is elected and qualified. The judge elected at the general election during the year 1958 shall hold office until his successor has been elected and qualified at the presidential general election to be held during the year 1960.

Amendments

The 1955 amendment in the first paragraph deleted the word "thirteenth" from the list of districts having two judges each and inserted the words "in the thirteenth, three judges and," and added the second paragraph.

The 1957 amendment in the first paragraph added "eleventh" to the list of districts having two judges each and in the second paragraph inserted the words "and election" to the heading of said paragraph, substituted "eleventh" for "thirteenth," "general election to be held during the year 1958" for "next general election" and added the second sentence.

93-303. (8814) Salaries of district judges. The annual salary of each district judge shall be nine thousand dollars ($9,000.00).

Section 3 of Ch. 247, Laws 1955 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 11, 1955.

93-305. (8816) Expenses when sitting out of district, or attending judges' conference. Every judge who shall sit in the place of another judge in the trial or hearing of an action or proceeding in a district other than his own, or in the supreme court, or who shall attend a conference of judges in Helena called by the chief justice of the supreme court, shall be paid his actual expenses while engaged in that service as follows: His actual traveling expenses in going from the county seat which he makes his place of residence to the place of trial, or conference, and return, and his board and lodging while engaged in the trial, hearing, or conference.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 3, L. 1907; Sec. 293, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8816, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 15, L. 1953.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment added the provisions in this section relating to a conference of judges.

48 C.J.S. Judges § 36.

93-309. (8820) Vacancies.

Retirement

Retirement of a district judge under the provisions of sections 68-101 to 68-1313 creates a vacancy which must be filled by the governor. State ex rel. Jardine v. Ford, 120 M 507, 188 P 2d 422, 425.

93-310. (8821) District courts by judges of other counties.

Authority of Judge

This section and section 93-2906 give a judge called in under the provisions of section 93-901 the authority to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 for the remainder of the term under the provisions of section 93-1510. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

93-312. (8823) Governor may require judge to hold court, etc.

Authority of Governor

Where there is a duly qualified and acting judge in district governor is without power to order judges of other district into various counties of his district to assume judicial powers in such county. State ex rel. Bennett v. Bonner, 123 M 414, 214 P 2d 747.

This section does not empower the governor to exclude or remove from office the duly elected qualified and acting judge of a judicial district. State ex rel. Bennett v. Bonner, 123 M 414, 214 P 2d 747.

Judge Declining to Perform Duties

If a judge declines to properly perform his official duties, relief must be had from the supreme court rather than from the executive power of the state. State ex rel. Bennett v. Bonner, 123 M 414, 214 P 2d 747.

93-314. (8825) Itemized statements—verification—filing. On the first of each month, or within three (3) days thereafter, such district judge, who may desire to avail himself of the provisions of this act, shall make out an itemized claim against the state of Montana, showing, with dates and particulars, all moneys by him, within the preceding month, paid out and expended for and on account of such expenses; and shall verify such claim by making thereon or appending thereto his sworn affidavit that the items of the claim are true and correct, and are wholly unpaid, and that the expenditures therein enumerated were actually and necessarily made in the discharge of official business while away from home. He shall then file such claim with the clerk of the state board of examiners. At the first meeting of the board thereafter, the state board of examiners shall allow such claim, if properly verified, as above provided, and order a warrant drawn in payment thereof, and the state auditor shall thereupon, and in pursuance thereof, draw and issue a warrant of the state of Montana in payment of such claim, and forward the same to the claimant and take a receipt therefor.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 91, L. 1911; reen. Sec. 8825, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 67, L. 1951.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment substituted "On the first of each month" for "Twice a year, on the first days of January and July of each year" and substituted "within the preceding month" for "within the last preceding six months."

93-315. (8826) Terms of court.

Terms—Effect on Grand Jury

Although district court is always open and each term continues until the succeeding term, the terms as fixed by the court limit the existence of the grand jury, the beginning of each term constituting a "final adjournment" of the preceding term within the meaning of section 94-6314. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

93-321. (8832) Terms and departments of court, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where a criminal case was assigned an odd number and under the rules in force under this section for the district court of the first judicial district, all civil and criminal cases bearing an odd number shall be assigned to department one of said court, it was not within the authority of the judge of department two to rule on a motion to suppress certain evidence and such proceedings under department two were void. State ex rel. Magnuson v. District Court, 125 M 79, 231 P 2d 941, 942, 944.

Failure to Object to Proceedings

By failure to interpose timely objection or by consenting to proceed with the case a party waives his right to object to proceedings conducted on a holiday. Miller v. Emerson, 120 M 380, 186 P 2d 220, 222.

CHAPTER 9—DISQUALIFICATION OF JUDICIAL OFFICERS

93-901. (8868) Cases in which judge may be disqualified, etc.

Affidavit of Disqualification by Attorney

When an attorney makes the affidavit of disqualification for bias he should make it on his own belief that his client cannot have a fair trial. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

Application of Section

The provisions of subd. 4 of this section apply not only to ordinary law suits but to any "action, motion or proceeding" including proceedings for the establishment of an irrigation district. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 256.

Where a judge in a probate proceeding is disqualified for imputed bias and prejudice under this section, the procedure for calling in another judge is under this section and not under section 91-2001 which has no application when the disqualification is for imputed bias and prejudice. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1078.

Authority of Called Judge

A judge called in under the provisions of this section has the right under the provisions of section 93-1510 to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Authority of Disqualified Judge

Upon the filing of the affidavit under subd. 4, the judge as to whom such disqualification is averred is without authority to act further in the action, motion or proceeding except as the doing of purely ministerial act of arranging the calendar, regulating the order of business, calling in another judge, or transferring the case if transfer is proper. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 244; State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 455.

Where the regularly presiding judge was disqualified and thereafter the second judge was disqualified, the regular presiding judge had the power to arrange the calendar and call in another judge. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 855.

Change of Venue

The district judge's compliance with this section is a condition precedent to obtaining a change of venue under section 93-2906. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Disqualified Judge

Where, during the course of a divorce proceeding a judge is disqualified and another judge assumes jurisdiction and commits the husband to jail for contempt, on a habeas corpus petition brought by the jailed husband the disqualified judge would not be authorized to act and a writ of prohibition will lie to prohibit such judge from proceeding further in the habeas corpus matter. State v. District Court of Lewis and Clark County, — M —, 295 P 2d 233.

Filing of Affidavit—Effect

The mere filing of the affidavit ipso facto works the disqualification of the judge against whom it is directed. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 244.

The mere filing of such affidavit ipso facto worked the disqualification of the judge against whom it was directed and except as is expressly provided in and allowed by the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 93-901, all orders in the cause made by the judge subsequent to the filing of the affidavit of disqualification against said judge are set aside, vacated and held for naught as null and void for want of jurisdiction. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 849.

Grounds for Disqualification

The fact that the judge had previously heard some criminal matter against the person who was acting as the agent of the defendant but who was not a party to the action himself was not a ground for disqualification. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

Juvenile Delinquency Proceedings

From a reading of the statutes governing juvenile matters it is apparent that the legislative intent is that juvenile matters and proceedings are to be treated as civil and not as criminal proceedings and therefore the provisions of this section relating to the disqualification of judges applies to juvenile delinquency proceedings. State ex rel. Ostoj v. McClernan, — M —, 284 P 2d 252, 254.

Mandamus

In action for mandamus to require district judge to call in another judge after affidavit of disqualification, judge cannot defend that the relatrix had not consented to the filing of the affidavit nor to the institution of the mandamus proceeding, where no attempt was made to raise such question under section 93-2121. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

Number of Disqualifications

Where plaintiff had already disqualified two judges, he had no right to disqualify another judge for bias or prejudice. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

Where judgment was obtained in action to quiet title, a subsequent proceeding for a writ of possession was a proceeding in the same action for the enforcement of the judgment and therefore when two judges had been disqualified for bias or prejudice in the original proceeding an attempted disqualification of another judge by the defendant in the proceeding for writ of possession was of no effect. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 853.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-2906 are companion sections and must be construed together. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

The disqualification provided for in subd. 4 of this section stands upon the same level of importance as do those provided for in the preceding three subdivisions, except as to the time when the imputation may be made, and operates as effectively if invoked at the proper time. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 245.

Probate Proceedings

The word "proceeding" used in this section applies to a probate proceeding, thus permitting the disqualification of judges therein for imputed bias. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546, 550.

A proceeding for the administration of an estate of a deceased person advances step by step through various stages of the proceeding and involves successive determinations in the course of such proceeding. The term "proceeding" is used in the Probate Code as a general designation of the entire judicial procedure employed whereby the law is administered upon the various subjects within the probate jurisdiction. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546, 549, 550.

Where appellant filed a petition for letters of special administration and for probate of a will, which will was contested and during which appellant disqualified one judge for bias, and subsequent to the first petition, other parties filed a petition for letters of administration and appellant disqualified one judge for bias from hearing such petition, the appellant could not disqualify another judge from hearing the second petition since he had already disqualified the maximum of two judges as allowed by this section. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546. (See, however, dissenting opinions of Justices Angstman and Anderson in 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546 at pages 551 and 552 respectively.)

Proof of Alleged Bias and Prejudice Is Neither Required Nor Permitted

No inquiry as to the truth or falsity of the assertion of bias or prejudice can be permitted. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

Time for Calling in New Judge

While a district judge against whom an affidavit of disqualification for implied bias has been filed may take the time reasonably necessary to ascertain what other judge or judges may be available to preside in the case, he must proceed in good faith and without unreasonable delay to call another judge. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

A judge against whom an affidavit of disqualification has been filed ought not to be permitted to delay for ten months the calling in of another judge to sit in the case simply because he has not sooner been able to find a district judge who will accept such jurisdiction in conformity with the rules of his court. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

When district judge fails to call in another judge within a reasonable time after the filing of an affidavit of bias, mandamus is the proper remedy. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Time for Disqualification

A judge who has been called in and assumed jurisdiction of a case could be disqualified to hear a separate proceeding therein, long after he had actually exercised jurisdiction on other matters in the case. McLeod v. McLeod, 126 M 32, 243 P 2d 321. (This case rests upon Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452 inasmuch as the Sullivan case by necessary implication overrules any contrary conclusion of Stefonick v. District Court, 117 M 86, 157 P 2d 96.)

Where the judge in issuing a writ of prohibition set November 21, 1950 as the return date and defendant filed a demurrer, which was disposed of and then an answer to which plaintiff filed a reply so that the trial actually took place on April 25, 1951 upon the issues framed by the pleadings, an affidavit of disqualification of the judge for imputed bias and prejudice filed April 13, 1951 was timely. The return date stated in the writ of prohibition (November 21, 1950) was not the "day appointed or fixed for the hearing or trial" within the meaning of this section. Esterby v. Justice Court of Hellgate Township, 127 M 1, 256 P 2d 544.

Trial Date Fixed by Disqualified Judge

A judge though disqualified may still arrange the calendar and where hearing date was fixed by disqualified judge and subsequent notice that another judge had accepted jurisdiction was tantamount to a notice that the trial would proceed on the date fixed where no different date was arranged for. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

Withdrawal of Affidavit

Upon the filing of the affidavit of disqualification, jurisdiction over the cause is lost, and disqualification cannot thereafter be waived by a withdrawal of the affidavit over the protests and objections of the opposite party. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 245.

The fact that the supreme court was not in session at the time the affidavit of disqualification was filed is no ground for permitting the withdrawal of the affidavit and proceeding with the same judge over the objection of the opposite party. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 256.

Such order must specify the number of jurors to be drawn, and the time at which the jurors are required to attend, which time may be at the same term in which the jurors are drawn, or at the next succeeding term, in the discretion of the court. be revolved a sufficient number of times so as to insure that the capsules in said box shall become thoroughly mixed, and thereafter the judge must draw from said box one at a time, as many of said capsules containing the numbers of jurors as are ordered by the court.

2. A minute of the drawing shall be entered in the minutes of the court, which must show the names of the jurors corresponding to the numbers so drawn from said jury box.

3. If the name of any person so drawn is deceased or insane, or who may have permanently removed from the county, and the fact shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court, the name of such person shall be omitted from the list, and another juror drawn in his place, and the fact shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. The same proceeding shall be had as often as may be necessary, until the number of jurors required shall have been drawn. After the drawing shall have been completed, the clerk shall make a copy of the list of names of the persons so drawn, and certify the same. In his certificate he shall state the date of the order and of the drawing, and the number of the jurors drawn, and the time when and the place where such jurors shall be required to appear. Such certificate and list shall be delivered to the sheriff for service.

93-1504. (8905) Jury box No. 2. After the adjournment of the term or session at which trial jurors have been returned, as prescribed in the last section, the clerk must deposit the capsules containing the numbers of the jurors who attended and served, in another box kept by him, known as and marked "jury box No. 2." The capsules containing the ballots with the numbers of those who did not appear and serve must be returned to the box from which they were taken.

History: En. Sec. 263, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6351, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 35, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 8905, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment in the first sentence substituted the words "numbers of the jurors" for the words "ballots with the names of those"; in the second sentence substituted "numbers" for "names" and deleted the words "which have not been destroyed as prescribed in the preceding section" which appeared between the words "serve" and "must."

Jurors Called But Not Serving

Where a panel of 89 persons was called and sworn as jurors for the term but were discharged before serving at any trial, such jurors had not served within the meaning of this section and it was proper to return such names to jury box No. 1 and not jury box No. 2. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 284.

93-1505. (8906) Jurors—when to be drawn from jury box No. 2. If, at the time of drawing trial jurors for a term or session, there is not a sufficient number of capsules containing the numbers of jurors thereon remaining in box No. 1, the judge presiding, after drawing all the capsules containing therein the numbers of the jurors, must draw the necessary number from box No. 2, containing the numbers of those jurors who have before served, as prescribed in the last section; and must continue to draw from that box until new lists of jurors are provided.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted "the numbers of jurors" "the numbers of the jurors" and "the numbers of those jurors" for "ballots with the names of jurors" "ballots with the names of jurors thereon" and "the names of those jurors" respectively.

93-1506. (8907) Jury box No. 3. The clerk must keep, in addition to the two boxes specified in the last two sections, a third box, known as and marked "jury box No. 3," in which he must deposit capsules containing duplicate numbers of all persons selected and returned as trial jurors, who reside in the city or town where a trial term or session of a court of record is held, pursuant to law.

History: En. Sec. 265, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6353, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 35, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 8907, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

93-1507. (8908) Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 266, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 35, L. 1919), relating to the deposit of ballots in box No. 3, was repealed by Sec. 10, Ch. 168, Laws 1957, effective January 1, 1958.

93-1510. (8911) Jurors drawn from jury box No. 3, when. If a sufficient number of trial jurors, duly drawn and notified, do not attend or cannot be obtained in the opinion of the court, without great delay or expense to form a jury, the court may, in its discretion, direct the clerk to draw from box No. 3, in the presence of the court, the numbers corresponding to the names of as many jurors on the jury list as the court deems sufficient for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 281, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6357, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8911, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 168, L. 1957. Cal. C. Civ. Proc. Sec. 226.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "numbers corresponding to the names of as many jurors on the jury list" for the words "names of as many persons."

Called Judge—Authority

A judge called in under the provisions of section 93-901 has the authority to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Operation and Effect

It was error for the trial judge to deny the defendant's motion to obtain additional jurors from jury box No. 1, when the inadequacy of the panel jury was called to the attention of the court six days before the case was to be tried, and at the trial the judge then called additional jurors from box No. 3. Defendant believed that a "Maine Street" jury would be antagonistic towards him and he made a timely request to have the venire augmented by additional jurors drawn from the entire county. Failure to provide an adequate panel was an abuse of discretion and amounted to the systematic and calculated exclusion of persons residing throughout the county at large other than those living in the city of Helena. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 986.

Right to Draw From Box No. 3

Where seventy jurors were drawn from jury box No. 1, there was no abuse of discretion in not drawing more and no constitutional rights were violated by drawing from jury box No. 3 after the original panel was exhausted. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 235.

References

Cited in State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 283.

93-1511. (8912) Summoning jurors to complete a panel. The sheriff must forthwith notify each person whose number has been drawn and make a return as prescribed in section 93-1509.

History: En. Sec. 282, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6358, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8912, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "whose number has been drawn" for the words "so drawn."

Repealing Clause

Section 10 of Ch. 168, Laws 1957 read "That sections 93-1405 and 93-1507, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

Effective Date

Section 11 of Ch. 168, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1958.

CHAPTER 19—COURT STENOGRAPHERS

Section 93-1906. Salary and expenses of stenographer—apportionment.

93-1904. (8931) To furnish copies to parties, etc.

Application of Section

This section governs only the furnishing of copies of the transcript of record for use in the trial court and has nothing to do with appeals to the Supreme Court. Sullivan v. Board of County Comrs., 124 M 364, 224 P 2d 135, 136.

93-1906. (8933) Salary and expenses of stenographer—apportionment. Every stenographer appointed under the provisions of this chapter receives an annual salary of five thousand four hundred ($5,400.00) dollars and no other compensation except as provided in section 93-1904, provided, however, that all transcripts and bills of exceptions required by the county shall be furnished without cost, payable in monthly installments out of the general funds of the counties comprising the district for which he is appointed, according and in proportion to the number of civil and criminal actions entered and commenced in the district courts of such counties respectively in the preceding year; and it shall be the duty of the judge of such district, on the first day of January of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be, to apportion the amount of such salary to be paid by each county in his district on the basis aforesaid. The stenographer is allowed, in addition to the salary and fees above provided, in judicial districts comprising more than one (1) county, his actual and necessary expenses of transportation and living when he goes on official business to a county of his judicial district other than the county in which he resides, from the time he leaves his place of residence until he returns thereto, said expenses to be apportioned and payable in the same way as the salary.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $3,600 to $4,200.

The 1953 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $4,200 to $4,800 and added the proviso in the middle of the first sentence.

The 1955 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $4,800 to $5,400 and substituted the word "thereafter" for "after" near the end of the first sentence.

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 49, Laws 1951; Sec. 2 of Ch. 125, Laws 1953 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 76, Laws 1955 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 20—ATTORNEYS—QUALIFICATIONS—ADMISSION—LICENSE AND DISBARMENT

93-2002. (8937) Qualifications, examination and admission.

Operation and Effect

Where an applicant took and failed the bar examination three times, the supreme court will not allow a petition by the applicant to admit the applicant on motion and without examination for this would set at naught the labors and recommendations of the board of law examiners and nullify the governing statutes and rules of the court. Petition of Bergen, 125 M 607, 233 P 2d 399.

CHAPTER 21—ATTORNEYS—POWERS—DUTIES—LIABILITIES AND COMPENSATION

93-2120. (8993) Lien for compensation.

Extent of Lien

Where, in second trial of conversion action, plaintiff obtained judgment against defendant, the attorney's lien on the judgment covered only the amount which would be realized on the judgment after costs accruing to defendant on appeal from first trial were deducted. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 635.

Notice

Under this section there is no need to file a notice of lien, the commencement of an action or the service of an answer containing a counterclaim being sufficient notice of the lien of the attorney. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 634.

Priority of Lien

While an attorney's lien is subordinate to the rights of the adverse party to offset judgments in the same actions or in actions based on the same actions or in actions based on the same transactions, it is nevertheless superior to any right to offset judgments obtained in wholly independent actions. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 634.

An attorney's lien for unpaid compensation is not superior to the adverse party's claim for costs accruing as a part of the litigation on the cause of action. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 635.

93-2121. (8994) Attorney may be compelled to show his authority.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment substituted all that part of the section beginning with the words "unless the plaintiff * * *" for "unless the same might have been commenced by the state as herein specified, in case such patent had not been issued or grant made."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 196, Laws 1955 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

93-2504. (9015) Seizin within five years—when necessary in actions for real property—action for dower. No action for the recovery of real property, or for the possession thereof, can be maintained, unless it appear that the plaintiff, his ancestor, predecessor, or grantor, was seized or possessed of the property in question within five [5] years before the commencement of the action. No action for the recovery of dower can be maintained by a widow unless the action is commenced within ten [10] years after the death of her husband.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" the first time it appeared in this section.

Operation and Effect

Where plaintiff's complaint alleges that "plaintiff is now the owner, entitled to possession," there is a presumption under section 93-2507 that the person establishing a legal title to the property is in possession thereof within the time required by law, and it is up to the other party to overcome the presumption with proof. Warren v. Warren, 127 M 259, 261 P 2d 364, 365.

93-2505. (9016) Such seizin, when necessary in action or defense arising out of title to or rents of real property. No cause of action, or defense to an action, arising out of the title to real property, or to rents or profits out of the same, can be effectual, unless it appear that the person prosecuting the action, or making the defense, or under whose title the action is prosecuted or the defense is made, or the ancestor, predecessor, or grantor of such person, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within five [5] years before the commencement of the act in respect to which such action is prosecuted or defense made.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Operation and Effect

The bringing of an action against one in adverse possession disputing his title arrests the running of the statute. Flathead Lumber Corp. v. Everett, 127 M 291, 263 P 2d 376, 378.

Pleading

Since a person in adverse possession can acquire no new right as against the plaintiffs by the mere fact that they remain in possession during the pendency of the action it follows that a pleading of adverse possession by defendants for ten years is insufficient to constitute a defense unless it is alleged that the ten years were before the commencement of the action, and the trial court erred in sustaining a motion for judgment on the pleadings and in entering judgment thereon for defendants. Flathead Lumber Corp. v. Everett, 127 M 291, 263 P 2d 376, 378.

Possession By Constructive Trustee

Where daughter deeded property to mother to be held in trust for her and later mother deeded property to another daughter with the understanding that it was to be held for the benefit of the first daughter, the possession of the mother and the second daughter was the possession of and for the first daughter and therefore an action by the first daughter to recover the property was not barred. 93-2506. (9017) Entry on real estate. No entry upon real estate is deemed sufficient or valid as a claim, unless an action be commenced thereupon within one [1] year after making such entry, and within five [5] years from the time when the right to make it descended or accrued.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

93-2507. (9018) Possession—when presumed—occupation deemed under legal title, unless adverse. In every action for the recovery of real property, or the possession thereof, the person establishing a legal title to the property is presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time required by law, and the occupation of the property by any other person is deemed to have been under and in subordination to the legal title, unless it appear that the property has been held and possessed adversely to such legal title for five [5] years before the commencement of the action.

93-2508. (9019) Occupation under written instrument or judgment—when deemed adverse. When it appears that the occupant, or those under whom he claims, entered into the possession of the property under claim of title, exclusive of other right, founding such claim upon a written instrument, as being a conveyance of the property in question, or upon the decree or judgment of a competent court, and that there has been a continued occupation and possession of the property included in such instrument, decree, or judgment, or of some part of the property, under such claim, for five [5] years, the property so included is deemed to have been held adversely, except that when it consists of a tract divided into lots, the possession of one [1] lot is not deemed a possession of any other lot of the same tract.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Color of Title

A tax deed, though void, is ample as color of title so as to sustain the claim of adverse possession. Hentzy v. Mandan Loan & Investment Co., — M —, 286 P 2d 325, 327.

Color of title may be evidenced by a contract for the sale of land. An instrument which purports to convey the land or the right to its possession is sufficient color of title as a basis for adverse possession if the claim is made in good faith. Hentzy v. Mandan Loan & Investment Co., — M —, 286 P 2d 325, 327.

Tacking Possession

A wife may tack her possession on to that of her husband prior to his death and it is not necessary that the relationship of husband and wife be established by probate proceedings before this can be done where the relationship is admitted by the pleadings. Facts Showing Adverse Possession

Where plaintiffs inclosed the land with barbed wire fence, cultivated the land, executed an oil and gas lease on the land, and mortgaged the land, there were sufficient facts to show adverse possession. Laas v. All Persons, 121 M 43, 189 P 2d 670, 674.

Where defendant paid taxes on land for more than ten years [since amended], staked out the land in lots and leased it at various times for different purposes, and the land was in defendant's name in the tax records, evidence was sufficient to show adverse possession. Kenney v. Bridges, 123 M 95, 208 P 2d 475.

93-2512. (9023) Relation of landlord and tenant as affecting adverse possession. When the relation of landlord and tenant has existed between any persons, the possession of the tenant is deemed the possession of the landlord until the expiration of five [5] years from the termination of the tenancy, or, where there has been no written lease, until the expiration of five [5] years from the time of the last payment of rent, notwithstanding such tenant may have acquired another title, or may have claimed to hold adversely to his landlord. But such presumptions cannot be made after the periods prescribed in this section.

93-2513. (9024) Occupancy and payment of taxes necessary to prove adverse possession. In no case shall adverse possessions be considered established under the provisions of any section or sections of this code unless it shall be shown that the land has been occupied and claimed for a period of five [5] years continuously, and the party or persons, their predecessors and grantors, have, during such period, paid all the taxes, state, county, or municipal, which have been legally levied and assessed upon said land.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Operation and Effect

Where plaintiff and his predecessor had remained in open, exclusive, notorious and adverse possession of an abandoned river channel since 1936 and had paid taxes on improvements thereon but not on the real property because none had been assessed it was sufficient for adverse possession. Helland v. Custer County, 127 M 23, 256 P 2d 1085.

Payment of Taxes

This section requires the payment of taxes only if there are any to be paid. Barcus v. Galbreath, 122 M 537, 207 P 2d 559, 564.

Payment of Taxes—Time for Payment

All that is required under this section is that the claimant shall have claimed the land for a period of ten years [since amended] continuously and that he has paid all taxes levied during that period, but it is not necessary that each year's taxes should have been paid when due. Laas v. All Persons, 121 M 43, 189 P 2d 670, 675.

It is not necessary that the taxes be paid each year as assessed to meet the requirements of this section. Barcus v. Galbreath, 122 M 537, 207 P 2d 559, 564.

Possession Under Contract for Deed

93-2515. (9026) Certain disabilities excluded from time to commence actions. If a person entitled to commence an action for the recovery of real property, or for the recovery of the possession thereof, or for dower, or to make any entry or defense founded on the title to real property, or to rents or services out of the same, is at the same time such title first descends or accrues, either

1. Within the age of majority; or,

2. Insane; or,

3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution upon conviction of a criminal offense, for a term of less than for life.

The time during which disability continues is not deemed any portion of the time in this chapter limited for the commencement of such action, or the making of such entry or defense, but such action may be commenced, or entry or defense made, within the period of five [5] years after such disability shall cease, or after the death of the person entitled, who shall die under such disability; but such action shall not be commenced or entry, or defense made, after that period.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment inserted the word "same" before the word "time" in the first sentence and substituted "five years" for "ten years."

Separability Clause

Section 9 of Ch. 224, Laws 1953 read: "If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section, subdivision, or part of this act shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, inoperative or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remaining portions of this act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section, subdivision, or part directly adjudged to be invalid, inoperative or unconstitutional."

Repealing Clause

Section 10 of Ch. 224, Laws 1953 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 11 of Ch. 224, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after July 1, 1953.

Minority—Time for Bringing Suit

Where the youngest of the heirs attained his majority more than ten years [since amended] before action to establish title to land, and they brought no action within that time, they could not defend such suit by party holding under tax deed and by adverse possession, on the ground that the heirs were minors at the time the tax deed was procured. 93-2516. Application of chapter to lands sold and conveyed by state. The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all lands heretofore sold and conveyed by the state of Montana for which a valid consideration was received by the state, provided, that the state, at the time of any such sale or conveyance, was not precluded by the Constitution of Montana or by the terms of the grant of such lands by the United States from selling and disposing of the same; and provided further, that no occupant of a public way or other ground dedicated or appropriated by the state to public use, and not subject to sale, shall acquire by reason of his occupancy any title thereto.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 195, L. 1955.

Title of Act

An act to add to Chapter 25, Title 93, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, by inserting section 93-2516, making the provisions of said Chapter 25, Title 93, applicable to certain lands heretofore sold and conveyed by the state of Montana.

Repealing Clause

Action on Bond for Deed

Action to enforce "bond for deed" for certain mining rights in land was barred by this section. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487.

Effect of Suspension of Foreign Corporation

Held, that the suspension of a foreign corporation for nonpayment of taxes does not suspend the running of the statute of limitations, and hence an action based on a mortgage would be barred after eight years under this section. The suspension does not result in an inability to get service of process on the foreign corporation for section 93-3007 provides for such service and section 93-3011 states that it is personal service so that a personal judgment may be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325.

Part Payment—Proof

Where the plaintiff in an action on a note executed in 1931 and payable within 90 days pleaded part payment in 1934 and 1938 to bar the statute of limitations, he has the burden of proof that the payments were made, and it is not sufficient to show the indorsement on the back of the note. An indorsement of a payment on a note by the holder does not create a presumption that the payment was made at the time that the indorsement indicates. Wight v. Stevenson, 126 M 377, 252 P 2d 241.

Violation of Trust

In an action for an accounting, assuming that there was a trust relationship, when the plaintiff beneficiary in 1925 made complaint to the defendant as to how the expenses were charged and defendant denied that its conduct was wrong and continued to make similar charges, the statute of limitations began to run at that time, since at that time the plaintiff knew that the trust was being violated. Commencement of Period — Resulting Trust

Statute of limitations does not commence to run in favor of the trustee of a resulting trust until the trustee disavows the trust or asserts some right inconsistent with it. Campanello v. Mercer, 124 M 528, 227 P 2d 312.

Offset

Where debt was barred by five-year statute of limitations it could not be set up as an offset in a suit on a note and mortgage not arising out of the same transaction. Francisco v. Francisco, 120 M 468, 191 P 2d 317, 321, 1 ALR 2d 625.

Revival of Obligation

Even though original debt is barred by statute of limitations, it is sufficient consideration for a subsequent note and new promise to pay, and such new note revives the obligation. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 377.

This section applies only to fraud or mistake within the common acceptance of the term. Opp v. Boggs, 121 M 131, 193 P 2d 379, 385.

Real Property Held in Trust

Where daughter conveyed real property to her mother with the understanding that it was to be held in trust for her, and mother then deeded property to another daughter with the understanding that it was to be held in trust for the first daughter, an action brought by the first daughter to recover the property was not based on fraud but upon a failure to comply with the promise to reconvey the property and was therefor not barred by this section. 93-2702. (9048) Exception, where defendant is out of the state.

Application

This section does not toll the running of a statute of limitation in an action against a foreign corporation which was suspended from operating in the state for non-payment of taxes, since the person could get service of process on such corporation through the secretary of state in accordance with sections 93-3007 and 93-3011 and a personal judgment could be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325.

93-2704. (9050) Provision where person entitled dies, etc.

Stockholder of Corporation

Single stockholder has no authority to bring action to quiet title where he alleges that corporation "is the sole and exclusive owner in fee simple title of the lands." Noble v. Farmers' Union Trading Co., 123 M 518, 216 P 2d 925.

Sole or majority stockholders of a corporation cannot maintain an action for the corporation. The reason is, that because the majority stockholders control the corporate machinery, they necessarily control the corporation and through its officers and directors the defense and the prosecution of any litigation involving the corporation. The sole or majority stockholders then have no need to resort to the indirection of a stockholders' suit by grace of a court of equity to protect the corporate interests. Equity will deny them any such relief, if asked, because their remedy within the corporation is adequate. Malcom v. Stondall Land & Investment Co., — M —, 284 P 2d 258, 260.

As a general rule stockholders may not sue upon a cause of action belonging to their corporation whether in their own names or in the name of the corporation itself. Nor generally may they defend for it an action brought against the corporation as defendant. Malcom v. Stondall Land & Investment Co., — M —, 284 P 2d 258, 260.

Contributory Negligence

Contributory negligence of a beneficiary is a bar to an action for death brought by or for such beneficiary. Hence, in an action against the United States for negligence in not providing proper ventilation in a parachute room, and failing to provide respirators so that the plaintiff's wife became ill from the inhalation of fumes and died, the plaintiff could not recover because he and his deceased wife were guilty of contributory negligence by using open containers of carbon tetrachloride and assumed the risk of inhaling the fumes. Sartori v. U. S., 186 F 2d 679, 680, 682.

Interest in the Matter in Litigation

Where a taxpayer, under proper procedure, filed an action against the county for a refund of taxes, the state and the state board of equalization have an interest in the subject-matter of the litigation so as to enable them to intervene in the action, not only because part of the tax collected was a state levy but also because the determinative questions raised are of vital interest and concern as they pertain to the tax laws, the procedure thereto, and the public fiscal policy of the sovereign state. CHAPTER 29—PLACE OF TRIAL OF CIVIL ACTIONS

93-2901. (9093) Certain actions to be tried, etc.

Construction

The phrase "subject of the action" as used in subdivision 1 is not synonymous with the term "cause of action" nor with the term "object of the action." Subject of the action denotes the plaintiff's principal primary right to enforce or maintain that for which the action is brought and does not denote the specific thing in regard to which the legal controversy is carried on. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 115. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

93-2904. (9096) Other actions, according to the residence of the parties.

Actions for Divorce

This section determines the place of trial of divorce actions unless the court has the power to declare otherwise. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 511.

Actions in Tort

Action brought two years after dissolution of partnership for damages resulting from false representations, a paragraph of the complaint alleging that defendant purchased a house with part of the partnership funds and that plaintiff was entitled to one-half the profits received on its sale, was for damages and at law and the proper venue of the county was in the county where the tort was committed. Brownback v. Nelson, 122 M 525, 206 P 2d 1017, 1020.

Actions on Contract

The provisions of the second sentence of this section insofar as it relates to actions upon contracts is in the nature of an exception to the general rule enacted in the main clause of the first sentence which provides generally that actions be tried in the county of the defendant's residence. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 119. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

Early decisions uniformly held that in actions upon contracts the second sentence of this section applied only to actions upon express contracts wherein the contract sued upon discloses on its face that it was to be performed in a particular county other than that of defendant's residence. Later cases departed from the earlier decisions and held that the performance exception applies to a contract which failed to state or provide for any place where such contract was to be performed. The case of State ex rel. Interstate Lumber Co. v. District Court, 54 M 602, 172 P 1030 went further and expressly overruled the earlier cases. The construction given in the Interstate Lumber Co. case and the overruling of the earlier decisions by the case are expressly disapproved. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 119. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

Charge of Allegations in Subsequent Complaint

Where plaintiff in first complaint for damages alleged that false representations were made in one county, he was not precluded from alleging that the false representations were made in another county in a subsequent complaint since the representation may have been made in both places. Brownback v. Nelson, 122 M 525, 206 P 2d 1017, 1020.

Construction

The general rule is that actions should be tried in the county in which the defendants reside at the commencement of the action. This is embodied in the first clause of the first section and the four subordinate clauses in that sentence provide alternatives which are departures from the general rule which are allowed under the circumstances set forth in the subordinate clauses. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 117. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

93-2905. (9097) Actions may be tried in any county, unless, etc.

When Change Required

Where divorce action was not brought in county of defendant's residence and defendant appeared by general demurrer, accompanied by written motion for change of venue, affidavit of merits and demand that the action be transferred to the county of his residence, the motion should have been granted. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510.

93-2906. (9098) Place of trial may be changed in certain cases.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-901 are companion sections and must be construed together. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

This section cannot become applicable until the district judge has complied with section 93-901. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Power of Substituted Judge

Subdivision 4 of this section and section 93-310 give a judge called in under the provisions of section 93-901 the authority to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 for the remainder of the term under the provisions of section 93-1510. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Time for Making Decision

Until defendant has answered, any action of the court in determining a motion for a change of venue under subd. 3 is premature. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 512.

Where divorce action was not brought in the county of the residence of the defendant and defendant appeared by general demurrer and demand that the action be transferred to the county of his residence, it was error for the court to refuse the transfer since the court could not be given such authority to retain jurisdiction in such county by subd. 3 of this section prior to the disposition of the demurrer and the answer of defendant. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 511.

93-3008. (9112) Service of summons on certain corporations—made on secretary of state. When an action is pending in any court in this state against a corporation organized under the laws of this state, or against a corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country, that has filed a copy of its charter in the office of the secretary of state of Montana and qualified to do business in this state; or against a corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country that is actually doing business within the state of Montana or that was actually doing business within this state at the time the said action arose even though such corporation has not filed a copy of its charter in the office of the secretary of state of Montana and has not qualified to do business in this state; or against a national banking corporation who, through insolvency or lapse of charter has ceased to do business in Montana; upon any cause of action arising within this state, and the president or other head, secretary, cashier, or managing agent of such domestic corporation, or the business agent, cashier, secretary, or agent appointed to receive service of process by such corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country, or any clerk, superintendent, general agent, cashier, principal director, ticket agent, stationkeeper, managing agent, or other agent, having the management, direction, or control of any property of any corporation doing business in this state, cannot be found, upon which service of process can be made, and an affidavit is filed in the office of the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, setting forth that an action is pending in that court, and that the plaintiff has a good cause of action upon the merits, and that such corporation is a necessary party therein, and that none of the persons or officers above named can be found within the state, upon whom service of process can be made, the clerk of the court shall make an order directing process to be served upon the secretary of state of the state of Montana, or, in his absence from his office, upon the deputy secretary of state of the state of Montana; provided, however, that when service of process is made under the provisions of this section in actions and proceedings in which personal service of summons is not required to be made in order to obtain relief, including every action or proceeding commenced in this state to enforce any legal or equitable lien upon, or claim to, or to remove any encumbrance, or lien, or cloud, upon the title of real or personal property within this state, service by publication must also be made.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment inserted the words appearing between the first and second semi-colons relating to corporations not having qualified to do business in the state and added the proviso.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, L. 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 135, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect upon its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1949.

Doing Business within State

Corporation, which manufactured automobiles and had its principal place of business in Ohio was not doing business within the state for purposes of service of process where it was shown that the corporation had no agents or property in the state, and that it sold its automobiles and parts to distributors in Ohio who in turn sold them to dealers. Representatives from the corporation visited distributors and dealers but their business was to note and report the manner in which the distributors and dealers conduct the business. Clapper Motor Co. v. Robinson Motor Co., 119 F Supp 79.

Sufficiency of Affidavit

Affidavit that affiant was unable to locate "the President, Vice President, Cashier or other officer of the said defendants upon whom service could be made, and that there is no such agent or officer of said corporation in the State of Montana upon whom service could be had" was in substantial compliance with the requirements of the statute. 93-3010. (9114) Duty of secretary of state. Upon such service being so made upon the secretary of state or his deputy, the said secretary of state or his deputy shall promptly mail the copy of summons and complaint, and copy of the order, by registered mail to the address of such corporation, at its principal home office, as shown by the papers on file in the office of the secretary of state, and in the case of corporations which have not qualified to do business within the state, to the principal home office address as supplied by the plaintiff in said action, and shall make out and mail to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, a certificate of such mailing, which shall have attached thereto the registry receipt for such letter.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment inserted the words "And in the case of corporations which have not qualified to do business within the state, to the principal home office address as supplied by the plaintiff in said action" and added the proviso.

The 1953 amendment deleted the proviso at the end of the section which read "provided that in cases of corporations which have not qualified to do business within this state service shall not be deemed complete unless the registry receipt shows prima facie that each copy of summons and complaint and copy of the order was received."

Repealing Clauses

Effective Dates

Section 4 of Ch. 122, Laws 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 28, 1951.

Section 3 of Ch. 151, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 3, 1953.

93-3011. (9115) Service to be deemed personal.

Operation and Effect

It is competent for the legislature to provide that service on the secretary of state shall constitute personal service on the corporation. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

In the Rothrock Case the court distinguished between substituted service and constructive service. Personal service of process means delivery to the defendant personally. But even in the case of individuals, it is competent for the legislature to give other modes of service the force of personal service. Since a corporation is but an artificial being, it is proper for the legislature to prescribe what shall constitute personal service on such a being and it is competent for the legislature to provide that service on the secretary of state shall constitute personal service on the corporation. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

Personal Judgment

As this section deems service on the secretary of state under section 93-3007 personal service it follows that a personal judgment may be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

93-3013. (9117) Publication of summons.

Affidavit Made by Attorney

There is nothing in this section which prevents plaintiff's attorney from either making or filing the affidavit. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 494.

Applicable to Quiet Title Action

This section is made applicable to quiet title actions by section 93-6202. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

Filing Summons and Return Not Condition Precedent

There is no provision which requires that the original summons with the return thereon must first be filed with the clerk of the court before an order of publication may be obtained. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

Specific Performance

A suit for specific performance of a contract to convey real property is a suit in personam and service cannot be had by publication. State ex rel. Miller v. District Court, 120 M 423, 186 P 2d 506, 507, 173 ALR 978.

Mere failure or omission to file the original summons with the various returns thereon within the time specified in this section does not affect the district court's jurisdiction. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 496.

Failure to Make Return in Time

The court does not lose jurisdiction over a defendant who has been properly served by the failure of the sheriff to make the return within the time required by this section. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 496.

CHAPTER 31—PLEADINGS IN GENERAL

93-3103. (9127) What pleadings are allowed.

Operation and Effect

Divorce Action

In a divorce action a complaint charging desertion must be sufficiently informative as to matters of time and place of desertion as to reasonably inform the defendant of the charge. Hosking v. Hosking, 120 M 437, 186 P 2d 503, 504.

"Last Clear Chance Doctrine"

The doctrine of last clear chance has application to a case not only where defendant actually saw plaintiff in a position of peril in time to avoid the injury by the exercise of reasonable care but also to a case where in the exercise of reasonable care he should or could have discovered plaintiff in his perilous position in time to avoid the injury. Sorrells v. Ryan, — M —, 281 P 2d 1028, 1030.

Legal Conclusions

Statement that the defendant "wrongfully failed to perform his official duty to supply the plaintiff with license blanks" in a suit for damages against the state fish and game warden was a bald conclusion of law and insufficient to withstand general demurrer. Meinecke v. McFarland, 122 M 515, 206 P 2d 1012, 1014.

Pleadings in Actions on Bills and Notes

It is a fundamental rule of pleading in actions on bills and notes that the plaintiff must allege facts showing title or right to sue. In an action by the payee named in the instrument, however, a formal allegation that he is still the owner and holder is unnecessary if the execution of the instrument, its delivery to the plaintiff, and the default of the maker or acceptor are alleged. Parkinson v. Diefenderfer, — M —, 280 P 2d 424.

93-3203. (9130) What causes of action may be joined.

Divorce

Relief for causes set out in subds. 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this section cannot be joined in an action for a divorce. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 256.

Failure to Object Waives Right

Where plaintiff failed to move the court to require the defendant to separately state and number causes of action, the objection to the intermingling of separate causes of action was waived. Pioneer Engineering Works v. McConnell, 123 M 171, 212 P 2d 641.

Trespass

Where plaintiff is grazing cattle of several other persons on his lands and defendant on two separate occasions commits a trespass against such cattle the causes of action may be joined. Cormier v. Fraser, — M —, 296 P 2d 1021.

CHAPTER 33—DEMURRER TO COMPLAINTS

Facts Sufficient to Constitute a Cause of Action

As actionable negligence arises only from a breach of a legal duty, and a complaint alleged that the defendant owed plaintiff, his employee, the duty of furnishing him a reasonably safe place to work and alleged a breach of the duty by alleging that the defendant failed to provide a reasonably safe place to work and a reasonably safe way to travel to and from a water fountain and rest room, the complaint stated facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action and was good as against the demurrer. Ritchie v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 128 M 218, 272 P 2d 728, 729.

Forcible Entry and Unlawful Detainer Actions

The provisions of this chapter, sections 93-3301 to 93-3306, are made applicable to proceedings for forcible entry and unlawful detainer by section 93-9718, since they are encompassed by and included within sections 93-2301 to 93-8717 as specified in section 93-9718. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 999.

Waiver of Defects

Where defendants filed a demurrer they thereby waived all defects in the complaint attackable only by motion and therefore motion for bill of particulars was properly overruled. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 603.

CHAPTER 34—ANSWER

Denial of Material Allegations

Where answer denied each and every "material" allegation of the complaint and plaintiff went to trial thereon without objection, each and all allegations in the complaint were material and the plaintiff was required to make proof of such material allegations so pleaded by him. Maass v. Patterson, 122 M 394, 204 P 2d 1040, 1045.

Forcible Entry and Unlawful Detainer Actions

The provisions of this chapter, sections 93-3401 to 93-3415, are made applicable to proceedings for forcible entry and unlawful detainer by section 93-9718, since they are encompassed by and included within sections 93-2301 to 93-8717 as specified in section 93-9718. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 999.

Offer to do Equity

An "offer to do equity" in the answer when not accepted as provided in section 93-8201 could not be used in evidence nor could it be regarded as an admission that defendants had waived any of their defenses. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965.

Waiver of Objections

Objections to the form of denials are waived by going to trial without first challenging the pleading by motion, demurrer or other timely and proper objection. Maass v. Patterson, 122 M 394, 204 P 2d 1040, 1045.

Matter in mitigation of damages is a defense and the burden of pleading and proving it rests with the defendant. Garden City Floral Co. v. Hunt, 126 M 537, 255 P 2d 352, 358.

Mitigation of Damages

Matter in mitigation of damages is a defense, and the burden of pleading and proving it rests with the defendant. Garden City Floral Co. v. Hunt, 126 M 537, 255 P 2d 352, 358.

93-3415. (9151) Cross-complaint—filing—service.

Cross-complaint Proper in Forcible Entry and Unlawful Detainer Actions

This section, included in the Code of Civil Procedure, is made applicable to proceedings for forcible entry and unlawful detainer by sections 93-9707 and 93-9718. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 995, 998, 999.

Scope of Cross-complaint in Mandamus Proceedings

Interveners in a mandamus action are not entitled to maintain their cross-complaint unless that cross-complaint relates to, or depends upon, the duties asserted by the plaintiff against the defendant public officer. Thus, where the plaintiff seeks by mandamus to require the recorder of marks and brands to record a brand in his name as administrator whether the interveners are the owners of the brand, the animals bearing the brand, and of the proceeds of the sale of animals so branded presents a question which bears no relation to the duty of the general recorder of marks and brands to issue a certificate to the plaintiff. Benolken v. Miracle, — M —, 289 P 2d 953, 955.

Interveners by their cross-complaint may not transform a proceeding in mandamus against a public officer into a private dispute between them and the plaintiff to settle disputed property rights which do not relate to, or depend upon, the duty of the officer against whom the proceeding is brought. Benolken v. Miracle, — M —, 289 P 2d 953, 956.

CHAPTER 36—REPLY

Function of Reply—When Allegations Constitute Departure From Complaint

In action for specific performance of contract for assignment of leases in which defense was impossibility of performance because leases had been terminated when defendant entered into contract with owner of land for purchase, a reply admitting such termination of the leases and praying for the assignment of such contracts of purchase was an abandonment of the original cause of action and sought to enforce a different contract and therefore could not be the basis for any recovery. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965.

CHAPTER 38—GENERAL RULES OF PLEADING

Section 93-3820. Adoption by reference of statements in a pleading.

93-3801. (9164) Pleadings to be liberally construed.

Divorce Action

A complaint in a divorce action which does not set forth the elements of the ground for divorce with sufficient certainty to establish them is not aided by this section. Hosking v. Hosking, 120 M 437, 186 P 2d 503, 504.

Relief Requested

In divorce action where complaint alleged that $2,040 which had been in bank was plaintiff's separate property, that it was placed in her name although she had no interest in it and that she took the money without plaintiff's consent and prayer was for "such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and equitable in the premises," it was not error for the court to adjudge that plaintiff recover from defendant the amount of $2,040. Rogers v. Rogers, 123 M 52, 209 P 2d 998, 1001.

Foreclosure of Mechanic's Lien

In action to forclose mechanic's lien and recover a stated sum of money for labor and materials a complaint which did not contain an itemized statement of the materials and labor furnished was not subject to demurrer, but the defendant's remedy was under this section. Cole v. Hunt, 123 M 256, 211 P 2d 417, 419.

Demand for Relief Necessary

Fact that a court of equity when once it acquires jurisdiction will grant all the relief necessary to the adjustment of the entire subject of the action is subject to the qualification that when rights between defendants are involved it is not proper to make determination thereof unless demanded in the pleadings. Strack v. Federal Land Bank, 124 M 19, 218 P 2d 1052, 1056.

93-3820. Adoption by reference of statements in a pleading. Statements in a pleading may be adopted by reference in a different part of the same pleading or in another pleading or in any motion. A copy of any written instrument which is an exhibit to a pleading is a part thereof for all purposes.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 16, L. 1953.

Title of Act

An act relating to pleadings in civil actions, authorizing the adoption by reference of statements in a pleading in other parts thereof.

Repealing Clause

Amendments by Leave of Court

Affirmative Showing of Abuse of Discretion Must be Made to Reverse Lower Court

The allowance or denial of leave to amend a pleading during the course of a trial is within the sound discretion of the trial court and in the absence of an affirmative showing of abuse of discretion the supreme court will not disturb the order of the trial court. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 378.

Amendments Allowed

To Substitute Real Party in Interest

In action to quiet title, court was authorized, after default of original defendant, to set aside default and permit assignee of timber rights to be substituted as the party defendant. State ex rel. Hilyard v. District Court, 120 M 342, 184 P 2d 997.

When Amendment Properly Refused

After plaintiff had put in his proof and rested his case and defendant introduced some evidence in support of his defense, the court cannot be said to have abused its discretion in refusing an amendment to the answer which would have materially changed the issues. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 378.

Discretion of Court

When a motion to quash is sustained, it is within the discretion of the trial court either to allow an amendment or to give judgment forthwith. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1016.

Extending Time for Filing Demurrer

Where motion to strike complaint was overruled and court ordered defendant to answer, defendant could, if he felt that the order prejudiced him in not permitting him to demur to the complaint, request the court for permission to file a demurrer under the provisions of this section and if he fails to do so he waives his right to demur. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 376.

Inapplicability Where Party Fails to Present Bill of Exceptions within time Limit

Where a party fails to present his bill of exceptions within the time limit prescribed by section 93-5505, he may not rely upon this section for relief. Nonaction is not the equivalent of a "proceeding taken against" the party and since this section is a general one while sections 93-5505 and 93-8708 are specific and pertain to bills of exceptions, the latter sections control under the well-settled rule of construction in this state that the provisions of a special statute control those of a general statute relating to the same subject-matter. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 992, 994, 995.

Operation and Effect

This court has repeatedly declared that default judgments are not favored and that it is the policy of the law to have every case tried on its merits. While slight abuse of discretion in refusing to set aside a default judgment is sufficient to justify a reversal of the order, only in exceptional cases will this court disturb the action of a trial court in re-opening a default. Waggoner v. Glacier Colony of Hutterites, 127 M 140, 258 P 2d 1162, 1168.

Trial court erred in refusing to set aside a default judgment entered after defendant's failure to answer, where evidence disclosed that defendant after being served with process went to see the plaintiff's lawyer and not finding him in talked with an associate who promised to relay defendant's message to him to the effect that the plaintiff was suing the wrong colony, and there was confusion over what was told to the defendant. Waggoner v. Glacier Colony of Hutterites, 127 M 140, 258 P 2d 1162.

Trial court was correct in setting aside a default judgment against the defendant entered in a divorce decree, where it was disclosed that at the time plaintiff instituted the divorce action in Montana there was pending a divorce action by defendant against plaintiff in California and to which plaintiff had filed a cross-complaint. Petrol v. Petrol, 127 M 184, 259 P 2d 338.

Relief From Judgments, Orders, or Other Proceedings

Amended Application After Motion to Quash Sustained

Where order sustained motion to quash and dismissed action it amounted to a judgment which could be set aside by complying with this section and the provisions of this section can not be avoided by filing an amended application on the theory the order on such amended application for a writ of certiorari is by implication an order to set aside the judgment of dismissal and granting leave to amend. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1017.

Fraud—Probate Proceedings

This section does not provide for setting aside a judgment because of fraud, and while such relief on such ground may be available in a court of equity it is not obtainable in a court of probate. State ex rel. Sanford v. District Court, 124 M 429, 225 P 2d 866, 868.

Variance

Where, in action to recover value of use and occupancy, plaintiff claimed damages measured on a certain basis, and defendant denied that it had any rental value, the fact that a different rental value than that alleged in the complaint was proved was not a material variance. Pritchard Petroleum Co. v. Farmers Co-op. Oil & Supply Co., 121 M 1, 190 P 2d 55, 60.

93-3908. (9190) Suing a party by a fictitious name—when allowed.

Operation and Effect

It is sufficient to describe a party by any known and accepted abbreviation of his Christian name. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 497.

93-3909. (9191) No error or defect to be regarded unless, etc.

Excessive Verdict

Where verdict of jury was for ten dollars more than proof showed loss to be and there was no conflict in the evidence, the judgment entered on such verdict would not be reversed but the judgment would be modified by reducing it by ten dollars. Miller v. Emerson, 120 M 380, 186 P 2d 220.

Not Applicable Where Jurisdiction Has Not Been Acquired

This section has no application where jurisdiction is wanting. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 254.

Not Applicable Where Right to Trial by Jury Involved

The provisions of this section are not applicable where the substantial right of the litigants to have a fair trial before an impartial judge is involved. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 254.

Operation in General

Where defendant in divorce action admitted that certain stocks in her name belonged to plaintiff and that she would indorse them and turn them over to plaintiff if produced, any error in the order of the court quieting title to the stock in plaintiff and ordering defendant to transfer and convey the stock to plaintiff was harmless. Rogers v. Rogers, 123 M 52, 209 P 2d 998, 1000.

93-3910. (9192) Time for amendment, answer or reply, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where a motion for a change of venue was timely served and filed in the action by defendant's attorney defendant was not in default. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

93-4102. (9221) Affidavit and its requisites.

Operation and Effect

In such actions it is incumbent on plaintiff to establish by the preponderance of the evidence the right to the immediate possession in himself at the time the action is brought, and that the defendant is wrongfully in possession. Plaintiff must rely upon the strength of his own right of possession and not upon the weakness of his adversary's claim to such right. O'Connell v. Haggerty, 126 M 442, 253 P 2d 578, 580.

CHAPTER 42—INJUNCTION

Definition—Restraining Order

An order which requires a person to refrain from a particular act for any period of time, no matter what its purpose, is an injunction and this applies to a "restraining order." Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 603.

Enforcement of Criminal Law

An injunction may not be granted to prevent the enforcement of the criminal law. State ex rel. Olsen v. Horsky, 122 M 547, 206 P 2d 1157.

Enjoining Enforcement of Board Order

Where the industrial accident board issued an order directing a coal mine to erect a washhouse for its employees in compliance with section 50-435, the coal mine cannot obtain an injunction to enjoin enforcement of the order based on facts which they can assert as a defense to any proceeding brought by the board. Jeffries Coal Co. v. Industrial Accident Board, 126 M 411, 252 P 2d 1046, 1047.

Injunction Pendente Lite Regarding Possession of Real Estate

Title or right to possession to real estate may not be litigated in a suit for an injunction. Where there was a lease which was allegedly breached the plaintiff is not entitled to a restraining order preventing the defendants from occupying the land pending a determination of the case on its merits since it was found that the relationship of the parties was one of landlord and tenant and was not a cropping agreement. Davis v. Burton, 126 M 137, 246 P 2d 236.

Operation and Effect

Since a private citizen, who does not show that he will be injured in any property or civil right, cannot invoke equitable congnizance of a purely political question, where plaintiff's complaint, in an action seeking an injunction preventing the secretary of state from certifying nominees for a vacancy in the board of railroad commissioners, shows that his only interest is as a taxpaying, private citizen and prospective absentee voter, he is without standing or capacity to invoke equitable cognizance of a purely political question. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 649.

Power to enjoin canvassing votes and declaring result of election. 1 ALR 2d 588.

Injunction by state court against action in court of another state. 6 ALR 2d 896.

Compelling reinstatement to nonpublic office for employment by mandatory injunction prior to hearing of case. 15 ALR 2d 328.

93-4204. (9243) Injunction order—when granted.

Grounds for Injunction

To entitle an applicant to an injunction he must show not only that he is in danger of losing a substantial right but also that he is in no fault. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 261.

In addition to having a clear right there must also be an apparent and pressing necessity for an injunction, and the injury threatened must be imminent and such as can only be avoided by an injunction. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 261.

Title to Real Property

A wife may not obtain injunction to restrain her husband from selling property when her title to the property is not clear. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 265.

Title to or right of possession of real estate is not triable by injunction. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 267.

Where, in action for injunction, to prevent trespass on land in which plaintiff claimed title to land, defendants in answer claimed title to land involved by adverse possession which plaintiff denied, the pleadings presented the issues of title and ownership which the court had power to determine. Tiffany v. Uhde, 123 M 507, 216 P 2d 375.

93-4205. (9244) Injunction order—at what time granted, etc.

Application of Section

This section has no application to proceedings for the abatement of a nuisance under section 94-1001 et seq. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Sufficiency of Affidavit

Where restraining order is granted on affidavits they must contain a statement of the material facts essential to establish the applicant's right to the relief sought. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 259.

The requirement that the affidavit should show that sufficient grounds exist for the restraining order is not met by statements of the legal conclusions of the pleader or of mere matters of opinion unsupported by sufficient facts. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 259.

In affidavit for restraining order to prevent defendant in divorce action from molesting plaintiff or entering their home, it was necessary to state facts showing specific improper acts or conduct. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 260.

In affidavit for restraining order to restrain withdrawal of bank funds, statement that "the defendant is addicted to spendthrift and profligate habits" is a bare conclusion and where there are no specific acts alleged, it is insufficient. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 260.

93-4206. (9245) When notice required.

Cross-Reference

See note to sec. 93-4205. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251.

93-4207. (9246) Security upon injunction.

Consecutive Restraining Orders

Where bond was executed in connection with granting of temporary restraining order which was thereafter dissolved but on the same day the judge continued the restraint by another restraining order and continued the bond, the sureties on the original bond were liable for damages sustained through the period of restraint imposed by the second order. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Consideration for Bond

A bond executed pursuant to and in substantial compliance with this section needs no consideration. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Measure of Damages

The measure of damages in an action on the injunction bond is the amount which will compensate for all the detriment proximately caused by the injunction during the time it is operative, or which in the ordinary course of things, would be likely to result therefrom. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Proof of Damages

Where there was evidence as to expenses and attorney's fees in a sum in excess of the amount of the bond, it was error to grant motion for nonsuit but case should have gone to jury. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Fact that person suing on bond became obligated for attorney's fees in injunction is sufficiently shown by proof that he employed an attorney who procured a dissolution of the injunction and of the reasonable value of his services. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 602.

Voluntary Dismissal—Action on Bond

Where appeal was taken from action dissolving temporary restraining order and thereafter appellant dismissed his appeal, such dismissal constituted a final adjudication that appellant was not entitled to injunction thereby making the sureties liable. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 600.

What May Be Recovered

Under a bond given in accordance with this section, reasonable expenses are recoverable including attorney's fees and costs of procuring the dissolution of the restraint from the time such restraint was imposed to the final determination thereof. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 602.

93-4211. (9250) Application to dissolve or modify.

When Modification Not Permissible

Where complaint and affidavits showed prima facie that premises constituted a nuisance per se under section 94-1002, it was error to quash the temporary injunction issued thereunder when defendant filed affidavit under this section and before any hearing on the complaint was had. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307.

93-4212. (9251) Dissolution or modification.

Dismissal, discontinuance or nonsuit as nullifying previous temporary injunction. 11 ALR 2d 1411.

Damages

Where mother brought habeas corpus proceedings to enforce court order awarding custody of child in divorce proceedings she was entitled to damages under the provisions of this section. Benson v. Benson, 121 M 439, 193 P 2d 827, 830.

CHAPTER 43—ATTACHMENT

Section 93-4304. Undertaking.

93-4301. (9256) When attachment may issue.

When Attachment Not Authorized

Held, that in a contract for the sale of real property werein there was provided a remedy for and security to the vendors for a breach thereof, this section precluded a rightful attachment and seizure of defendant's personal property. The contract was not one for the direct payment of money and such payments due under the contract were secured by the provisions of the contract. Fraser v. Clark, — M —, 282 P 2d 459, 468.

Security for Note

Held, a chattel mortgage, which by its terms stated that it was to be security for future advances, was security for a later loan so that attachment was not available in an action for default of a later loan. The chattel mortgage was plain and unambiguous and needed no construction so that parol evidence which tended to vary or alter the terms of the written mortgage was required to be disregarded. First Nat. Bank of Plains v. Green Mt. Soil Conservation District, — M —, 293 P 2d 289.

93-4304. (9259) Undertaking. Before issuing the writ, the clerk must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with two [2] or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, in a sum not less than double the amount claimed by the plaintiff, if such amount be one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or under, or, in case the amount so claimed by plaintiff shall exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), then in a sum equal to such amount, but in no case shall an undertaking be required exceeding in amount the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00). The condition of such undertaking shall be to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, or if the court shall finally decide that the plaintiff was not entitled to an attachment, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages he may sustain by reason of the issuing out of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. At any time within thirty (30) days after the service of summons, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two (2) days nor more than ten (10) days, must justify before a judge of the district court, or before the clerk thereof, and upon failure to justify, or if others in their place fail to justify, at the time and place appointed, the clerk or judge shall issue an order vacating the writ of attachment.

CHAPTER 44—RECEIVERS

93-4401. (9301) Appointment of receiver.

Subd. 1.

No Right to Receiver When Action is Based on Sister State Judgment Debt

In the state of Washington, the plaintiff had a joint interest in the house trailer, but when the divorce decree was rendered, her interest was merged in the Washington decree and judgment. In a suit in Montana, the suit is on the debt created by the judgment, and for the collection of a judgment debt the relief by receiver does not lie. Little v. Little, 125 M 278, 234 P 2d 832, 835.

CHAPTER 47—JUDGMENTS IN GENERAL

93-4701. (9313) Judgment defined.

Dismissal of Action

In proceeding for writ of certiorari an order sustaining a motion to quash and dismissing the proceeding was a judgment.

State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1016.

Order for an Accounting

An order for an accounting is not a judgment since it is not a final determination of the rights of the parties. It is not final, but is a necessary step to determine what if anything the plaintiff has coming from the defendant. Corcoran v. Fousek, 126 M 223, 233 P 2d 1040, 1041.

When Court May Exceed Prayer

In divorce action it was not error for court to adjudge that plaintiff recover from defendant the amount of $2,040 which she had withdrawn from the bank although such relief was not requested in the prayer where the prayer asked "for such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and equitable in the premise." Rogers v. Rogers, 123 M 52, 209 P 2d 998, 1001.

93-4705. (9317) Action may be dismissed or nonsuit entered.

Operation and Effect

Where actions were commenced and the summons in each case was issued and served within the period and time limit fixed and allowed by express statutes, the trial court has no "discretion" to disregard the rules of practice and procedure so prescribed and attempt to shorten the time so allowed for the performance of the acts of which the defendant complains. Dismissal with Prejudice

A judgment of dismissal may be said to be on the merits when, after plaintiff has lost the right to a dismissal without prejudice because of the filing of a counterclaim, it appears that at the time set for trial he cannot make a case in support of his complaint, and not only fails and refuses to proceed with the presentation of his case but participates in the trial upon defendant's counterclaim. Schuster v. Northern Co., 127 M 39, 257 P 2d 249, 253.

Whether a judgment of dismissal is upon the merits largely depends upon the facts and circumstances of the particular case. Schuster v. Northern Co., 127 M 39, 257 P 2d 249, 253.

Where, in proceeding for writ of possession to enforce judgment in quiet title action, no answer had been filed, there were no pleadings before the court raising any issue of fact which could be tried by a jury. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 854.

93-4905. (9327) Issues of fact—how tried—when issues both of law and fact, the former to be first disposed of. In actions for the recovery of specific real or personal property, with or without damages, or for money claimed as due upon contract, or as damages for breach of contract, or for injuries, an issue of fact must be tried by a jury, unless a jury trial is waived, or a reference is ordered, as provided in this code. Where in these cases there are issues both of law and fact, the issue of law must be first disposed of. In other cases, issues of fact must be tried by the court, subject to its power to order any such issue to be tried by a jury, or to be referred to a referee, as provided in this code.

Section 3 of Ch. 84, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 25, 1949.

Pretrial Conference

(The following decisions were decided under the amendment of Ch. 61, L. 1939 and prior to amendment of Ch. 84, L. 1949 which repealed provisions for pretrial conference.)

The permission granted the court to require a pretrial conference does not violate the constitutional guarantee of a jury trial. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

A pretrial conference is not especially for the purpose of disclosure or discovery and the fact that plaintiff furnished defendant with a bill of particulars does not dispense with the reason for a pretrial conference. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 263, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

The district court has power to establish by rule a pretrial calendar, and to make the rule effective it is within the power of the court to provide that no jury case shall be set for trial until pretrial conference thereon is had. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

As used in referring to a court calendar the word "calendar" denotes merely a list of cases to be tried. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Where rule required pretrial conference before setting jury cases for trial it was not required that the rule contain any definite time for the calling of a jury after the pretrial conference. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 264, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Where a rule is adopted under the provisions of this section requiring a pretrial conference before a jury trial, such rule is not revoked in a particular case when the judge of the court is disqualified to act. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Repeal

These sections (Secs. 1 to 4, Ch. 277, Laws 1947), providing for the calling of a jury on request where a civil action was pending and ready for trial for two years, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 62, Laws 1949. For present provisions, see sec. 93-1501.

CHAPTER 50—TRIAL BY JURY—FORMATION OF JURY—CHALLENGES

Section 93-5011. Challenges for cause.

93-5008. (9341) Ballots—when drawn from box No. 3.

Operation and Effect

This section which requires the jurors drawn from jury box No. 3 to be discharged at the conclusion of the case has no especial connection with section 93-1510 and does not prevent jurors which are drawn under the provisions of such section from being drawn to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

93-5010. (9343) Challenge.

Allowance of, or refusal to allow, peremptory challenge after acceptance of juror. 3 ALR 2d 499.

Questioning jurors on voir dire regarding liability insurance in personal injury or death action. 4 ALR 2d 792.

93-5011. (9344) Challenges for cause. Challenges for cause may be taken on one or more of the following grounds:

1. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by this code to render a person competent as a juror;

2. Consanguinity or affinity within the sixth degree to any party.

3. Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, master and servant, debtor and creditor, employer and clerk, or principal and agent, to either party, or being a memmber of the family of either party, or a partner in business with either party, or surety on any bond or obligation for either party; provided, however, that a challenge for cause may not be taken because of debtor and creditor relation when the same arises solely by reason of current bills of gas, water, electricity or telephone;

4. Having served as a juror or been a witness on a previous trial between the same parties for the same cause of action;

5. Interest on the part of the juror in the event of the action, or in the main question involved in the action, except his interest as a member or citizen of a municipal corporation;

6. Having an unqualified opinion or belief as to the merits of the action;

7. The existence of a state of mind in the juror evincing enmity against or bias in favor of either party.

93-5111. (9359) Proceedings when verdict is informal.

Improper Verdict—Procedure

After a case has been submitted to the jury and a verdict returned, accepted and filed at the direction of the court and the jury discharged from the case, the only way to reach the verdict, if insufficient or against the law, is by a timely and proper motion for a new trial. Fauver v. Wilkoske, 123 M 228, 211 P 2d 420, 425, 17 ALR 2d 518.

Insufficient Verdict

Where the court in its original instruction told the jury it could find but one verdict and the jury returned with a verdict for the plaintiff and also one for the defendant for a lesser amount, the court was correct in sending the jury back for further deliberation and requiring but one verdict. Baranko v. Grenz, 127 M 18, 256 P 2d 1074, 1076.

Judgment Notwithstanding the Verdict

It is not permissible in this state to move for a judgment non obstante veredicto in a law case. Fauver v. Wilkoske, 123 M 228, 211 P 2d 420, 425, 17 ALR 2d 518.

CHAPTER 55—EXCEPTIONS—SETTLEMENT AND ALLOWANCE OF BILL

93-5505. (9390) Exceptions not presented at time of ruling—notice to adverse party, how settled upon, etc. Whenever a motion for a new trial is pending, no bill of exceptions need be prepared or settled until the decision of the court upon motion for a new trial has been rendered, but a bill shall be prepared and settled in the same manner and within the same length of time after the decision on the motion for a new trial as is hereinafter provided for the making and settling of bills of exceptions.

Except as above provided, the party appealing from a final judgment, if he desires to present on appeal the proceedings had at the trial, must, within fifteen (15) days after the entry of judgment if the action was tried with a jury, or after receiving notice of the entry of judgment if the action was tried without a jury, or within such further time as the court or judge thereof may allow, not to exceed sixty (60) days, except upon affidavit showing the necessity for further time, prepare and file with the clerk of the court and serve upon the adverse party a bill of exceptions, containing all of the proceedings had at the trial upon which he relies, in which bill the evidence shall, unless otherwise prescribed by a rule of the supreme court, be stated in narrative form, except that the particular portion of the record showing objections to the admission or rejection of testimony upon which the party preparing the bill expects to rely, shall be set out verbatim.

Within ten (10) days after such service, the adverse party may propose amendments thereto, and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the other party.

The proposed bill and amendments must, within ten (10) days thereafter, be presented by the party seeking the settlement of the bill to the judge who tried or heard the case, upon five (5) days' notice to the adverse party, or be delivered to the clerk of the court or judge. When received by the clerk, he must immediately deliver them to the judge, if he be in the county; if he be absent from the county, and either party desire the papers to be forwarded to the judge, the clerk must, upon notice in writing of either party, immediately forward them by mail, or other safe channel; if not thus forwarded, the clerk must deliver them to the judge immediately after his return to the county.

When received, the judge must designate the time and place at which he will settle the bill, and the clerk must immediately notify the parties of such designation. At the time designated, the judge must settle the bill.

If the action was tried before a referee, the proposed bill, with the amendments, if any, must be presented to such referee for settlement within ten (10) days after service of the amendments, upon notice of five (5) days to the adverse party, and thereupon the referee shall settle the bill. If no amendments are served, or if served are allowed, the proposed bill may be presented, with amendments, if any, to the judge or referee, for settlement without notice to the adverse party. It is the duty of the judge or referee, in settling the bill, to strike out of it all redundant and useless matter, so that the objections may be presented as briefly as possible.

When settled, the bill must be signed by the judge or referee with his certificate to the effect that the same is allowed, and shall then be filed with the clerk.

In compensation cases the record certified by the industrial accident board to the district court shall be a part of the judgment roll, and not a part of the bill of exceptions, and the appellant taking an appeal to the supreme court of the state of Montana, shall by praecipe to the clerk of the district court designate such portions only of the judgment roll as the appellant deems necessary to be certified to the supreme court of the state of Montana. A copy of the praecipe shall be served upon the respondent, and filed with the clerk, and respondent may within ten (10) days after the date of service of the appellant's praecipe, excluding the day of service, likewise by praecipe served upon the appellant and filed with the clerk, designate such portions of the judgment roll which respondent desires to have incorporated in the record on appeal. Only such portions designated by the praecipes need be certified by the clerk as constituting the judgment roll.

Effect of Failure to Present Bill within Time Limited by Statute

This section has specific application to the time that may be lawfully allowed for the preparation, service, filing and settlement of bills of exceptions. The provisions are mandatory; thus, where the statutory time of fifteen days has elapsed and there has not been an extension of time, the trial court is without power to settle or allow a bill of exceptions. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 991 to 995.

Section 93-3905 pertaining to a court giving relief to a party from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect does not authorize relief from failure of a litigant to prepare, serve, and file his bill of exceptions within the time fixed by this section as extended by lawful orders of the court made pursuant to timely application by the litigant or his counsel. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 991 to 995.

Effect of Failure to Present Bill within Time Limited by Statute or Extension of Time Granted by Court

Where a defendant served a proposed bill of exceptions after the time prescribed by statute and also after a 60 day extension granted by the court; the court was without jurisdiction to allow defendant's bill of exceptions and a motion to strike the bill of exceptions must be sustained. Kemp v. Murphy, 125 M 234, 233 P 2d 824.

Extension of Time

Where court extends the time and defendant relies on such extension Supreme Court will not deprive the defendant of the benefit of that order after the time for filing and serving the bill of exceptions has expired. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Loan Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

If court erroneously made order extending the time to prepare, serve and file bill of exceptions under this section it had authority to correct such order under the provisions of section 93-8405. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Loan Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

Limitation

It is doubtful whether the legislature intended when it amended this section to still have section 93-8708 operate as a further limitation upon the courts in granting extension of time for a bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Robbins v. Bonner, 128 M 45, 270 P 2d 400, 402.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-8708 are special statutes pertaining to the preparation and extension of time for the service and filing of bills of exceptions, and by the well-established rule of construction in this state, control over general statutes. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 995.

Appellant entitled to an extension of time within which to file a bill of exceptions where it was shown that the official court stenographer could not prepare a transcript setting forth the evidence and proceedings. Petition of Butts, 128 M 118, 271 P 2d 424.

Presumption When No Bill of Exceptions

Where record on appeal contains no bill of exceptions but only the judgment roll, the presumption must be indulged that the evidence introduced at the trial supports the trial court's finding and judgment. Tiffany v. Uhde, 123 M 507, 216 P 2d 375.

Record

On appeal, where the lower court order granting the appellant an extension of time for the filing and serving of a bill of exception showed that it was made upon application and a showing made, the Supreme Court will not presume that the lower court acted in violation of the applicable statute in the absence of a showing to the contrary. Erdmann v. Erdmann, 127 M 252, 261 P 2d 367, 368.

Time Motion for New Trial Submitted

Where trial judge after hearing arguments on a motion for a new trial and then made an order that the matter was not considered submitted until the parties filed briefs and allowed 30 days for the filing of briefs and then the final briefs were filed within 26 days, the motion for a new trial was considered submitted when the last brief was filed rather than at the end of the 30-day period allowed for filing the briefs since at that time the court had everything before it necessary to decide the motion for a new trial. State ex rel. Gilreath v. District Court, 127 M 431, 265 P 2d 651. (See, however, dissenting opinion, 127 M 431, 265 P 2d 651, 652.)

When Motion Deemed Denied and Jurisdiction Lost

Where more than 15 days elapsed before any further action was taken on a motion for a new trial, the motion was by force of this section deemed denied and the court had no jurisdiction thereafter to 93-5713. (9414) Satisfaction of a judgment—how made.

Compelling Acknowledgment of Satisfaction

Until a judgment is in fact satisfied the court has no authority to compel an acknowledgment of satisfaction or indorsement on the face of the judgment or on the margin of the record of judgment. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

"Satisfaction in Fact" Defined

"Satisfaction in fact" means payment of the judgment without the entry of record of such payment and a tender of satisfaction is not the same as satisfaction. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

Tender of Satisfaction Refused—Extinguishing Judgment

Where tender of satisfaction of judgment is refused there can be no "satisfaction in fact" of the judgment by the payment of the money into court, but the debt must be extinguished under the provisions of section 58-423. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

Construction

As enacted in 1915 there was no comma after the word "estate" in the quoted words at the end of this section, and the added comma is unnecessary. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 492.

Construction

The order for publication of summons referred to in this section is that provided for in section 93-6207. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

Operation and Effect

This section specifies no particular or exclusive kind of proof to establish the fact that lis pendens was filed in the county clerk's office. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

93-6206. (9482) Service of summons by publication, when. Upon the return of summons showing the failure to find any defendant specifically named in the complaint, the plaintiff may obtain an order for the service of summons upon such defendant, to be made by publication, upon filing with the clerk of said court an affidavit stating that such defendant resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid the service of summons, or that the defendant, if a foreign corporation, has no agent for the service of process, nor managing or business agent, cashier, secretary, or other officer within the state; or that the defendant, if a domestic corporation, has no officer or agent of such corporation, upon whom valid service of said corporation can be made and who can, after due diligence, be found within the state. Such affidavit shall be sufficient evidence of the diligence of any inquiry made by the affiant, if the affidavit recite the fact that diligent inquiry was made, and it need not detail the facts constituting such inquiry.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment substituted the words "that after due diligence and search" following "affidavit setting forth" for "the facts" and added the last sentence.

The 1953 amendment completely rewrote this section. Prior to amendment it read "When any defendant specifically named in such complaint resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid the service of summons, or when any defendant is a foreign corporation, having no agent for the service of process, nor managing or business agent, cashier, secretary, or other officer within the state, or when any defendant is a domestic corporation and none of the officers or agents of such corporation, upon whom valid service of said corporation can be made, can, after due diligence, be found within the state, the plaintiff, upon the return of the summons showing due personal service within the state upon all defendants specifically named in the complaint, other than such as come within the meaning of the foregoing provisions of this section, and upon filing with the clerk of said court an affidavit setting forth that after due diligence and search with reference to any of such defendants upon whom personal service of summons within the state cannot be made, within the meaning of the foregoing provisions of this section, may obtain an order for the service of summons upon such defendants last mentioned, to be made by publication. The affidavit shall be sufficient for all purposes if the same is worded in the terms of this statute."

Bentley v. Rosebud County, 230 F 2d 1.

93-6207. (9483) Order for publication of summons—how obtained—affidavit. The plaintiff or his attorney may obtain an order for the service of summons upon all unknown claimants or possible claimants by publication, upon filing with the clerk of court an affidavit stating that he has made diligent search and inquiry for all persons who claim, or might claim, any right, title, estate, or interest in, or lien, or encumbrance upon, such real property, or any thereof, adverse to plaintiff's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, whether such claim or possible claim be present or contingent, including any right of dower, inchoate or accrued, and has specifically named as defendants in such action all such persons whose names can be ascertained; a statement in such affidavit that said affiant has so made diligent search and inquiry shall be sufficient if made in the words of this statute and it need not detail, in any respect the acts constituting such diligent search and inquiry. One affidavit and order for service by publication may be made to include all defendants, known and unknown, upon whom such service is sought, and in such event but one (1) summons shall be published, and the same shall be directed to all defendants upon whom such summons shall be served by publication; but no order for service by publication shall be made until proof of the filing of the notice of the pendency of such action, in accordance with the provisions of section 93-6205, has been made to the court. That the order above provided for may be issued by either the judge or the clerk of the court, and any order for the service of summons by publication in quiet title actions which may have been heretofore issued or made by the clerk of the court is hereby declared to be valid and of the same force and effect as if the same had been issued or made by the judge of the court.

Ordering Satisfaction of Judgment

An order, after final judgment, ordering plaintiff to satisfy judgment upon tender of specified amount by defendant was an appealable order. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

Order Made after Final Judgment Denying Realtors' Motion to Strike from the Memorandum of Costs

Since an appeal may be taken from a special order made after judgment which modifies a judgment theretofore entered and adversely affects the rights of a party to the litigation, an application for a writ of supervisory control will be denied. State ex rel. Ferris v. District Court, 126 M 623, 255 P 2d 687.

B. What Orders May Not be Appealed From

Order for an Accounting

An order for an accounting is not an appealable order under this section. Corcoran v. Fousek, 125 M 223, 233 P 2d 1040, 1041.

In General

Effect of Failure to Appeal

Where a decree of distribution was entered on an estate and no appeal was taken from such decree, an affidavit thereafter filed and recorded, stating that the affiant was an heir and devisee of the will and claiming an interest in the real estate distributed, was void on the title to the land. Hart v. Barron, 122 M 350, 204 P 2d 797, 805.

Dismissal of Appeal

Where notice of appeal was not served in the time allowed by law, the Supreme Court is without jurisdiction and the appeal will be dismissed. Malick v. Peterson, 124 M 585, 228 P 2d 963.

Supreme Court Rule

Supreme Court Rule VI providing that the "transcript shall be served and filed within sixty days after the appeal is perfected or the appeal will be subject to dismissal on motion of the adverse party" has the force of a statute. In re Hanson's Estate, 128 M 270, 273 P 2d 103.

Time Limitation

Where the plaintiff failed to take his appeal within the statutory time limitation he could not obtain relief by a writ of review or a writ of supervisory control. McVay v. McVay, 128 M 31, 270 P 2d 393, 395.

Subd. 3—Appealable Orders

Order Denying Realtors' Motion to Strike from the Memorandum of Costs

93-8005. (9733) Appeal—how taken.

Service of Notice

The notice contemplated in this section is a legal notice which must be served in the manner provided in section 93-8502. Malick v. Peterson, 124 M 585, 228 P 2d 963.

The statute governing service of notice of appeal must be complied with in order to give the court jurisdiction. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

Service of Notice Must be On All Adverse Parties

Where two defendants had filed motions for change of venue and the motion was granted as to one but denied as to the other and an appeal was taken from the order granting the motion, notice of appeal should have been given to both defendants, and Supreme Court was without jurisdiction where only defendant in whose favor the motion was granted was given such notice. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

Time for Filing Undertaking

Held: that where notice of appeal was served by mail on Monday, February 4, 1952, that day is excluded from computation in accordance with section 90-407 and defendants then had five full days commencing with Tuesday, February 5th within which to file the undertaking on appeal. As by section 59-510 office hours in public offices on Saturdays are from nine o'clock to twelve noon, the filing of the undertaking on Monday, February 11th complied with the Code. Appellants may not be cut off with but four days nor with only four and one-half days nor with any other time less than the five full days allowed by statute. Fey v. A A Oil Corp., 126 M 552, 255 P 2d 339.

Who is an Adverse Party

An "adverse party" upon whom a notice of appeal is required to be served is one whose rights may be injuriously affected by a reversal or modification of the judgment from which the appeal is taken. Reardon v. Gilligan, 122 M 295, 202 P 2d 242, 244.

Where plaintiff alleged that he and defendant B jointly purchased land from the state with funds borrowed from defendant G in whose name deed was issued and prayed that the deed to G be declared a mortgage, and B answered denying any interest in the land, the administrator of B's estate (B having died) was an adverse party upon whom notice should have been served upon appeal by defendant G after judgment for plaintiff. Reardon v. Gilligan, 122 M 295, 202 P 2d 242.

Who is Entitled to Notice of Appeal

An adverse party within the meaning of the statute upon whom it is necessary to serve notice of appeal, is a party to a judgment whose rights may be injuriously affected by its reversal or modification, or one who has an interest in opposing the object sought to be accomplished by the appeal. Hence, one who would be benefited by a reversal is not an adverse party. McNaught v. Weyh, 128 M 418, 276 P 2d 491, 495.

93-8011. (9739) Stay of proceedings—court may limit security.

Operation and Effect

On appeal from a change of venue the court has jurisdiction not only to hear and determine the appeal but also to hear, determine and act upon any incidental matters arising while the appeal is pending and that may ultimately affect the rights of the parties litigant. Thus the Supreme Court has the power to consider and determine a motion to dissolve the attachment. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 114. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

Where a notice of appeal from a judgment was served and filed, jurisdiction over the parties to the controversy and the subject-matter thereof passed from the district court and vested in the Supreme Court. It then became the duty of the Supreme Court to maintain the status quo of the parties and their rights until the controversy could be determined in this court, so that rights involved in such appeal may not be lost or prejudiced prior to such determination. Benolken v. Miracle, 128 M 262, 273 P 2d 667, 669.

Where an appeal was taken from an order appointing a person executor, the district court and its clerk were then without jurisdiction to issue letters testamentary to the executor and allowing him to qualify. In re Hansen's Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Stay of Proceedings in Lower Court on Appeal

Where an appeal is taken from a judgment declaring ownership of certain cattle and the general recorder of marks and brands held money derived from the sale of such cattle and which he deposited with the district court, the ownership and right to possession of the money was a matter embraced within the action and judgment and the lower court will be stayed from distributing such money pending determination of the appeal. Benolken v. Miracle, 128 M 262, 273 P 2d 667, 670.

93-8014. (9742) Cases in which stay of proceedings not allowed.

Operation and Effect

The issuance of letters testamentary after an appeal had been taken from the order of appointment of an executor and all acts done pursuant to the letters so issued were beyond the jurisdiction of the district court and void. Section 93-8016 does not save the action as the executor had not qualified by the time of the taking of the appeal. In re Hansen's Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Prohibitory Injunction

The Supreme Court is not empowered to stay, pending an appeal, the operation of a perpetual prohibitory injunction ordered in a final judgment in the district court. Brackman v. Kruse, 122 M 91, 217 P 2d 203, 204.

93-8016. (9744) Acts of same valid when appointment vacated.

Construction

The district court proceeded without jurisdiction when its clerk issued letters testamentary to a person appointed executor when an appeal was taken from the order appointing such person executor and such appeal was taken before the executor qualified. Neither his letters nor his acts done thereunder are saved by this section inasmuch as he never qualified. In re Hansen's Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Held, that where a person was appointed administrator, but before he qualified, an appeal was taken from the order appointing him administrator, such person could not then qualify and enter into administration of the estate for at the time of attempting to qualify the district court had lost jurisdiction of the matter because of the appeal. In re Hansen's Estate, — M —, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Operation and Effect

A transcript on appeal must be certified to be correct by either the clerk of the trial court or by the attorneys in the case, and if it is not done, a motion to dismiss is well founded. Kemp v. Murphy, 125 M 234, 233 P 2d 824, 826.

Failure to File Transcript

Where no extension of time was requested nor allowed for the filing of appellant's transcript on appeal, the appeal must be dismissed. First National Bank of Missoula v. Mercer, — M —, 279 P 2d 695, 697.

Operation and Effect

A motion to dismiss an appeal on the grounds that no transcript or brief of appeal had been served or filed by the appellants within the time prescribed by the rules of the Supreme Court will be denied when it appears that prior to the consideration of the motion to dismiss the appellant's transcript had been filed with the Supreme Court and the record perfected to the satisfaction of the court and the delay in filing such transcript has been without laches on the part of the appellants. Subsequent Appeal

Where appeal was dismissed a subsequent appeal taken from the same judgment within the time allowed for taking appeals must likewise be dismissed. Libin v. Huffine, 124 M 361, 224 P 2d 144.

If plaintiffs are aggrieved by dismissal, their remedy is to promptly apply to Supreme Court to have order of dismissal modified and not to take another appeal from the same judgment. Libin v. Huffine, 124 M 361, 224 P 2d 144, 146.

Cross-appeal When Necessary

This section does not do away with the necessity for cross-appeals in cases wherein a party feels himself aggrieved by rulings on matters separate and distinct from those sought to be reviewed by appellant. Francisco v. Francisco, 120 M 468, 191 P 2d 317, 319, 1 ALR 2d 625.

In action to foreclose lien by taker up of animals under section 46-1410, where defendant appealed but plaintiff did not cross-appeal, a cross-assignment of error by plaintiff contending that allowance of ten cents per goat per day for caring for animals was not a reasonable allowance but that allowance should have been fifty cents per goat per day, could not be considered since the error was not of a compensatory character. Doornbos v. Ihde, 124 M 570, 228 P 2d 235, 237.

Failure to Make Assignment of Error or Cross Assignment of Error

Where appellant did not make an assignment of error, the court will likewise excuse the failure of the respondent to make a cross assignment of error. National Surety Corp. v. Kruse, 121 M 202, 192 P 2d 317, 318.

93-8201. (9770) Proceedings on offer of the defendant, etc.

Operation and Effect

An "offer to do equity" in the answer when not accepted can not be used in evidence nor can it be regarded as an admission that defendants had waived any of their defenses. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965.

CHAPTER 84—MOTIONS AND ORDERS

93-8401. (9772) Order and motion defined.

Motions

A motion is not made by merely filing an application in writing with the clerk of the district court, but by the moving of the court or judge viva voce, to grant the order. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 846.

As a motion is not an action but simply an application for an order it is not subject to the general rules of pleading. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 846.

Since, ordinarily no question not open on the hearing of the original or main motion is presented for decision by a motion to quash, dismiss, deny or strike from the files or records the original motion or by a demurrer to such original motion, such motion or demurrer is regarded as superfluous, frivolous, confusing and bad practice. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 846.

Extension of Time for Filing Bill of Exceptions

If court erroneously made order extending the time to prepare, serve and file bill of exceptions under section 93-5505, it had authority to correct such order under the provisions of this section. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

Objection to Order

Where order of court on application to perpetuate testimony was complained of the remedy was to apply to the court to vacate or modify the order and not by direct application for certiorari in the supreme court. State ex rel. Woodard v. District Court, 120 M 585, 189 P 2d 998, 1001; State ex rel. Lichte v. District Court, 121 M 34, 189 P 2d 1004, 1008.

Right to sue in forma pauperis as dependent on showing of financial disability of attorney or other non-party who are non-applicants. 11 ALR 2d 607.

CHAPTER 87—GENERAL PROVISIONS

93-8702. (9817) Lost papers—how supplied.

Operation and Effect

This section authorizes the trial judge to proceed with the trial on substituted carbon copies of the papers and pleadings rather than the original where the orginal papers and pleadings were missing. Mortenson v. Mortenson, — M —, 285 P 2d 834, 835.

93-8706. (9821) Actions—when deemed pending.

Operation and Effect

Where company went upon land six days after entry of district court judgment quieting title and expended large sums of money drilling well it acted at its peril where case was thereafter appealed and reversed. Rieckoff v. Consolidated Gas Co., 123 M 555, 217 P 2d 1076, 1080.

This section precisely states when an action is deemed pending. Wilson v. Wilson, — M —, 278 P 2d 219, 223.

Application

It is doubtful whether the legislature intended when it amended section 93-5505 to still have this section operate as a further limitation upon the court in granting extensions of time for a bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Robbins v. Bonner, 128 M 45, 270 P 2d 400, 402.

Notice of Appeal

This section makes it clear that the time prescribed by law for the serving of notices of appeal may not be extended thereunder for notices of appeal are specifically excluded from the operation of the statute. Thus are the courts denied the authority to extend the maximum time prescribed by statute for the service or filing of a notice of appeal. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 699.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-5505 are special statutes pertaining to the preparation and extension of time for the service and filing of bills of exceptions, and by the well-established rule of construction in this state, control over general statutes. Thus where a party did not present his bill of exceptions within fifteen days or get an extension of time for presenting the bill of exceptions, he could not rely on section 93-3905 pertaining to a court giving relief to a party from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect. Validity of legislation relating to publication of legal notices. 26 ALR 2d 655.

CHAPTER 89—UNIFORM DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS ACT

93-8901. (9835.1) Scope.

Application

If a governmental board delays unreasonably in instituting legal action seeking enforcement of its order and compliance with section 50-435, which requires coal mines to erect washrooms if they have more than 12 employees, the coal mine may institute an action at law for declaratory judgment under section 93-8901 et seq. Jeffries Coal Co. v. Industrial Accident Board, 126 M 411, 252 P 2d 1046, 1048.

Finding of Facts Required

In order to sustain a declaratory judgment the court must first have made findings of fact upon which the judgment could be based and the findings of fact cannot go outside the issues formulated by the pleadings. National Surety Corp. v. Kruse, 121 M 202, 192 P 2d 317, 319.

General Powers

The question as to whether property leased to a school district was exempt from taxation was proper to adjudicate in a declaratory judgment proceeding. Northwestern Improvement Co. v. Rosebud County, — M —, 288 P 2d 657, 659.

Operation and Effect

The judicial power under this act extends only to actual cases and controversies and not to abstract questions. Chovanak v. Matthews, 120 M 520, 188 P 2d 582, 586.

Suits against tax officials based upon the illegality of their action in assessing or collecting taxes are not considered suits against the state, so that it is not necessary for the plaintiff to allege that the state has consented to be sued under the Uniform Declaratory Judgment Act of Montana. Brophy Coal Co. v. Matthews, 125 M 212, 233 P 2d 397, 399.

CHAPTER 90—CERTIORARI (WRIT OF REVIEW)

93-9001. (9836) Writ of review defined.

Operation and Effect

Certiorari is an extraordinary remedy and the proceeding under the writ is a special proceeding. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

Review of Contempt

The only method to review an adjudication for contempt is by writ of certiorari. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

References

Cited or applied in State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 704.

93-9002. (9837) When and by what courts granted.

Grounds for Writ

The power of a court of review to issue a writ of certiorari is limited and the writ may be granted only when there has been an excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

Not Available to Correct Errors within Jurisdiction

The writ of certiorari cannot be employed to correct errors committed in the exercise of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 766.

Not Available When Time for Appeal Permitted to Lapse

The aggrieved party may not permit the time for taking an appeal to lapse and then have the judgment or order against him reviewed and annulled on writ of certiorari. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 766.

Not Available Where Error may be Reached by Appeal

District court exceeded its jurisdiction by issuing a writ of review and making orders against the justice of the peace when the record shows that (1) the justice of the peace was acting within his jurisdiction, (2) that the defendants may appeal to the district court from any judgment entered against them in the justice's court, (3) that on such appeal the cause will be tried anew in the district court, and (4) that such remedies so available to defendants are plain, speedy and adequate. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 861.

Operation and Effect

Writ of review is not available where the plaintiff simply did not take his appeal within the statutory time of 60 days under section 93-8004. McVay v. McVay, 128 M 31, 270 P 2d 393, 395.

What Must Be Shown to Obtain This Writ

To obtain relief by writ of certiorari three essentials must coexist, namely, excess of jurisdiction, absence of right to appeal and lack of a plain, speedy and adequate remedy other than certiorari. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

When Remedy Is Not Proper

The writ will not be granted for the correction of merely harmless, technical or formal errors which are not shown to have resulted prejudicially, or to have caused substantial injustice to the relator. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 766.

Where intermediate judgment requiring the payment of alimony pendente lite in action for divorce was not appealed, it cannot be reviewed and annulled on writ of certiorari after judgment for contempt. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 274.

Excess of Jurisdiction

The power of a court of review to issue a writ of certiorari is limited and the writ may be granted only when there has been an excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

A writ of certiorari to review judgment of contempt can only be made when there is a showing that the tribunal acted in excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Scope of Review

The hearing in a certiorari proceeding is limited to a review of the record of the inferior tribunal, board or officer for the sole purpose of determining from such record whether the tribunal, board or officer had jurisdiction to do the act, to make the order or to render the judgment of which complaint is made. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 766.

93-9011. (9846) Judgment roll.

Operation and Effect

This section must be construed with other statutes relating to appeal and effect given to all as if they were all parts of the same statute. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1015.

Papers in Judgment Roll

While this section sets forth the minimum contents of the judgment roll, it does not follow that only the papers therein enumerated may be incorporated in the judgment roll. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1015.

Special Proceeding

When there is an appeal from a final judgment entered in a special proceeding the judgment roll is that described in section 93-5707. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1015.

General Requisites for Issuance of Writ

The writ lies only when the person seeking it is entitled to have the defendant perform a clear legal duty, and then only when there is no speedy or adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 261, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Calling in of Another Judge

Mandamus is the proper remedy where a district judge fails to call in another district judge after an affidavit of bias has been filed under section 93-901. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Issuance of License

Mandamus will lie to compel issuance of license for logging trailer under section 53-122. State ex rel. Sharp v. Cross, 123 M 261, 211 P 2d 760.

Operation and Effect

Mandamus is properly issued to carry into effect the judgment of the Supreme Court where the district court fails for any reason to execute its mandate from the Supreme Court. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, — M —, 294 P 2d 907, 911.

When Mandamus is Not Proper

Where the holder of a registered brand died and thereafter the brand expired without being re-registered, the brand was then open to record by anyone; hence, mandamus brought by the administrator of the deceased person at a later date would not lie to require the recorder of marks and brands to record the brand in the administrator's name as there is no clear legal duty upon the recorder to do what the administrator required by his complaint. Benolken v. Miracle, — M —, 289 P 2d 953, 954.

Requiring successor judge to journalize finding or decision of predecessor. 4 ALR 2d 884.

Mandamus to protect charitable or eleemosynary corporation against use of same or similar name by another corporation. 27 ALR 2d 962.

93-9112. (9858) Damages, costs and peremptory mandate allowed, etc.

Attorney Fees

Attorney fees are damages within the meaning of the statute. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1078.

Where counsel for relatrix made several trips to consult with a judge who had been disqualified about calling in another judge and then later instituted mandamus proceedings to compel the appointment of another judge, such expenses of travel is not a proper item of costs incident to the institution of the mandamus proceeding. It was a matter that should have been attended to by letter or telephone. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1079.

Damages and Costs

Held that where the judge issued the order sought, one day after the relatrix instituted mandamus proceedings to compel the action, the relatrix could still recover reasonable attorneys' fees, costs and damages for instituting and prosecuting the mandamus proceedings. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1079.

CHAPTER 92—PROHIBITION—WRIT OF

93-9201. (9861) Prohibition defined.

Habeas Corpus Proceeding

Where, during the course of a divorce proceeding a judge is disqualified and another judge assumes jurisdiction and commits the husband to jail for contempt, on a habeas corpus petition brought by the jailed husband the disqualified judge would not be authorized to act and a writ of prohibition will lie to prohibit such judge from proceeding further in the habeas corpus matter. State v. District Court of Lewis and Clark County, — M —, 295 P 2d 233.

Nature of Writ

If the district court and judge were proceeding within the jurisdiction given them by the Constitution and statutes of this state, they may not be restrained by this writ out of the Supreme Court. Moreover, even though the district court at some point exceeded its jurisdiction, the writ of prohibition must be denied if the person has another plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. State ex rel. Adamson v. District Court, — M —, 279 P 2d 691, 693.

Prohibition does not properly issue as a writ of right, but only in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion to arrest the proceedings of courts, or tribunals or officers exercising judicial functions, but acting at the time without or in excess of its or their jurisdiction. State ex rel. Adamson v. District Court, — M —, 279 P 2d 691, 693.

Operation and Effect

Writ of prohibition does not lie against the county superintendent of schools to prevent her from acting in an appeal taken to her by a teacher who had been denied re-employment by the school board since by section 75-2411 appeals from such dismissals go to the county superintendent of schools. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209.

When Writ May Be Granted

Refusal of court to set aside indictments on grounds set forth in section 94-6601 may be reviewed on writ of prohibition under the authority granted the Supreme Court by Const., Art. VIII, sec. 2 giving it superintending control over the courts. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1039.

Supreme Court had jurisdiction to grant writ of prohibition to prevent payment of grand jury illegally in session. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

Writ May Run to End Litigation and Save Expense

The writ of prohibition may be issued to end litigation and save expense. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052, 1054.

93-9202. (9862) Where and when issued.

Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court issued an alternative writ of prohibition against a district court judge, and before the return date the district judge conceded that he was disqualified and would take no further part in the case in the district court, the alternate writ will be dissolved as there is no purpose for it. 93-9204. (9864) Certain provisions of the preceding chapter applicable.

Operation and Effect

This section adopts for writs of prohibition most of the statutes governing the practice applicable to writs of mandamus. Esterby v. Justice Court of Hellgate Township, 127 M 1, 256 P 2d 544, 546.

Pleading of Damages and Attorney Fees

The first condition to the recovery of damages and attorney fees is that they be claimed in the pleading. If they are not claimed in the pleading they are waived. State ex rel. Miller v. District Court, — M —, 294 P 2d 903, 904.

CHAPTER 97—FORCIBLE ENTRY AND UNLAWFUL DETAINER—ACTIONS FOR

93-9701. (9887) Forcible entry defined.

Operation in General

Where the right to possession of real property is in dispute, the owners thereof may not take the law into their own hands and proceed by violence to take possession thereof. In order to secure such possession, resort must be had to the peaceful process of law. Brown v. Grenz, 127 M 49, 257 P 2d 246, 248.

Agricultural Lands

The term "agricultural lands" as used in this section is to distinguish it from mining or urban property and it includes land used for grazing purposes. Hamilton v. Rock, 121 M 245, 191 P 2d 663, 666.

Notice to Quit

Whether notice that deal with regard to the sale of land was off and that if there was any further desire to buy or lease land they should see the party appointed to act as agent for the owner was a notice to quit, was a question for the jury. Hamilton v. Rock, 121 M 245, 191 P 2d 663, 666.

93-9803. (9910) A contempt committed in the presence of the court, etc.

Contemptuous Pleading

The filing of a complaint in a civil action containing immaterial and irrelevant allegations of scandalous and defamatory matter concerning the lives and characters of the members of the grand jury constituted contempt. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Where contempt was based on scandalous and defamatory allegations in pleading, which allegations were immaterial and irrelevant, the truth or falsity of the allegations is immaterial. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Sufficiency of Affidavit Charging Contempt

County attorney's accusatory affidavit was not insufficient because made on information and belief. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

County attorney's accusatory affidavit specifically charging that the accused filed a complaint containing false, malicious, untrue, libelous, defamatory and contemptuous matter concerning members of the grand jury and its prosecutor and that such a filing constituted contempt was sufficient. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Privilege against self incrimination as to testimony before grand jury as affecting contempt proceedings. 38 ALR 2d 239.

Proof

Where orders of court ordering payment of alimony pendente lite and support money and finding of ability to pay were not appealed, and there was substantial evidence in the record tending to establish ability to pay, court had jurisdiction to sentence for contempt. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 274.

93-9810. (9917) Judgment and penalty, if guilty.

Fine Enforced by Imprisonment

It is well settled in this jurisdiction that the payment of a fine imposed upon one adjudged guilty of contempt may be enforced by imprisonment and that imprisonment in excess of five days is permissible to compel such payment. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 767.

Purge Order

A purge order contained in a judgment for contempt is not coercive and beyond the jurisdiction of the court, they being for the defendant's benefit. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 768.

Suspension of Execution

Contempt order containing provision for the suspension of execution if monthly payments are made "each month after the present month, the execution of the judgment will continue to be suspended, and this for the period of one year; and if the payments have been continued for twelve of such calendar months then the execution of such judgment will be continued indefinitely," was not a judgment for an indefinite period of time but twelve months was fixed as the maximum of the coercive effect. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 769.

93-9811. (9918) If the contempt is the omission, etc.

Alimony—Failure to Pay

A person may be sentenced for contempt under this section for failure to pay alimony pendente lite although he has no money and no income, where it is shown that the defendant has the ability to obtain such funds by his labor. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 275.

Imprisonment

A person who refuses to perform a judicial order which he is able to perform may be imprisoned until he complies with such order. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 768.

93-9814. (9921) Judgment and orders in such cases final.

Operation and Effect

The writ of certiorari is discretionary and is only granted when there has been a showing that tribunal making the judgment of contempt acted in excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Any additional cost or expense required to be incurred in order to protect the underground gas storage reservoir against pollution and the escape of the gas therefrom, by reason of such boring or drilling through of the sand, stratum or formation used as such underground gas storage reservoir shall be paid by the persons, firm or corporation then owning such underground gas storage reservoir.

Highways

Under section 32-1615 the state highway commission is the only tribunal authorized to condemn land for relocating highways, and even assuming that the taking of an existing highway is justified by this section as a more necessary public use where the purpose is to build a dam and a reservoir; yet the public utility building the dam cannot acquire land for relocating the highway since that function is exclusively within the power of the highway commission. Appeals from Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

93-9908. (9940) The complaint and its contents. The complaint must contain:

1. The name of the corporation, association, commission, or person in charge of the public use for which the property is sought, who must be styled plaintiff.

2. The names of all owners and claimants of the property, if known, or a statement that they are unknown, who must be styled defendants.

3. A statement of the right of plaintiff.

4. If a right-of-way is sought, the complaint must show the location, general route, and termini, and must be accompanied with a map thereof, so far as the same is involved in the action or proceeding.

5. A description of each piece of land sought to be taken, and whether the same includes the whole or only a part of the entire parcel or tract. All parcels lying in the county, and required for the same public use, may be included in the same or separate proceedings, at the option of the plaintiff, but the court may consolidate or separate them to suit the convenience of the parties. When application for the condemnation of a right-of-way for the purposes of sewerage is made on behalf of a settlement, or town, or a county, the county commissioners of the county may be named as plaintiff.

6. If a sand, stratum or formation suitable for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir is sought to be appropriated, a description thereof and of the land in which it is alleged to be contained, and a description of all other property and rights sought to be appropriated for use in connection with the appropriation of the right to store natural gas in and withdraw natural gas from such reservoir. In addition, the complaint shall state facts showing that the underground reservoir is one subject to appropriation by plaintiff; also stating that the underground storage of natural gas in the land sought to be appropriated is in the public interest; that the underground reservoir is suitable and practicable for natural gas storage; that the plaintiff in good faith has been unable to acquire the rights sought to be appropriated hereunder and a statement that the rights and property sought to be appropriated are not prohibited by law; and in addition, the complaint must be accompanied by a certificate from the state oil and gas conservation commission as set forth in section 4 [93-804] of this act.

Amendments

The 1953 amendment substituted "is" for "be" at the beginning of subdivision 4; and added subdivision 6.

The 1955 amendment near the beginning of subd. 6 deleted the words "known to be" which appeared between the words "formation" and "suitable" and at the end of subd. 6 substituted "as set forth in section 4 of this act" for "setting forth its findings as to the existence of all of the facts contained in this paragraph."

93-9909. (9941) Summons, what to contain—how issued and served. The clerk must issue a summons, which must contain the names of the parties, a description of the lands and other property proposed to be taken, a statement of the public use for which it is sought, and a notice to the defendants to appear before the court or judge, at a time and place therein specified, and show cause why the property described should not be condemned as prayed for in the complaint. Such summons must, in other particulars, be in form of a summons in a civil action, and must be served in like manner upon each defendant named therein, at least ten (10) days previous to the time designated in such notice for the hearing, and no copy of the complaint need be served. But the failure to make such service upon a defendant does not affect the right to proceed against any or all other of the defendants, upon whom service of summons had been made.

93-9911. (9943) Power of court to appoint commissioners, etc. The court or judge has power:

1. To regulate and determine the place and manner of making the connections and crossings, and enjoying the common uses mentioned in subdivision 5, section 93-9904, and of the occupying of canyons, passes, and defiles for railroad purposes, as permitted and regulated by the laws of this state or of the United States;

2. To determine whether or not the use for which the property is sought to be appropriated is a public use, within the meaning of the laws of this state;

3. To limit the amount of property sought to be appropriated, if in the opinion of the court or judge the quantity sought to be appropriated is not necessary;

4. If the court or judge is satisfied that the public interests require the taking of such lands, it or he must make an order appointing three (3) competent persons, resident in said county, commissioners to ascertain and determine the amount to be paid by the plaintiff to each owner, or other person interested in such property, as damages, by reason of the appropriation of such property, and specify the time and place of the first meeting of such commissioners, and fixing their compensation. Any party may object to the appointment of any person as a commissioner on the same grounds that he might object to him as a trial juror.

5. If the property sought to be appropriated is a sand, stratum or formation suitable for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir and the existence and suitability of it for such use has been proved by plaintiff upon substantial evidence, the order of the court or judge shall direct the commissioners so appointed to ascertain and determine the amount to be paid by the plaintiff to each person for his interest in the property sought to be appropriated for use as such underground natural gas storage reservoir, and/or as the annual rental for the use of such underground gas storage reservoir and for the use of so much of the surface as is required in the operation of the said underground gas storage reservoir, and for use in connection with the creation, operation and maintenance thereof, and for all the native gas contained in said reservoir as compensation and damages by reason of the appropriation of such property; provided, however, the amount to be paid for such native gas and all thereof shall be no less than the market value of such gas.

The court shall appoint three (3) persons, qualified as experts and recommended as such by the oil and gas conservation commission of the state of Montana, to assist and advise the commissioners in determining the compensation and damages to be paid by plaintiff to each person for his interest in the property sought to be appropriated and the fees and expenses of such persons shall be chargeable as costs of the proceedings to be paid by the plaintiff.

If an order be made letting the plaintiff into possession, as provided in section 93-9920, the compensation and damages awarded shall draw lawful interest from the date of such order. Expenses of Action

Attorney's fees are not allowed as an expense of a proceeding in condemnation for a private road of necessity under this section or section 32-1401. Section 93-9922 adopts sections 93-8601 and 93-8618 to the proceedings. Under 93-8601 attorney's fees in condemnation proceedings are not enumerated, nor are they allowed under 93-8618 as a cost or disbursement less specifically authorized by law or is according to the course and custom of the court. In Montana it is not customary to include attorney's fees as a cost; and in this section and 32-1401 the term "expenses" is synonymous with the term "costs." Tomten v. Thomas, 125 M 159, 232 P 2d 723, 725, 26 ALR 2d 1285.

Operation and Effect

Under this section, the provisions of sections 93-8601 and 93-8618 are made applicable to condemnation proceedings for a private road of necessity and therefore attorney's fees are not includable as an expense under 93-9923. Tomten v. Thomas, 125 M 159, 232 P 2d 723, 725, 26 ALR 2d 1285.

Bloodhound Testimony

93-301-4. (10491) The degree of proof required to establish facts.

Degree of Proof

The law does not require demonstration. It does not require such a degree of proof as, excluding possibility of error, produces absolute certainty, because such proof is rarely possible. Moral certainty is only required, or that degree of proof which produces conviction in an unprejudiced mind. State v. Reid, 127 M 552, 267 P 2d 986, 990.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon, wherein the defendant was found guilty by a jury, it was held on appeal that in view of the uncertainty in the mind of the state's only eyewitness as compared with witnesses for defendant, coupled with the effect of this section and section 94-7208, the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction for the crime charged. State v. Gilbert, 125 M 104, 232 P 2d 338, 341.

CHAPTER 401—EVIDENCE—GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF

93-401-1. (10505) One witness sufficient to prove a fact.

Conflicting Evidence

Where there is any substantial evidence to support the findings of the trial court, even though the evidence is conflicting the supreme court will not interfere with the judgment and findings of the trial court. Hankins v. Waitt, 120 M 596, 189 P 2d 666, 667.

Operation and Effect

In deciding the facts of a case the trial judge could accept "the direct evidence of one witness who is entitled to full credit" to prove any fact and he was not bound to decide the facts in conformity with the declarations of any number of witnesses, who did not produce conviction in his mind, against a less number, or against a presumption or other evidence satisfying his mind. Report by physician taking or interpreting X-ray pictures. 6 ALR 2d 406.

Written recitals or statements as within rule excluding hearsay. 10 ALR 2d 1035.

93-401-4. (10508) Witness presumed to speak the truth.

Construction

It was error for the trial court to allow the testimony of a witness at the first trial to be read into evidence at the second trial of the defendant. It was the right of the defendant to have the jury see and observe the witness upon the witness stand. It was his right that the jury see how the witness acted while under direct and cross-examination. It was his right to have the jury judge the credibility of the witness from his appearance and manner while upon the witness stand. None of these rights could be had except and unless the witness met the defendant "fact to face" in the presence of the jury during the course of the trial. State v. Storm, 127 M 414, 265 P 2d 971, 973. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 414, 265 P 2d 971, 975.)

Cases which permit testimony, given by a witness in a first trial, to be read into evidence in a second trial, in the absence of such witness, are based upon the theory that the accused has been present when the witness gave the testimony in the first trial and had the opportunity of then cross-examining such witness. Such cases proceed upon the theory that the observation by the jury of the manner and demeanor of the witness is no essential part of the right of a defendant to meet the witness face to face. Montana subscribes to no such theory. To do so would be to make this section a useless and meaningless thing and would deny the defendant the right to meet the witness against him face to face, a right guaranteed him by Art. III, sec. 16 of the state Constitution. State v. Piveral, 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970.)

On a second trial of a defendant the testimony of a state witness given at the first trial could not be read into evidence at the second trial since to do so would be to deprive the defendant of his right to meet a witness face to face. State v. Piveral, 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970.)

Operation and Effect

Where there is ample substantial evidence to sustain a jury's verdict the supreme court will not disturb it. Roberts State Bank v. O'Rourke, 121 M 228, 191 P 2d 321.

93-401-7. (10511) Declarations which are a part of the transaction.

Operation and Effect

The receiving in evidence of exhibits of one of the counsel of plaintiff which contained figures taken from the books of account kept by plaintiff from which computation was made of the loss of profits to plaintiff by reason of defendant's negligence was proper. McCollum v. O'Neil, — M —, 281 P 2d 493.

The use of memoranda containing computations made from records is proper. This method of getting before the jury the result of the examination of books of account and records is to be commended. McCollum v. O'Neil, — M —, 281 P 2d 493, 497.

In General

This section does not authorize the introduction of parol evidence to show the execution of a deed where the entire deed is in evidence including the printed lines for the signature of the party executing the instrument and also the lines for the notary but no signatures appear thereon and the paper gives no evidence that any signatures ever appeared thereon, although plaintiff claimed that the signatures disappeared while the deed was in the ground for a period of nine years. Miller v. Miller, 121 M 55, 190 P 2d 72, 74.

Operation and Effect

Since the original legislative intent in enacting Laws 1933, Ch. 105, was by Sec. 65 (sec. 4-170) to prohibit billboard or signboard advertising of beer, it cannot be said that the legislature of 1949 in enacting Ch. 209 (sec. 4-102) for the purpose of clarifying the distinction between liquor and beer intended to repeal such prohibition without specifically repealing such provision. Operation and Effect

On cross-examination, questions as to the extent of sweeping done by the witness in performance of his duties at work is collateral and does not affect the credibility of the witness on the vital point that he followed the green truck after weighing it and saw defendants scoop corn from it onto another truck. 93-601-2. Disclosure of source of information—when not required. No persons engaged in the work of, or connected with or employed by any newspaper or any press association, or any radio broadcasting station, or any television station for the purpose of gathering, procuring, compiling, editing, disseminating, publishing, broadcasting or televising news shall be required to disclose the source of any information procured or obtained by such person in the course of his employment, in any legal proceeding, trial or investigation before any court, grand jury or petit jury, or any officer thereof, before the presiding officer of any tribunal, or his agent or agents, or before any commission, department, division or bureau of the state, or before any county or municipal body, officer or committee thereof.

93-701-2. (10534) All persons capable of perceptions, etc.

Testimony of children as to grounds of divorce of their parents. 2 ALR 2d 1329.

93-701-3. (10535) Persons who cannot be witnesses.

Subd. 3

Competency After Testimony of Another

In action on claim against estate for money loaned by daughter to deceased, it was proper, after testimony of witness that she heard plaintiff say, "Could I have the money you owe me, Mother?" to which the mother replied "Yes, I owe you $520 and you will get every cent of it," to permit plaintiff to testify in her own behalf concerning the making of the loan to her mother. Ahlquist v. Pinski, 120 M 355, 185 P 2d 499, 501.

Operation in General

A party to an action to enforce a contract to make a will may not testify as to the facts of direct transactions or oral communications between himself and the deceased, except when, without the testimony of the witness injustice will be done. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 619.

Court should not admit testimony of witness who is party to case to enforce agreement alleged to have been made with deceased until sufficient other independent testimony has been admitted to warrant the court, in exercise of its discretion, to render a ruling in favor of such testimony, which discretion must be exercised with caution and reasonable strictness. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 619.

Sufficiency of Foundation Evidence

Evidence which tends to establish at most nothing more than an intention on the part of the testator to leave to another a certain sum of money, will not support an allegation of express agreement or contract to do so, so as to permit testimony of plaintiff as to contract made with deceased. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 621.

Subd. 4

Operation and Effect

Under the exception to this section, which allows the testimony of a party or assignor "when it appears to the court that without the testimony of the witness injustice will be done" there must first be sufficient other testimony admitted to warrant the court, in the exercise of its discretion to rule in favor of the questionable testimony. Potlatch Oil & Refining Co. v. Ohio Oil Co., 199 F 2d 766.

Under the Montana dead mens statute, the testimony of an assignor of the plaintiff relating to a conversation with one of defendant's officers was properly excluded since the officer of defendant was now dead, nor was it admissible under Rule 43 (a) of the Federal Rules since the witness, a stockholder of plaintiff corporation, was interested in the outcome of the suit. Potlatch Oil & Refining Co. v. Ohio Oil Co., 199 F 2d 766.

Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding, whether the original is in existence or not, and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence, if the original reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original.

93-1401-7. (10613) Agreement not in writing—when invalid.

The memorandum must contain all the essentials of the contract but if the material elements are stated in general terms all the details or particulars need not be stated. Johnson v. Elliot, 123 M 597, 218 P 2d 703, 707.

93-1501-1. (10616) Evidence to be produced, by whom.

Operation and Effect

Where a plaintiff may be aided by a permissive inference as prima facie support of her contention, her opponent need do no more than counter-balance such permissive inference or prima facie case; he is not required to overbalance or outweigh it and when the whole of the evidence upon the issue involved leaves the case in equipoise, the one affirming on whom rests the burden must lose. Whitney v. Northwest Greyhound Lines, 125 M 528, 242 P 2d 257, 264, 265 (dissenting opinion).

Operation and Effect

Where a plaintiff offers a deposition in evidence, he is not bound by such evidence in the sense that he may not offer evidence that conflicts with it and have all the evidence considered by the jury. McCollum v. O'Neil, — M —, 281 P 2d 493, 496.

CHAPTER 1901—EVIDENCE—GENERAL RULES OF EXAMINATION

Discretion of Court

The matter of excluding witnesses rests in the discretion of the trial court and the supreme court will not disturb the action of the trial court in the absence of a showing of prejudice. Smith v. Armstrong, 121 M 377, 198 P 2d 795, 799.

93-1901-3. (10661) Court may control mode of interrogation.

Limitation of Re-examination

Where re-direct examination did not elicit any new matters court did not err in denying the defendant an opportunity for re-cross-examination. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 666.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 93-401-25, the trial court may control the cross-examination of witnesses. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 819.

93-1901-7. (10665) Cross-examination, as to what.

Cross-examination as to Matters Stricken from the Records

There is no merit to the defendant's contention that she was unduly restricted in the cross-examination of a witness when she was not permitted to examine the witness as to what he had testified to in the morning because it was ordered stricken from the record. The defendant was permitted to examine the defendant as to what occurred during the trip which was what the morning examination of the witness had been about. State v. Robuck, 126 M 302, 248 P 2d 817.

Cross-examination of witness in criminal case as to whether, and with whom, he has talked about or discussed the facts of the case. 35 ALR 2d 1045.

Impeachment of witness by evidence or inquiry as to arrest, accusation, or prosecution. 20 ALR 2d 1421.

93-1901-10. (10667) Witness, how examined—when re-examined.

Limitation of Re-examination

Where re-direct examination did not elicit any new matters court did not err in denying the defendant an opportunity for re-cross-examination. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 666.

93-1901-11. (10668) How impeached.

Improper Method of Impeachment

Defendant was deprived of a substantial right, the right to object to questions and answers which were collateral, immaterial and prejudicial, when a fourteen page document was introduced and accepted in evidence over defendant's objection, which document contained some matters which were collateral, immaterial and prejudicial although some of the statements were proper impeaching evidence. By accepting the entire document, the defendant was prevented from excluding immaterial and collateral matters. State v. Deeds, 126 M 38, 243 P 2d 314.

Particular Wrongful Acts Not Admissible

In a prosecution for rape, evidence tending to show that the defendant had committed rape upon another woman at some prior time was inadmissible as tending to establish a systematic scheme or plan, or connecting the defendant with the crime charged. Such evidence only tended to show bad character and disposition and if the defendant introduced no evidence of his good reputation, such evidence is clearly inadmissible. State v. Sauter, 125 M 109, 232 P 2d 731, 733.

Prejudicial and Incompetent Questions

Where the county attorney continually asked one of defendant's character witnesses about how many times he had been in jail in different counties it was not proper questioning and it cannot be said that a defendant has had a fair and impartial trial where the prosecutor continually asks the defendant or his witnesses prejudicial and incompetent questions. State v. Toner, 127 M 283, 263 P 2d 971, 975.

Proper Method to Impeach

Where a defendant takes the stand and upon cross-examination admits his prior convictions, the purpose of the statute was served, weakening his credibility as a witness. To go further and introduce the judgment showing such prior convictions serves no good purpose and it is prejudicial error to admit it. State v. Coloff, 125 M 31, 231 P 2d 343, 344.

Testimony in Juvenile Court may be Used for Impeachment of Juvenile as a Witness

Section 10-611, which prohibits the "disposition of a child or any evidence given in the juvenile court being used as evidence against the child in any other case or proceeding," applies only when the child is a party to a later proceeding. Prior contradictory statements made in the juvenile court may be admitted when the juvenile is a witness in a later proceeding for the purpose of impeachment. State v. Searle, 125 M 467, 239 P 2d 995, 997, 998.

93-1901-13. (10670) Evidence of good character—when allowed.

Action for Slander

In action for slander where complaint alleged that manager of drug store stopped plaintiff in front of store and "maliciously intending to injure the good name and character of plaintiff" accused her of stealing an article from the store and that "by means of said defamatory words the plaintiff has been greatly injured in her good name and character" and answer was general denial and affirmative defense containing defendant's allegations of what had taken place, there was no issue raised of plaintiff's character so as to permit plaintiff to introduce evidence of her honesty and integrity. Military record or discharge from army or navy as evidence to show character or reputation. 9 ALR 2d 606.

CHAPTER 20—EVIDENCE, EFFECT OF

93-2001-1. (10672) Jury judges of effect of evidence, etc.

Subd. 2

Operation in General

In deciding the facts of a case the trial judge could accept "the direct evidence of one witness who is entitled to full credit" to prove any fact and the trial judge was not bound to decide the facts in conformity with the declarations of any number of witnesses, who did not produce conviction in his mind, against a less number, or against a presumption or other evidence satisfying his mind. Davis v. Burton, — M —, 278 P 2d 213, 218.

Subd. 3

All Parts of Testimony Not Necessarily Rejected

Although court was satisfied that testimony on one point was deliberately false, it would only furnish grounds for distrusting other parts of the witness's testimony and would not necessarily call for a rejection of all of it. Sanders v. Sanders, 124 M 595, 229 P 2d 164, 166.

Subd. 4

Instructions Based on This Subdivision

Where the defense requested instructions as to the effect of accomplice's testimony and there was evidence in the record from which the jury might have concluded that a deputy sheriff was an accomplice of the defendant, the court should have instructed the jury that if they believed the deputy sheriff was an accomplice then they must weigh his evidence as provided by this section and that such evidence must be corroborated as required by section 94-7220. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

Subd. 5

Burden of Proof

In an action to cancel and terminate a lease, the burden was on the plaintiffs to prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the defendants had violated the lease as charged in the complaint. Davis v. Burton, — M —, 278 P 2d 213, 218.

CHAPTER 2201—EVIDENCE—RULES IN PARTICULAR CASES

When Tender Unnecessary

In action for specific performance by lessee having option to purchase real property, tender could not be objected to where it was evident that defendants would not have conveyed property no matter what was done in the way of a tender and no objection was made to the tender at the time it was made. Fiers v. Jacobson, 123 M 242, 211 P 2d 968, 974.

93-2201-5. (10684) Compromise offer of no avail.

Evidence Inadmissible

Operation and Effect

An "offer to do equity" in the answer when not accepted can not be used in evidence nor can it be regarded as an admission that defendants had waived any of their defenses. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965, 970.

CHAPTER 2301—EVIDENCE—PROCEEDINGS TO PERPETUATE TESTIMONY

93-2301-1. (10686) Evidence may be perpetuated.

Objection to Order

Where order of court on application to perpetuate testimony was complained of the remedy was to apply to the court to vacate or modify the order under section 93-8405 and not by direct application to the supreme court for a writ of certiorari. State ex rel. Woodard v. District Court, 120 M 585, 189 P 2d 998, 1001; State ex rel. Lichte v. District Court, 121 M 34, 189 P 2d 1004, 1008.

Purpose

An application under this statute must be made in good faith for the purpose of obtaining, preserving and using material testimony. State ex rel. Woodard v. District Court, 120 M 585, 189 P 2d 998, 1000.

93-2301-2. (10687) Manner of application for order.

Request for Papers

Under order to perpetuate testimony by taking depositions, it is not proper for attorney to request that witness have books, papers and accounts which might throw light on the facts expected to be proved. State ex rel. Woodard v. District Court, 120 M 585, 189 P 2d 998, 1000.

93-2301-6. (10691) When the evidence may be produced.

Operation and Effect

Petition for Deposition

Where a petition for the taking of a deposition is barren of any allegation that it is sought for the purpose of perpetuating his testimony or that it is sought for use at a contemplated trial in the event that such person at that time would be unable to give testimony, and in fact the petition shows that it is for the purpose of ascertaining the financial capabilities of the party, it should be denied. State ex rel. Neilson v. District Court, 128 M 445, 277 P 2d 536, 539. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 445, 277 P 2d 536, 540.)

CHAPTER 2—PERSONS LIABLE TO PUNISHMENT—PARTIES TO CRIME

94-201. (10729) Who are capable of committing crimes.

Instructions

Refusal to give instruction under subd. 6 of this section was not reversible error in view of other instructions given. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

References

Cited or applied in State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1062 (dissenting opinion); State v. Smith, 126 M 124, 246 P 2d 227, 228.

94-204. (10732) Who are principals.

Instructions

Where a verbal declaration of one codefendant that he and the other codefendant were partners was given in evidence, it was error for the court to refuse defendant's instruction that such verbal declaration is insufficient to establish a partnership. Although a partnership was immaterial because of this section and section 94-6423, yet the jury may have given full consideration to the declaration and found defendant guilty on the strength thereof. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 821.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 94-6423, evidence was sufficient to sustain a conviction of assault in the second degree where defendant was at the scene of the crime and was admittedly a participant therein; it is not necessary to show that he actually fired any one of the guns. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 484.

94-304. (11020) Desertion or abandonment of children a felony, etc.

Change of Plea of Guilty

Where defendant was charged with desertion of minor children and upon arraignment the defendant indicated that he wanted to plead guilty and court read him this section making it a felony to desert and abandon children under 15 years of age, and also sections 94-301 and 94-302 which make it a misdemeanor to omit without lawful excuse to furnish necessary board, clothing, shelter or medical attention to children under the age of 16 years, the court abused its discretion in refusing to grant the defendant's motion to change his plea of guilty since there was a misunderstanding as to what the defendant pleaded guilty. State v. McBane, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218, 222.)

94-306. (11022) Cruelty to children.

CHAPTER 4—ABORTION

94-401. (11023) Administering drugs, etc., with intent to, etc.

Admissibility of evidence of commission of similar crimes in prosecution based on abortion. 15 ALR 2d 1080.

Necessity, to warrant conviction of abortion, that fetus be living at time of commission of acts. 16 ALR 2d 949.

CHAPTER 6—ASSAULTS

94-601. (10976) Assault in the first degree defined—penalty.

Criminal Intent

The element of felonious intent in every contested criminal case must necessarily be determined from the facts and circumstances of the particular case, this for the reason that criminal intent, being a state of mind, is rarely susceptible of direct or positive proof and therefore must usually be inferred from the facts testified to by witnesses and the circumstances as developed by the evidence. State v. Madden, 128 M 408, 276 P 2d 974, 978.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for assault in the first or second degree the prosecution had to prove by satisfactory evidence, that when the defendant pointed a gun at a person he intended to commit a felony upon that person; instructions defining the felony must be given to the jury so that the jury can determine if the evidence showed such intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059 (the court was not in agreement on this however, see the dissenting opinions of two judges on pages 1060, 1063).

Indecent proposal to woman as criminal assault. 12 ALR 2d 971.

Instructions on This Section

Instructions defining the felony intended to be committed must be given to the jury in a prosecution of assault in the first or second degree so that the jury may determine if the evidence showed an intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

Subd. 4

Evidence was insufficient to justify a conviction of second degree assault with a deadly weapon where it was disclosed that the defendant was hunting jack rabbits at the time; that he never knew the prosecuting witness prior to the day of the alleged assault; that the rifle was extremely sensitive and would fire upon being brushed against an object such as clothing or even a change in temperature might fire the gun; and that the defendant was an instructor in firearms in the army during the war and would not have missed from the distance of eight feet had he been aiming at the prosecuting witness. State v. Smith, 126 M 124, 246 P 2d 227, 228.

Evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction under this section when it was shown that defendant was with a group of boys who fired a barrage of shots at a house and some of the pellets hit the house; the fact that the prosecuting witness had moved to a position away from the line of fire did not prevent the attack from being an assault upon him and sustained the charge that the guns were fired toward him and in his direction. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 482, 483, 484.

Proof of Offense Different Than That Charged

Where defendant was charged with assault in the second degree as defined in subd. 4, it was error to introduce evidence that the defendant in pointing the firearm was resisting a lawful arrest by the sheriff in violation of subd. 5. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where evidence did not show that defendant pointed gun at sheriff after he was handed paper by deputy which purported to be a warrant, evidence was insufficient to support a conviction under either subd. 4 or 5 of this section. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 678.

Sufficiency of Information

Information charging defendant with unlawfully threatening another by pointing a loaded revolver at him charged a criminal offense. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

References

Cited or applied in State ex rel. Neilson v. District Court, 128 M 445, 277 P 2d 536, 539.

Instructions

It was error to refuse defendant's instructions defining assault in the third degree, and instead instructing the jury as to assault in the first and second degree but omitting any instructions defining what felony was intended to be committed by assaulting a person with a gun. Since the jury had no way of knowing what felony, if any, the defendant intended to commit upon a person by pointing a gun at him, the jury should have been allowed to consider whether or not defendant was guilty of third degree assault. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

94-605. (10980) Use of force not unlawful.

Subd. 3

Operation and Effect

Evidence failed to justify a conviction of assault with a deadly weapon when it was shown that the defendant was merely exercising force in defense of his home, inasmuch as the prosecuting witness came to defendant's cabin in the company of another fellow who had intruded in defendant's home and lived there without defendant's permission and who the defendant had to forcibly evict, and also someone had been stealing log poles from the defendant. State v. Nickerson, 126 M 157, 247 P 2d 188, 192, 193.

CHAPTER 7—BIGAMY AND INCEST

94-705. (11029) Incest.

Amendment of Information

There was no substantial change in the charge where the court allowed the state to amend an information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery." Whether the defendant was married and unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, — M —, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

CHAPTER 8—BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

94-804. (10856) Improper attempts to influence jurors, referees, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where the evidence discloses that the defendant conversed with a grand juror privately at the latter's home it can not be construed to be in the regular course of proceedings and thus within the exception to this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

94-806. (10858) Embracery.

Operation and Effect

After a person has been discharged as a grand juror, the crime of embracery could not be committed even though the defendant thought he was influencing a grand juror. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 987.

CHAPTER 9—BURGLARY AND HOUSEBREAKING—POSSESSION OF BURGLARIOUS INSTRUMENTS AND DEADLY WEAPONS

Section 94-901. Burglary defined.
94-904. Word "enter" defined.

94-901. (11346) Burglary defined. Every person who enters any house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, tent, motor vehicle and aircraft, vessel, or railroad car, with intent to commit grand or petit larceny or any felony, is guilty of burglary.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment inserted the word "automobile" and the word "or" before "railroad car."

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "motor vehicle and aircraft" for the word "automobile."

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 17, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 18, 1957.

Truck

The legislature has made it clear that an automobile and truck are to be considered two distinct and separate vehicles for registration and tax purposes. It does not make sense to hold that the legislature intended, in making entry into an automobile burglary, to have intended the word "automobile" as a general term, and to include automobiles, trucks, busses and the like. Had the legislature intended to use a general term, it would have used the term "motor vehicle." Certainly no interpretation should be given any word which would make an act a crime unless it is clear that the legislature intended that interpretation should be given such word. State v. Duran, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1052. (See, however, the dissenting opinion, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1054.)

94-902. (11347) Degrees of burglary.

Failure to Prove Time Crime Was Committed

Where the information alleges nighttime or first degree burglary it is essential that the state prove the crime occurred during the nighttime as provided in section 94-905. When the evidence is that the crime took place sometime between 3:15 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. and that on the particular day the sun rose at 5:56 a.m. a conviction of nighttime burglary cannot stand. State v. Fitzpatrick, 125 M 448, 239 P 2d 529.

94-904. (11349) Word "enter" defined. The word "enter," as used in this chapter, includes the entrance of the offender into such house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, tent, automobile, vessel, or railroad car, or the insertion therein of any part of his body, or of any instrument or weapon held in his hand, or used or intended to be used, to threaten or intimidate the inmates, or to detach or remove the property.

History: En. Sec. 823, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8623, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 11349, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 126, L. 1949.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted the words "store, mill, barn" and the word "automobile."

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 126, Laws 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 4 of Ch. 126, Laws 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1949.

94-905. (11350) Nighttime defined.

Operation and Effect

When an information charges nighttime or first degree burglary, proof that the crime occurred in the period between sunset and sunrise is essential in order to convict the defendant. State v. Fitzpatrick, 125 M 448, 239 P 2d 529.

CHAPTER 10—COMMON NUISANCES—MAINTENANCE IN CONNECTION WITH SELLING INTOXICATING LIQUORS—OPIUM—PROSTITUTION AND GAMBLING

94-1001. (11123) Definition of "person" and "building."

Operation and Effect

Actions for the prosecution of gambling laws may be prosecuted under either of these sections or under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404, or under each and all of such sections. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

Fact that county attorney proceeded under this law for abatement of gambling nuisance, rather than under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404 for criminal punishment, is not a matter of which the defendant can complain on appeal. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

94-1002. (11124) Certain buildings declared nuisances.

Cross-Reference

See note to sec. 94-1004. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307; State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Punch Boards

Premises wherein punch boards are operated may be abated as a nuisance inasmuch as punch boards constitute a lottery and play at lottery is gambling. Sections 84-5701, 84-5702 (since repealed) and 94-2401 which assume to authorize the use of punch boards as trade stimulators violate § 2, Art. XIX of the Montana Constitution, which prohibits the legislature from authorizing lotteries, and therefore are invalid and do not prevent the abatement of the premises as a nuisance. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140.

94-1003. (11125) County attorney to abate nuisance, etc.

References

94-1004. (11126) Verification of complaint—temporary injunction.

Law Applicable

The procedure for the abatement of a nuisance per se provided by the statute is that set forth by this law and the general procedure for the issuance of an injunction in ordinary civil cases has no application. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Order Quashing Injunction Appealable

Where temporary injunction enjoining defendant from conducting the business constituting a nuisance as described in the complaint was quashed same day of issuance and an order issued enjoining defendant from operating "any of the games of chance described in the complaint contrary to the laws of the State of Montana," such order was appealable. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Quashing Injunction Prior to Hearing

Where complaint and affidavits showed prima facie that premises constituted a nuisance per se, it was error to quash the temporary injunction issued thereunder when defendant filed affidavit under provisions of section 93-4211, but injunction should have remained in effect until a hearing was had. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Verified Complaint

A complaint filed by a person other than the county attorney, if verified on information and belief pursuant to section 93-3702, is sufficient for the issuance of a temporary injunction. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

94-1009. (11131) Owner may give bond—terms of bond, etc.

Operation and Effect

This section did not give authority to court to order the return of the property to the owners where sheriff in executing judgment made return of no gambling equipment found notwithstanding that defendants had stipulated that gambling equipment was in their possession. State ex rel. Olsen v. Craven Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1033.

Section 94-1475. Political literature to contain name of officer of organization or person publishing and producing.
94-1476. Violation of preceding section a misdemeanor.

94-1454. (10800) Political criminal libel.

Compiler's Note

This section may be partially superseded by sec. 94-1475.

94-1475. Political literature to contain name of officer of organization or person publishing and producing. It shall be unlawful for any person to publish, print, mimeograph, type or otherwise produce any dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document which is designed to aid, injure or defeat any candidate or any political party or organization or measure before the people unless it is stated therein the name of the chairman or secretary, or the names of the other officers of the political or other organization publishing, printing, mimeographing, typing or otherwise producing such dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document or the name of some voter who is responsible therefor with his residence and street address, if any, together with the name of the publisher, printer or the producer thereof with his residence and street address, if any, or his place of business.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 74, L. 1951.

CHAPTER 18—FALSE PERSONATION AND CHEATS

94-1805. (11410) Obtaining money or property by false pretenses.

Application

A defendant charged under section 94-1806 with obtaining property by means of a confidence game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that the defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under this section because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Evidence of an Offense Not Charged in the Information

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees, by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor it was prejudicial error for the court to admit evidence of another claim submitted by the county surveyor to the county which offense was not charged in the information (Justices Bottomly and Angstman dissenting). State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Information

Where a statute uses general or generic words in defining the offense the information or indictment bottomed upon that statute must specify the particular facts which constitute the offense. State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 232. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

An information may be drawn consistent with this section which is not vulnerable to the objection that it is bad for duplicity for charging an offense under section 94-3908 (presenting fraudulent claim to a county). State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 234. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Information which avers only that the defendant made a "false" or "fraudulent" representation is not sufficient. It must expressly allege the facts which made the stated pretense false. State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 232. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

To characterize a representation as "false" or "fraudulent" does not suffice to state the offense. The particulars in which the representations relied upon are false must appear from facts directly and positively set out. State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 231. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Operation and Effect

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor, the public policy of this state under section 94-5516 is that, as a matter of defense, the county officer is entitled to offer evidence of his good faith or honest mistake and the value received by the county. State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

94-1806. (11411) Confidence games.

Application

Where evidence disclosed that all the defendant did, to induce the complaining witness to give him the ring, was, after she had broached the subject of oil wells, to say, in effect that he had an oil well in Louisiana from which he received $800 a month income, and that he would cut her in for $200 of that income. The jury could assume such statements were false, since, according to the complaining witness, neither the first $200 due July 15th, nor any other was ever paid to her. Defendant should have been prosecuted under section 94-1805 "obtaining money or property by false pretenses," not under this section "confidence games." State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Operation and Effect

A defendant charged under this section with obtaining property by means of a confidence or bunco game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under section 94-1805, because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

94-2001. (11355) Forgery of wills, conveyances, etc.

Act Committed by Indian on Indian Reservation

State court was without jurisdiction to try an Indian for forgery of a check where the Indian attempted to cash the check on a store located within the boundaries of an Indian Reservation. The defendant is still a ward of the federal government and is still under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government for all acts and crimes defined and made punishable by the laws of Congress, when committed within the exterior boundaries of an Indian reservation. State ex rel. Bokas v. District Court, 128 M 37, 270 P 2d 396.

Non-negotiable Instruments

The fact that a warrant is non-negotiable does not affect the question as to whether one who passes it when containing a known forged indorsement is guilty of forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Passing of Auditor's Warrant

The statute when speaking of indorsements while not specifically mentioning auditors' warrants does cover "orders." The indorsement of an auditor's warrant amounts to the indorsement of an order within the meaning of the statute. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Testimony of Person Forging Indorsement as Corroboration

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument, since the person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

Unnecessary for Instrument to Create Civil Liability

It is not necessary that the forged instrument should create civil liability before it can be held to be forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

The 1937 amendment to this section which added the licensing provisions did not affect section 94-2404. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 996.

Prosecution of Gambling Laws

Actions for violation of the gambling laws may be prosecuted under either this section and section 94-2404 or under section 94-1001 et seq., the abatement law, or under each and all of such sections. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

Testimony before Grand Jury

From and after the passage and approval of this act, it shall be a misdemeanor and punishable, as hereinafter provided, for any person to use, possess, operate, keep or maintain for use or operation or otherwise, anywhere within the state of Montana, any slot machine of any sort or kind whatsoever.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

Title of Act

An act prohibiting the licensing, use, operation, keeping or maintenance of slot machines within the state of Montana; defining certain terms used in this act; providing penalties for the violation of this act and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith; providing for a referendum on this act; and providing for local option elections in counties on the question of the licensing and operation of slot machines and specifying the procedure for holding said election.

Gaming⊂⇒79(1).
38 C.J.S. Gaming § 99.

94-2430. Slot machine defined. A slot machine is hereby defined as a machine operated by inserting a coin, token, chip or trade check therein by the player and from the play of which he obtains, or may obtain, money, checks, chips or tokens redeemable in money. Merchandise vending machines where the element of chance does not enter into their operation are not within the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

94-2431. Person or persons defined. In addition to their ordinary meaning, the word "person" or "persons," as used in this act, shall include both natural and artificial persons and all partnerships, corporations, associations, clubs, fraternal orders and societies, including religious, fraternal and charitable organizations.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

94-2432. Penalty for possession or permitting use of slot machine. Any person, partnership, club, society, fraternal order, corporation, co-operative association or any other person, individual or organization who violates any of the provisions of this act, or who permits the use of any slot machine, as herein defined, on any place or premises owned, occupied or controlled by him or it, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty (30) days nor more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

Repealing Clause—Effective Date

Section 5 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 read, "All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, particularly all laws of this state and all ordinances of cities and towns relating to the issuance of licenses for the operation of slot machines, are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect and be in force and effect on and after the 31st day of December, 1950, as to sections 1 to 6, inclusive, provided a majority of the votes cast on this issue are against the operation of slot machines, and if a majority of the votes so cast are for the operation of slot machines, the act shall be in effect on said date as to sections 8 to 15, inclusive." At the general election in November, 1950, the majority of votes was against the operation of slot machines. Sections 7 to 16 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 are therefore omitted.

Separability of Provisions

Section 6 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 read, "If any part of this act shall be declared by any court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this act."

94-2507. (10959) Manslaughter—voluntary and involuntary.

Subd. 2

Instructions

Where judge instructed the jury in the language of the statute thereby giving the jury the definitions of both voluntary and involuntary manslaughter, defendant could not complain on ground there was no evidence of voluntary manslaughter in the case where the jury found him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Where defendant was charged with second degree murder but the court withdrew the murder charge from the jury and presented the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant for the crime of manslaughter, an instruction charging the jury that the state must prove the "intent" alleged in the information could properly have been modified to apply to the crime of manslaughter, however, conviction will not be set aside where it appears that no prejudice resulted. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 291.

Where evidence showed that defendant was drunk and that he drove his automobile at a high rate of speed into the rear of another automobile going the same direction, causing it to catch fire and killing the occupants, the contention of defendant that he could not remember the events which transpired at that time did not establish an accident and instruction on responsibility for deaths caused by accident was not necessary. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 796.

In prosecution for involuntary manslaughter the issue is one of criminal negligence rather than intent and giving of instruction that "intent is not an element of involuntary manslaughter" was not erroneous. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Since the word "feloniously" is not necessary in the information it was not necessary that the word "feloniously" be defined by the court's instructions and court's erroneous definition could not have been prejudicial particularly where other instructions clearly advised the jury of the elements of the crime. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Where the court instructed the jury that in order to find the defendant guilty it must find that the defendant committed an unlawful act, not amounting to a felony, and that the unlawful act was the proximate cause of the injury and death; and then in a later instruction defined criminal negligence as such that amounts to a wanton, flagrant, or reckless disregard of consequences or wilful indifference of the safety or rights of others, the instructions taken as a whole are correct. For while the former may, standing alone, be inaccurate or even erroneous, yet as qualified and explained by other portions of the charge, in pari materia, it fully and fairly submits the case to the jury. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 480.

Operation and Effect

This section is a recognition of the frailty of human nature, and has as its purpose to reduce a homicide committed under the circumstances therein contemplated to the grade of manslaughter. State v. Messerly, 126 M 62, 244 P 2d 1054, 1056.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where defendant had invited another person to stay or "bunk" with him for the night, and thereafter, while in his tavern, shot through the screen and door of his bedroom striking such person who was on the other side of the door, jury was justified in returning a verdict of guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Verdict of Manslaughter on Charge of Murder

Where defendant was charged with murder in the second degree it was permissible for the jury to find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 288.

Instructions

Refusal to give instruction under this section was not reversible error in view of other instructions given. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Homicide in commission of felony where the killing was the act of one not a participant in the felony. 12 ALR 2d 210.

CHAPTER 26—KIDNAPING

94-2601. (10970.1) Kidnaping—penalty—place of trial.

Seizure or detention for purpose of committing rape, robbery, or similar offense as constituting separate crime of kidnaping. 17 ALR 2d 1003.

CHAPTER 27—LARCENY AND FALSIFICATION OF PUBLIC RECORDS AND JURY LISTS

Section 94-2702. Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts—evidence.

Instructions

Conviction under this section requires proof of specific intent and an instruction that "when an unlawful act is shown to have been deliberately committed for the purpose of injuring another, it is presumed to have been committed with a malicious and guilty intent. The law also presumes that a person intends the ordinary consequences of any voluntary act committed by him" was erroneous. State v. Garney, 122 M 491, 207 P 2d 506.

Larceny by Indians on Indian Territory

A state district court was without jurisdiction to convict an Indian of larceny which occurred on Indian territory since under Acts of Congress (U. S. C. Tit. 18, §§ 1153, 3242) such an offense is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. State v. Pepion, 125 M 13, 230 P 2d 961.

94-2702. (11369) Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts — evidence. Any person who for himself or as the agent or representative of another or as an officer of a corporation, wilfully, with intent to defraud shall make or draw or utter or deliver, or cause to be made, drawn, uttered or delivered, any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivery that the maker or drawer has no funds or insufficient funds in or credit with such bank or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft, or order in full upon its presentation, although no express representation is made with the reference thereto, shall upon conviction be punished as follows: If there are no funds in or credit with such bank or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of any part of such check, draft or order, upon presentation, then in that case the person convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or less, and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum greater than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment. As against the maker or drawer thereof, the making, drawing, uttering or delivering of such check, draft or order as aforesaid shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of no funds or insufficient funds, as the case may be, in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, provided such maker or drawer shall not have paid the drawee thereof the amount due thereon, within five (5) days after receiving notice that such check, draft, or order has not been paid by the drawee. The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank, depositary, person, firm or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, Laws 1957, repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Operation and Effect

Held, that where a person was convicted under this section, the proper procedure for review of errors was by appeal under the statutes and not by seeking at a later date the common-law writ of coram nobis. Were it shown that the defendant's case was exigent, as for example, that although innocent of any crime he was nevertheless arbitrarily sentenced and wrongfully imprisoned under that sentence, and if then the existing remedies by appeal as prescribed by our statutes and as well the usual writs to which this court customarily turns to prevent an injustice were found in truth inadequate, the court would not hesitate to design a further remedial writ so that the court could meet the emergency and attain the ends of justice, otherwise denied. State v. Zumwalt, — M —, 291 P 2d 257, 260. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 257, 262 based on the opinion that the defendant was innocent of the crime charged and arbitrarily sentenced.)

94-2704. (11371) Grand larceny defined.

Effect of Ownership Not Proven as Alleged

Where the information alleges the ownership of the property, such allegation must be proven; proof of a brand only is not sufficient proof of the ownership of an animal bearing such brand. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for larceny cannot be sustained where the evidence connecting the defendant with the hide and asportation of a live steer amounts to no more than suspicion and conjecture. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

94-2721. (11388) Receiver of stolen property.

Essential Elements of Crime

Proof that the defendant knew the property was stolen is an essential element of the crime. The evidence is not sufficient where the state relies on a bill of sale which describes "3 cow hides red no brand" and in fact the hides had brands and cattle was missing from the brand owners, while the defendant proves that when he received the hides they were bundled up and so stiffly frozen that they could not be examined to see if they had brands. State v. Gilbert, 126 M 171, 246 P 2d 814, 815.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for receiving stolen goods cannot be sustained where the information charged that the defendant received a deepfreeze knowing the same to have been stolen from the true owner, Missoula County, while the facts where that the defendant was the county surveyor and he ordered a deepfreeze from a company and charged it to the county. Since the acts of the surveyor were unlawful, the county never purchased the freezer and never had it in its possession and at no time had title to the deepfreeze; therefore, Missoula County was never the owner from whom it was stolen as charged in the information. State v. Bourdeau, 126 M 266, 246 P 2d 1037, 1038.

CHAPTER 28—LIBEL

Section 2 of Ch. 13, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Punch Boards

Punch boards constitute a lottery. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140, 141.

In an action for violation of this section it was no defense that the defendant had offered to pay for the operation of such punch boards in accordance with section 84-5703 et seq. which purports to license trade stimulators such as punch boards since it is not competent for the legislature to authorize lotteries in view of Const. Art. 19, sec. 2 and the case of State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff. State v. Tursich, 127 M 504, 267 P 2d 641, 642.

Slot Machines

The operation of a slot machine is a lottery and banned by the criminal laws of this state. State v. Marck, 124 M 178, 220 P 2d 1017, 1019; State v. Read, 124 M 184, 220 P 2d 1020; State ex rel. Olsen v. Crown Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1032.

94-3334. (11507) Injury to trees on public lands. Every person who commits a trespass on or any injury to any state lands or the improvements thereon, or who, without the proper authority, cuts, fells, girdles, injures or destroys any trees or timber upon any of the school, university or other state lands, or removes or attempts to remove the same, or knowingly purchases or receives such trees or timber, or advises the removal thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is also liable to the state for three (3) times the value of said trees or timber, or lumber into which the same are converted.

All fines collected and all moneys recovered by virtue of this section must be paid into the trust fund if the lands involved are held in trust either through deed or grant or be paid to the funds of the state departments administrating such lands where lands not held in trust are involved.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

Title of Act

An act providing for the registration of certain societies, corporations, associations, political parties, assemblies, and other bodies and organizations; defining "subversive organizations," and requiring such organizations to file reports, documents and information with the secretary of state, and providing for the making of rules and regulations by the secretary of state; prohibiting the sending and delivery to nonmembers of letters, leaflets, and other written or printed matter, unless the same bears the name of such organization and the names and addresses of its officers; and providing penalties for violations of this act.

94-4412. Purpose of act. This act is adopted in the exercise of the police power of this state for the protection of the public peace and safety by requiring the registration of subversive organizations which are conceived and exist for the purpose of undermining and eventually destroying the democratic form of government in this state and in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4413. Subversive organization defined. As used in this title, "subversive organization" means every corporation, association, society, camp, group, political party, assembly, and everybody or organization composed of two [2] or more persons or members, which comes within all or any of the following descriptions:

(a) Which directly or indirectly advocates, advises, teaches, or practices, the duty, necessity, or propriety of controlling, conducting, seizing, or overthrowing the government of the United States, of this state, or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence;

(b) Which is subject to foreign control as defined in section 4 [94-4414] hereof.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4414. Organization subject to foreign control defined. An organization is "subject to foreign control" if it comes within either of the following descriptions:

(a) It solicits or accepts financial contributions, loans, or support of any kind directly or indirectly from, or is affiliated directly or indirectly with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization;

(b) Its policies, or any of them, are determined by or at the suggestion of, or in collaboration with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4415. Exceptions from definition of subversive organization. "Subversive organization" does not include any labor union or religious, fraternal, or patriotic organizations, society, or association whose objectives and aims do not contemplate the overthrow of the government of the United States, of this state or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4416. Organization pursuant to law—no exemption. This act imposes additional requirements upon corporations, associations, or organizations which are subversive organizations. Neither the fact that such a corporation, association, or organization was organized pursuant to law nor that its affairs and activities are in any respect regulated by law exempts it from complying with this title.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4417. Rules and regulations. The secretary of state may adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this title, and may alter, amend, or repeal such rules and regulations.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4418. Information filed with secretary of state. Every subversive organization in existence on July 1, 1951, shall within thirty (30) days after that date, and every subversive organization thereafter organized shall within ten (10) days after its organization, file with the secretary of state, on such forms and in such detail as he may prescribe, the following information and documents:

(a) A complete and detailed statement subscribed, under oath, by all of its officers, showing all of the following:

(1) Its name and post office address;

(5) The times and places of its meetings;

(6) The description and location of the real property and the kind, quantity, and quality of the personal property owned by it, its assets and liabilities, the methods for the financing of its activities, and the names and addresses of all persons, organizations, and other sources who or which have contributed money, property, literature, or other things of value to the organization or any of its branches, chapters or affiliates for any of its purposes;

(7) Such other information as the secretary of state may from time to time require.

(b) A true copy, certified by all of its officers, of all of the following:

(c) A description of the uniforms, badges, insignia, or other means of identification prescribed by it, and worn or carried by its officers or members, or any of such officers or members.

(d) In case it is subject to foreign control, a statement of the manner in which it is subject.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4419. Amendment of charter, constitution, by-laws or other regulations—filing with secretary of state. Every subversive organization shall within ten (10) days after any revision or amendment of, or other change with respect to, its charter, articles of association, constitution, by-laws, rules, regulations, oath, affirmation, or pledge of membership, or any part thereof, file with the secretary of state a true copy certified by all of its officers of the revised, amended, or changed charter, articles of association, constitution, by-laws, rules, regulations, oath, affirmation, or pledge of membership, or part thereof.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4420. Change of officers or purposes—filing with secretary of state. Every subversive organization shall within ten (10) days after a change has been made in its officers, or in its aims, purposes, activities, property holdings, or methods and sources of financing its activities, file with the secretary of state a statement subscribed under oath by all of its officers showing the change.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4421. Semiannual statement of members. Every subversive organization shall at least once in each period of six (6) months file with the secretary of state a statement subscribed under oath by all of its officers showing the names and residence addresses of all persons who have been admitted to membership during that period or, if no members have been admitted during that period, a statement to that effect similarly subscribed.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4422. Report of meetings authorizing political action. Every subversive organization shall within ten (10) days after the adoption thereof file with the secretary of state, on such form and in such detail as he may prescribe, each resolution adopted, or the minutes of any meeting held by it, authorizing or providing for concerted action by its officers, members, or a part of its membership, to promote or prevent the passage of any act of legislation by any local, state, or federal legislative body, or to support or defeat any candidate for public office.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4423. Statements filed with secretary of state are public records. All statements or documents filed with the secretary of state under this title [94-4411 to 94-4427] are public records and shall be open to public examination and inspection at all reasonable hours.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4424. Anonymous letters prohibited. A subversive organization shall not send, deliver, mail or transmit, or suffer or permit to be sent, delivered, mailed, or transmitted, to any person in this state who is not a member of the organization any anonymous letter, document, leaflet, or other written or printed matter. All letters, documents, leaflets, or other written or printed matter issued by a subversive organization which are intended to come to the attention of a person who is not a member of the organization shall bear the name of the organization and the name and residences of its officers.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4425. Penalty of organization for violating act. Any subversive organization which violates any provisions of this title [94-4411 to 94-4427] is guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00). Any such violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense for each day, or part thereof, during which it is continued.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4426. Penalty of officer of organization. Any officer or member of the board of directors, board of trustees, executive committee, or other similar governing body of a subversive organization who violates any provision of this title [94-4411 to 94-4427], or permits or acquiesces in the violation of any provision of this title by the organization is guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or by imprisonment in a state prison for not less than six (6) months nor more than five (5) years, or by both.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4427. Penalty of member of organization. Any person who becomes or remains a member of any subversive organization, or attends a meeting thereof, with knowledge that the organization has failed to comply with any provision of this title [94-4411 to 94-4427], is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten (10) days nor more than one (1) year, or by both.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

Separability of Provisions

Section 18 of Ch. 215, L. 1951 read, "If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person, corporation, association, organization, or circumstances, is for any reason held invalid, ineffective, or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of this act, or the application of such provision to other persons, corporations, associations, organizations, or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby, and the legislative assembly hereby declares the severability of the several sections and provisions of this act, and that it would have enacted the same without the invalid provisions or the invalid applications, as the case may be, had such invalidity been apparent."

CHAPTER 47—PUNISHMENTS—ATTEMPTS AND OTHER GENERAL PROVISIONS

94-4708. (11588) Removal from office for neglect of official duty.

Operation and Effect

This section does not restrain or limit the power of the governor to remove the third member of the unemployment compensation commission. State ex rel. Bonner v. District Court, 122 M 464, 206 P 2d 166, 171.

94-4710. (11590) Attempts to commit crime, when punishable.

94-4720. (11600) Civil rights of convict suspended. A sentence of imprisonment in the state prison for any term less than life suspends all the civil rights of the person so sentenced, and forfeits all public offices and private trusts, authority, or power, during such imprisonment. The governor has power to restore to citizenship any person convicted of any offense committed against the laws of the state, upon cause being shown, either after the expiration of sentence, or after pardon. The governor may request an investigation by the board of pardons to determine if such restoration to citizenship be advisable.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment added the second and third sentences.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 87, Laws 1955 provided the act should be in effect from and after April 1, 1955.

Proper Method to Impeach

Where a defendant upon cross-examination admits his prior convictions of felonies it is error for the court to then allow the state to introduce into evidence the judgment record of prior convictions, for it serves no useful purpose since the credibility has already been impeached and it may weigh too heavily against the defendant. State v. Coloff, 125 M 31, 231 P 2d 343, 344.

CHAPTER 48—RIGHTS OF DEFENDANT

Duty to advise accused as to right to assistance of counsel. 3 ALR 2d 1003.

Impartial Jury

Trial court was in error for refusing to grant the defendant a change of venue where evidence disclosed that local newspaper had fanned the feeling of the community against the defendant, that the local people believed the defendant to be guilty, and that the county officials themselves felt that the feeling against the defendant was so high that they moved him for safety to the state prison. State v. Dryman, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 800. (Dissenting opinion, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 801.)

CHAPTER 53—SUPPRESSION OF RIOTS

Liability of Sheriff

This section is merely declaratory of the common law and the sheriff is not liable in damages for damage caused by mob violence. Annala v. McLeod, 122 M 498, 206 P 2d 811, 815.

94-5305. (11659) To arrest rioters if they do not disperse.

Liability of Sheriff

This section is merely declaratory of the common law and the sheriff is not liable in damages for damage caused by mob violence. Annala v. McLeod, 122 M 498, 206 P 2d 811, 815.

94-5314. Liability of officers for neglect of duties, etc.

Liability of Sheriff

There was no provision imposing liability for damages upon the sheriff prior to the enactment of this law. Annala v. McLeod, 122 M 498, 206 P 2d 811, 815.

CHAPTER 55—REMOVAL OF OFFICERS OTHERWISE THAN BY IMPEACHMENT

94-5501. (11687) Officers subject to removal.

Operation and Effect

These sections do not restrain or limit the governor's power of removal of the third member on the unemployment compensation commission. State ex rel. Bonner v. District Court, 122 M 464, 206 P 2d 166, 171.

94-5516. (11702) Removal of public officers by summary proceedings.

Disqualification of Judge

Proceedings under this section for the removal of a public officer are governed by the rules of practice in civil cases and therefore subd. 4 of section 93-901 relating to disqualification of judges applies. This rule is inapplicable however to prosecutions under the section for the charging and collecting of illegal salaries or fees. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 455.

Operation and Effect

Under this section of the Code it is the public policy of the state, in cases where a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees, that such officer be entitled, as a matter of defense, to offer evidence of his good faith or honest mistake and the value received by the county. State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Time for Appearance of Party

That portion of this section providing that the court must cite a party to appear "at a time not more than ten nor less than five days from the time the accusation was presented" is directory rather than mandatory. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 454.

In computing time under the provision of this section which provides that the court must cite the party to appear "not more than ten nor less than five days" both the first and last days should be excluded. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

94-5904. (11736) To what peace officers warrants are to be directed.

Operation and Effect

The sheriff of Flathead County has authority to arrest person in Powell County under warrant issued in Flathead County upon such person's release from prison. Application of Campeau, 122 M 375, 209 P 2d 1012, 1013.

CHAPTER 60—ARRESTS—BY WHOM AND HOW MADE—CLOSE PURSUIT—RETAKING AFTER ESCAPE

Unlawful Arrest

In action for damages for unlawful arrest which occurred after store manager handed plaintiff's check to officer and plaintiff seized check from officer's hand, arrest could not be justified by alleging a violation of sections 94-35-169 and 94-4202. 94-6116. (11788) Order for bail on commitment.

Discharge, suspension, or remission of bail by reason of imprisonment of principal for a different offense. 4 ALR 2d 440.

CHAPTER 62—PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS—FILING THE INFORMATION

94-6201. (11798) Offenses, how prosecuted.

References

Cited or applied in State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 860.

94-6207. (11804) Information may be amended.

Operation and Effect

Where court allowed state to amend information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery" there was no substantial change in the charge and only touched a matter of form. Whether the defendant was married or unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, — M —, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

Waiver of Objection

Where, after plea of not guilty, county attorney asked permission to amend information and counsel for defendant stated there was no objection, any objection to the amendment of the information to include a prior conviction was waived. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248.

94-6208. (11805) Indorsement on information.

Application

The reason for the statutory requirement that the names of witnesses be indorsed on the information is to safeguard defendant against surprise and unfair advantage. There was no unfair advantage taken of defendant when the county attorney indorsed the name of a witness after impaneling a jury because he did not know of the existence of the witness at the time when the information was filed and gave notice to the defendant's attorney at that time and offered to agree to a reasonable delay in the trial in order that the defendant could examine the witness and secure evidence to meet his testimony. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1015.

CHAPTER 63—THE GRAND JURY—ITS FORMATION—POWERS AND DUTIES—FINDING AND PRESENTING AN INDICTMENT 94-6314. (11819) Retirement of the grand jury—discharge of.

"Final Adjournment" When Court Always Open

Although district court is always open and each term continues until succeeding term, the terms as fixed by the court limit the existence of the grand jury, the beginning of each term constituting a "final adjournment" of the preceding term within the meaning of this section. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

94-6324. (11829) When and from whom they may ask advice, etc.

Special Prosecutor—Appearance Before Grand Jury

County attorney cannot delegate to unofficial counsel his right to advise the grand jury, assist them in their investigations and examine witnesses, and an order of the district judges appointing such special prosecutor when the county attorney was present and able to act could not give such authority. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

The appearance of "special prosecutor" before the grand jury was ground for setting aside the indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035.

The press of business in the office of district attorney does not justify the appointment of a "special prosecutor" to appear before the grand jury. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

94-6331. (11836) Names of witnesses inserted at foot of indictment.

Appeal After Conviction

If person has gone to trial under indictment with witnesses names designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Failure to Endorse Names—Effect

Where timely motion is made before trial the statute requires the indictment to be set aside when names of witnesses are not endorsed on indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

If there were no witnesses it was the duty of the prosecution, on objection of defendant, to so state, either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Fictitious Names

If there were witnesses identified as John Doe and Richard Roe it is indefensible for the prosecution to conceal their identity from accused merely because the prosecutor believes that a disclosure of their true names is not vital or necessary to prepare a defense. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Operation and Effect

The statute requires the endorsement of names of all witnesses, not merely the names of witnesses the state believes to be important. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1041.

94-6332. (11837) Indictment, how presented and filed.

CHAPTER 64—RULES OF PLEADING AND FORM OF INFORMATION AND INDICTMENT

94-6401. (11841) Forms and rules of pleading.

Operation and Effect

No section of the Criminal Code can be found directing or requiring a bill of particulars to be furnished to a defendant; therefore, no bill of particulars may be required or ordered. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487.

94-6403. (11843) Indictment or information, what to contain.

Bill of Particulars

In a criminal case no bill of particulars may be required or ordered. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487. (This case expressly overrules any statement or holding to the contrary in State v. Gondeiro, 82 M 530, 268 P 507; State v. Shannon, 95 M 280, 26 P 2d 360; State v. Stevens, 104 M 189, 65 P 2d 612; State v. Hahn, 105 M 189, 72 P 2d 459; State v. Robinson, 109 M 322, 96 P 2d 265, and any other such statements or holdings by this court.)

Bill of Particulars Not Available

In a criminal case no bill of particulars may be required or ordered. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487. (This case expressly overrules any statement or holding to the contrary made by the court.)

94-6407. (11847) Must charge but one offense and in one form, etc.

Election of Charge

Every act of sexual intercourse constituting rape is a separate offense and where the information charges defendant and another jointly with accomplishing "an act of sexual intercourse" and the evidence is that defendant accomplished an act of sexual intercourse and also that he assisted the other in the act of intercourse the court should have granted the defendant's motion that the state elect whether it was prosecuting defendant for his accomplished intercourse with the prosecutrix or for aiding and assisting the other defendant in consummating the other defendant's sexual intercourse with the prosecutrix. State v. Sauter, 125 M 109, 232 P 2d 731, 734.

94-6412. (11852) Indictment or information, when sufficient.

Instructions

Where a verbal declaration of one codefendant that he and the other codefendant were partners was given in evidence, it was error for the court to refuse defendant's instruction that such verbal declaration is insufficient to establish a partnership. Although a partnership was immaterial because of this section and section 94-204, yet the jury may have given full consideration to the declaration and found defendant guilty on the strength thereof. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 821.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 94-204, evidence was sufficient to sustain a conviction of assault in the second degree where defendant was at the scene of the crime and was admittedly a participant therein; it is not necessary to show that he actually fired any one of the guns. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 485.

94-6434. (11874) When not material.

Failure to Endorse True Names of Witnesses on Indictment

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

CHAPTER 65—ARRAIGNMENT OF DEFENDANT

Section 94-6513. Compensation of attorney for accused.

Admissibility of confession as affected by delay in arraignment of prisoner. 19 ALR 2d 1331.

94-6513. (11887) Compensation of attorney for accused. Whenever, in a criminal action or proceeding in the district court, an attorney-at-law defends a person charged with any offense, by order of the court, on the ground that the accused is unable to procure or employ counsel, the county in which such criminal action or proceeding may have arisen is liable to pay such attorney for his services such sum as the judge certifies to be a reasonable compensation therefor.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment omitted a portion of this section which placed specific limitations on the amount allowed as follows, capital cases not to exceed $100, other felonies not to exceed $50, and in other cases not to exceed $25.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 38, Laws 1949 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 66—SETTING ASIDE THE INDICTMENT OR INFORMATION

94-6601. (11891) Indictment, when set aside on motion.

Failure To Endorse Names on Indictment

Where timely motion is made before trial the statute requires the indictment to be set aside when names of witnesses are not endorsed on indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Indictment must be set aside where witnesses names on indictment were Richard Roe and John Doe and witnesses real names were not supplied to defendant and if there were no witnesses that fact should be shown by the prosecution either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043. (In this case it was said that if other grounds had not required setting aside of indictment, court would have been disposed to return case to trial court to permit defendant to interrogate prosecutor and grand jury foreman as to whether there were witnesses whose names were not endorsed on indictment.)

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Grounds Exclusive

The grounds for setting aside an indictment of a grand jury as set forth in this section are exclusive. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1037.

Presence of Unauthorized Person

Where there has been a violation of subd. 3 of this section the accused need not show prejudice, but the very appearance of an unauthorized person before the grand jury is sufficient to set aside the indictments. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

Presence of Unauthorized Person—Special Prosecutor Before Grand Jury

The appearance of "special prosecutor" before the grand jury was ground for setting aside the indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035.

The press of business in the office of district attorney does not justify the appointment of a "special prosecutor" to appear before the grand jury. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

Presence While Indictment under Consideration

A case is "under consideration" before the grand jury within the meaning of subsection 3 of this section when witnesses are being examined. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1044.

94-6602. (11892) Defendant waives objections, etc.

Amendment of Information

There was no error in permitting information to be amended to allege prior conviction when there was no objection by defendant and defendant's attorney consented to its filing. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248.

Operation and Effect

Where district court was ordered to set aside indictment on ground set forth in subd. 3 of section 94-6601, prosecution for the offenses charged was not barred but the cases were ordered resubmitted to the county attorney in accordance with section 94-6604 for the filing of such information as he believes necessary. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

CHAPTER 67—DEMURRER

94-6701. (11896) Pleading on part of defendant.

Operation and Effect

This section is exclusive and there is no section of the Criminal Code directing or requiring a bill of particulars to be furnished to a defendant charged with a criminal offense. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487.

94-6702. (11897) Demurrer on plea, when put in.

Operation and Effect

When a first conviction is set aside the defendant is not precluded upon a remand for a new trial from attacking the indictment or information. State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 230. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

94-6703. (11898) Grounds of demurrer.

Facts Stated Do Not Constitute a Public Offense

Information charging a violation of section 94-1805 (obtaining money under false pretenses) which only avers that the defendant made a "false" or "fraudulent" representation is not sufficient. It must expressly allege the facts which made the stated pretense false. State v. Hale, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 232. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Sufficiency of Information

An information which charges defendant with an infamous act against nature and then in describing the manner in which the crime was committed it alleged an assault, it is not open to the charge that it is duplicitous. Allegations with respect to the assault are merely descriptive of the means of accomplishing the infamous crime against nature which never could be perpetrated against an unwilling participant without an assault. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 664.

94-6802. (11908) Plea, how put in and its form.

Written "Special Plea in Bar" Not Authorized

Justice of the peace was acting within his jurisdiction and in accordance with the law in overruling the defendant's written special plea in bar and ordering the defendant to answer to the complaint in accordance with this section and sections 94-6801 and 94-100-4. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 861.

94-6803. (11909) Plea of guilty, how put in and when withdrawn.

Denial of Motion to Withdraw

Denial of motion to withdraw plea of guilty will not be reversed where chief contention was that he was misled by the erroneous advice of counsel as to his guilt under the law, when from the record of the trial court there was evidence which would have justified a finding of guilty, regardless of the correctness of the counsel's interpretation of the law. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

Discretion of Court

The granting or refusal of permission to withdraw a plea of guilty and substitute a plea of not guilty rests in the discretion of the trial court and is subject to review only where an abuse of discretion is shown. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 560.

Guilty Plea Under Agreement with Prosecutor

While the supreme court will not encourage the making of bargains with persons charged of crime, where a defendant has changed his plea of not guilty to a plea of guilty on an agreement with the prosecuting attorney as to recommendation for sentences which were carried out, the supreme court, will not, after he obtained the benefits of the agreement, aid him in escaping its obligations, by ordering a withdrawal of the guilty plea. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

Motion to Withdraw—Time for Filing

In order to receive favorable consideration an application to withdraw a plea of guilty should be made within a reasonable time. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

When Plea of Guilty may be Withdrawn after Judgment

Where the evidence discloses that there was a grave doubt that the defendant had the mental capacity to appreciate and understand what he was doing and the consequences thereof, when without benefit of counsel, he pleaded guilty to the charge of murder, defendant should have been allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty. State v. Dryman, 125 M 500, 241 P 2d 821.

94-6805. (11911) What may be given in evidence under plea of not guilty.

Operation and Effect

The bar to a prosecution for misdemeanor where defendant is not brought to trial within six months after the filing of the information as provided for in section 94-9507 may properly be raised by a plea of not guilty. State v. Porter, — M —, 300 P 2d 952, 954.

CHAPTER 69—CHANGE OF PLACE OF TRIAL

Application

Trial court was in error for refusing to grant a change of venue where evidence disclosed that local newspapers had fanned the feeling of the community against the defendant and that county officials themselves felt that feeling against the defendant was so high that they moved him for safety to the state prison. State v. Dryman, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 800. (Dissenting opinion, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 801.)

Change of Place of Trial

Where Supreme Court ordered a new trial and that it be had in some county not adjacent to Toole county because of the prejudice of the people in Toole county, trial court erred in directing that the new trial take place in Teton county. Although Teton county is not adjoining Toole county but is separated by some twenty miles, yet the word adjacent has no arbitrary meaning or definition; the term is a relative and not an absolute one, and the exact meaning of which, in any particular case, is determinable principally by the context in which it is used. State ex rel. Dryman v. District Court, 128 M 402, 276 P 2d 969, 970.

Directed Verdict in Criminal Case

In a prosecution for unlawfully driving a truck with an overload which is a misdemeanor, it was error for the court to instruct and direct the jury to return a verdict of guilty where the evidence as to the true weight of the truck was in conflict as shown by two different state police scales. Overruling Challenge

Where court relied on answers to last two questions and on the assumption that there was a misunderstanding as to the earlier questions in examining a prospective juror for prejudice, the overruling of the challenge would not be disturbed especially where the defendant had three peremptory challenges left at the time and exercised one to discharge such juror, and fact that defendant regarded other jurors as undesirable on which he might have exercised his challenge gave him no right to have such juror excused for bias where there was no showing that such jurors were disqualified. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 286.

CHAPTER 72—THE TRIAL

94-7201. (11969) Order of trial.

Instructions

Objections

Objection to instruction that it "is not a correct statement of the law; it is not applicable to the facts in this case" does not comply with this section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Objection to instruction that "it is repetitious and not a correct statement of the law" does not comply with this section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Any error in giving instructions is not available to appellants on appeal where the record shows no objections made by the appellants. State v. Holt, 121 M 459, 194 P 2d 651, 654.

Where instructions as finally proposed to be given were not objected to by counsel for defendant, the district court by statute was expressly forbidden to grant a new trial and the Supreme Court is forbidden to reverse the cause, even if error existed in such instructions. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 255.

94-7203. (11971) Defendant presumed innocent—reasonable doubt.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon; wherein the defendant was found guilty by a jury, it was held on appeal that in view of the uncertainty in the mind of the state's only eyewitness as compared with witnesses for the defendant, coupled with the effect of this section, the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction for the crime charged. 94-7220. (11988) Conviction on testimony of accomplice.

Cross-Reference

Child under sixteen not an accomplice to commission of infamous crime against nature, sec. 94-4120.

Corroboration

The evidence which corroborates the testimony of an accomplice could be furnished by the defendant. It could be circumstantial. It need not extend to every fact to which the accomplice testified and need not be sufficient to justify a conviction or establish a prima facie case of guilt: it being sufficient if it tends to connect defendants with the commission of the crime. Whether it tends to do so is a question of law, while its weight—its efficacy to fortify the testimony of the accomplice and render his story trustworthy—is a matter for the consideration of the jury. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 257.

Instructions

Where the defense requested instructions as to the effect of accomplice's testimony and there was evidence in the record from which the jury might have concluded that a deputy sheriff was an accomplice of the defendant, the court should have instructed the jury that if they believed the deputy sheriff was an accomplice then they must weigh his evidence as provided by section 93-2001-1, subd. 4 and also that such evidence must be corroborated as required by this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

Operation and Effect

In a sodomy case, court should have given the requested instructions of the defendant to the effect that if the jury finds the prosecuting witness was an accomplice, then the jury must acquit the defendant, where the only evidence connecting the defendant with the commission of the crime was the testimony of the prosecuting witness. State v. Searle, 125 M 467, 239 P 2d 995, 998.

Person Making Forged Instrument Not Accomplice of Person Passing Forged Instrument

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument. The person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

94-7227. (11995) When evidence on either side is closed, etc.

Directing Jury to Acquit Defendant

94-7228. (11996) View of place of offense or property.

Condition of Premises

The fact that the premises to be viewed had accumulated dirt which had been hastily swept away, that doors had been replaced and the view was bleak and morbid furnished no ground for interfering with an order permitting a view of the premises. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 292.

Discretion of Court

The matter of permitting the jury to view the premises rests entirely in the discretion of the trial court which will not be interfered with except in case of manifest abuse. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 292.

94-7407. (12023) Jury may find upon charge of previous conviction.

Plea of Guilty

This statute contemplated that the answer to charge or allegation of prior conviction should be an admission or denial, but a plea of guilty is an admission of the charge. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248, 249.

Where the time for presenting the bill of exceptions to the judge has expired the judge has lost jurisdiction after that to settle any bill of exceptions for the defendant. Such jurisdiction, once lost, could not be reinvested in the trial judge even by the stipulation of counsel. State v. Kuntz, — M —, 295 P 2d 707, 708.

94-7508. (12045) Record on appeal in criminal cases.

Dismissal of Appeal

The state's motion to dismiss an appeal will be granted where the defendant, although filing a notice of appeal, did not have settled or allowed a bill of exceptions, and omitted to file a transcript or briefs in the Supreme Court when no extension of time has been granted and no showing that the appellant's failure and omission has been without laches on his part. State v. McDonald, 125 M 201, 232 P 2d 997.

Section 94-7821. Court may suspend sentence, when.
94-7822. Suspension of sentence—copy of judgment to be mailed to board of pardons and bureau of identification.
94-7824. Effect of suspended sentence.
94-7831. Investigation.
94-7832. Sentence.
94-7833. Information from courts.
94-7834. Effective date—application to persons presently on parole or probation or eligible to be placed thereon.

94-7821. (12078) Court may suspend sentence, when. In all prosecutions for crimes or misdemeanors, except as hereinafter provided, where the defendant has pleaded or been found guilty, or where the court or magistrate has power to sentence such defendant to any penal or other institution in this state, and it appears that the defendant has never before been imprisoned for crime either in this state or elsewhere (but detention in an institution for juvenile delinquents shall not be considered imprisonment), and where it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the character of the defendant and circumstances of the case are such that he is not likely again to engage in an offensive course of conduct, and where it may appear that the public safety does not demand or require that the defendant shall suffer the penalty imposed by law, said court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the defendant on probation in the manner hereinafter provided. Nothing in this act contained shall in any manner affect the laws providing the method of dealing with the juvenile delinquents. Any judge, who has suspended a sentence of imprisonment under this section, or his successor, is authorized thereafter, in his discretion, during the period of such suspended sentence to revoke such suspension and order such person committed, or may, in his discretion, order the prisoner placed under the jurisdiction of the state board of pardons as provided by law, or retain such jurisdiction with his court as is authorized by him or his successor. Prior to such revocation of the order of such suspension, the person affected shall be given a hearing before said judge.

Amendment

94-7822. Suspension of sentence—copy of judgment to be mailed to board of pardons and bureau of identification. When any judge has suspended a sentence of imprisonment as provided in section 94-7821, and has not ordered the prisoner placed under the jurisdiction of the state board of pardons, but has retained jurisdiction with the court, the clerk of said court shall nevertheless mail a full copy of the judgment of the court and the order suspending the sentence and certify the same to the state board of pardons, and bureau of identification at the state prison, or if the defendant would have been confined to an institution other than the state prison, then a copy shall be sent to the institution to which said court would have committed the defendant but for the suspending of the sentence.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 40, L. 1939; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment substituted "state board of pardons" for "state board of prison commissioners."

Propriety and effect of court's indication to jury resulting in recommendation of suspended sentence. 8 ALR 2d 1001.

94-7823. (12079) Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 2, Ch. 21, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 53, L. 1935; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 65, L. 1953), relating to persons not entitled to probation, was repealed by Sec. 4, Ch. 194, Laws 1955, effective April 1, 1955.

94-7824. (12080) Effect of suspended sentence. Whenever a sentence to any penal or other institution in this state has been imposed, but the execution thereof has been suspended and the defendant placed on probation, the effect of such order of probation shall be to place said defendant under the control and management of the state board of pardons and he shall be subject to the provisions of the probation, parole and executive clemency act.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 21, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 12080, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment substituted "state board of pardons" for "state board of prison commissioners" and "subject to the provisions of the probation, parole and executive clemency act" for "subject to the same rules and regulations as applied to persons paroled from said institutions after a period of imprisonment therein."

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 194, Laws 1955 read "That sections 94-7823, 94-7825, 94-7826, 94-7827, 94-7828, 94-7829 and 94-7830 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, be, and the same are hereby repealed."

94-7825 to 94-7830. (12081 to 12086) Repealed.

Repeal

These sections (Secs. 4 to 9, Ch. 21, L. 1913), relating to probation, were repealed by Sec. 4, Ch. 194, Laws 1955, effective April 1, 1955.

94-7831. Investigation. No defendant convicted of a crime, the punishment for which may include imprisonment in the state prison, shall be sentenced or his case otherwise disposed of, until a written report of investigation by a probation and parole officer shall have been presented to, and considered by, the court, unless the court deems such report unnecessary. The court may, in its discretion, order a pre-sentence investigation for a defendant convicted of any lesser crime or offense. Whenever an investigation is required, the probation and parole officers shall promptly inquire into the circumstances of the offense, the attitude of the complainant, the social history, criminal record, and the present conditions of the defendant and his immediate family. All local and state police agencies shall furnish to the probation and parole officer such criminal records as the probation and parole officer may request. Where, in the opinion of the court or the investigating authority, it is found desirable, such investigation shall include a physical and mental examination of the defendant. If a defendant is committed to an institution, the investigating agency shall send a report of such investigation to the institution at the time of commitment.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

Title of Act

94-7832. Sentence. Whenever any person has been found guilty of a crime or offense upon verdict or plea, the court may adjudge as follows:

(1) Release the defendant on probation, (2) Suspend the imposition or execution of sentence, (3) Impose a fine as provided by law for the offense, (4) Impose any combination of (1), (2), (3), or, (5) Commit the defendant to a correctional institution with or without a fine as provided by law for the offense.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

94-7833. Information from courts. It shall be the duty of the court disposing of any criminal case to cause to be transmitted to the board of pardons statistical data in accordance with regulations issued by the board regarding all dispositions of defendants whether found guilty or discharged.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

94-7834. Effective date—application to persons presently on parole or probation or eligible to be placed thereon. This act shall be in full force and effect from and after April 1, 1955. The provisions of this act are hereby extended to all persons who, at the effective date hereof, may be on probation or parole, or eligible to be placed on probation or parol under existing laws with the same force and effect as if this act had been in operation at the time such persons were placed on probation or parole or became eligible to be placed thereon, as the case may be, provided that no person convicted and sentenced before the effective date shall have his rights and earned good time reduced by the application of this act.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 194, L. 1955.

Separability Clause

Section 8 of Ch. 194, Laws 1955 read "If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or inoperative, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this act but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part directly adjudged to be invalid or inoperative."

CHAPTER 81—APPEALS TO SUPREME COURT—WHEN ALLOWED —HOW TAKEN—EFFECT THEREOF

Appeals from Justice Courts

The Supreme Court does not have appellate jurisdiction to review the judgments or orders of the justice courts of this state. State ex rel. Estes v. Justice Court of Jefferson County, — M —, 284 P 2d 249, 250.

94-8104. (12108) In what cases by the state.

Right to Appeal Limited by This Section

Where defendant was convicted in justice of peace court and appealed to district court in which court the action was dismissed on defendant's motion, state had no right of appeal under this section. State v. McCluskey, 125 M 20, 229 P 2d 169.

A district court's order of dismissal of the complaint following an appeal from a conviction in a justice of the peace court does not fail within the provisions of this section and therefore is not an appealable order. State v. Becko, 125 M 76, 230 P 2d 768, 769.

94-8105. (12109) Appeals, time limitation.

Operation and Effect

Where person convicted in district court petitioned Supreme Court for writ of mandate to compel district to furnish "copy of trial and court record transcript" for purpose of appeal in forma pauperis, writ was denied where no timely application had been filed in accordance with section 94-8106. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

References

Cited or applied in State v. Zumwalt, — M —, 291 P 2d 257, 259; State v. Kuntz, — M —, 295 P 2d 707, 708.

94-8106. (12110) Appeal, how taken.

Oral Request for Appeal Ineffective

Oral request of intention to appeal made orally in open court fails to conform to this section and is wholly ineffectual to give the Supreme Court jurisdiction. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

CHAPTER 82—DISMISSING APPEALS FOR IRREGULARITY—ARGUMENT ON APPEAL—JUDGMENT ON APPEAL

94-8207. (12125) Judgment without regard to technical errors.

Erroneous Instruction

Erroneous instructions are not cause for reversal in the absence of any prejudice. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 236.

Failure to Endorse True Names of Witnesses on Indictment

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Transcript of Evidence—Necessity.

In order to give effect to this section to determine whether the erroneous instructions were merely technical errors, or affected the substantial rights of the accused, it is necessary that the supreme court have before it a transcript of the evidence. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

94-8210. (12127) May reverse, affirm or modify the judgment and order, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court reversed conviction of defendant and remanded cause to district court with directions that if defendant have a new trial the district court should first make inquiry into the defendant's insanity but if the prosecution is dismissed that the district court deliver the defendant to the court of another county which has continuing jurisdiction over the defendant so that the latter court may inquire into his mental condition and make such disposition of the defendant as is required by law; and thereafter the prosecution was dismissed, the trial court then was compelled to deliver the defendant to the other district court and county attorney could not file a new information. The trial court was bound to follow the mandate of the Supreme Court as found in the remittitur and mandamus will lie to require that the district court follow such mandate. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, — M —, 294 P 2d 907. (Dissenting opinion, — M —, 294 P 2d 907, 911.)

94-8215. (12132) Jurisdiction ceases after judgment remitted.

Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court reversed conviction and the remittitur went down in due course and was filed with the lower court, the Supreme Court at that time lost jurisdiction in the case. Specifically it lost any jurisdiction it may have had theretofore to alter in any particular either the opinion or the mandate which followed upon that opinion, certainly unless the remittitur were first recalled. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, — M —, 294 P 2d 907, 908.

CHAPTER 83—IN WHAT CASES DEFENDANT MAY BE ADMITTED TO BAIL

94-8301. (12133) Admission to bail defined.

Mandamus to compel judge or other officer to grant accused bail or to accept proffered sureties. 23 ALR 2d 803.

Failure to appear, and the like, resulting in forfeiture or conditional forfeiture of bail, as affecting right to second admission to bail in same noncapital criminal case. 29 ALR 2d 945.

CHAPTER 85—BAIL ON INDICTMENT OR INFORMATION BEFORE CONVICTION

Section 94-8508. Sureties for guaranteed arrest bond certificates—filing of undertaking—guaranteed arrest bond certificate.
94-8509. Violations of motor vehicle laws—posting of guaranteed arrest bond certificate in lieu of cash.
94-8510. Certification of names of sureties—withdrawal by surety company.

94-8501. (12145) When the offense is not capital.

Discharge, suspension, or remission of bail by reason of imprisonment of principal for a different offense. 4 ALR 2d 443.

94-8508. Sureties for guaranteed arrest bond certificates—filing of undertaking—guaranteed arrest bond certificate. (A) Any domestic or foreign surety company which has qualified to transact surety business in this state may, in any year, become surety in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) with respect to any guaranteed arrest bond certificates issued in such year by an automobile club or association or by an insurance company authorized to write automobile liability insurance within this state, by filing with the commissioner of insurance an undertaking thus to become surety.

(B) Such undertaking shall be in form to be prescribed by the commissioner and shall state the following:

(2) The unqualified obligation of the surety company to pay the fine or forfeiture in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) of any person who, after posting a guaranteed arrest bond certificate with respect to which the surety company has undertaken to be surety, fails to make the appearance to guarantee which the guaranteed arrest bond certificate was posted.

(C) The term, guaranteed arrest bond certificate, means any printed card or other certificate issued by an automobile club, association or insurance company, to any of its members or insureds, which said card or certificate is signed by such member or insured and contains a printed statement that such automobile club, association or insurance company and a surety company, or an insurance company authorized to transact both automobile liability insurance and surety business in the state of Montana, guarantee the appearance of the person whose signature appears on the card or certificate and that they will, in the event of failure of such person to appear in court at the time of trial, pay any fine or forfeiture imposed on such person in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00).

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

Title of Act

An act authorizing qualified surety companies to become surety with respect to guaranteed arrest bond certificates of automobile clubs and associations and insurance companies authorized to write automobile liability insurance within the state of Montana, and requiring the acceptance of such certificates in lieu of cash or property bail in the event of certain violations of motor vehicle laws; providing that all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are repealed.

94-8509. Violations of motor vehicle laws—posting of guaranteed arrest bond certificate in lieu of cash. Any guaranteed arrest bond certificate with respect to which a surety company has become surety or a guaranteed arrest bond certificate issued by an insurance company authorized to transact both automobile liability insurance and surety business within this state, as provided in section 1 [94-8508] hereof, shall, when posted by the person whose signature appears thereon, be accepted in lieu of cash bail in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00), as a bail bond to guarantee the appearance of such person, in any court, including municipal courts, in this state, at such time as may be required by the court, when such person is arrested for violation of any motor vehicle law of this state or ordinance of any municipality in this state (except for the offense of driving while intoxicated or for any felony) committed prior to the date of expiration shown on such guaranteed arrest bond certificate so posted as a bail bond in any court in this state shall be subject to the forfeiture and enforcement provisions with respect to bail bonds posted in criminal cases as provided by law, and that any such guaranteed arrest bond certificate posted as bail bond in any municipal court in this state shall be subject to the forfeiture and enforcement provisions of the chapter or ordinance of the particular municipality pertaining to bail bonds posted.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

94-8510. Certification of names of sureties—withdrawal by surety company. The commissioner of insurance shall certify to each justice of the peace, police magistrate and district judge the names of surety companies who have become sureties with respect to guaranteed arrest bond certificates, and shall likewise immediately notify such official upon the withdrawal of such company as surety. No such withdrawal by any company shall be effective for thirty (30) days after the filing thereof with the state insurance commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 39, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 88—WHO MAY BE WITNESSES IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS

94-8802. (12176) Competency of husband and wife as witnesses.

Operation and Effect

It was error to permit wife to testify against husband in trial for assault by unlawfully threatening another by pointing a loaded revolver in violation of subd. 4 of section 94-602 where no offense against the wife was charged. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

94-8803. (12177) When the defendant is not a competent witness, etc.

CHAPTER 90—WITNESSES FROM WITHOUT STATE—HOW SECURED IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

Section 94-9003. Witness from another state summoned to testify in this state.

94-9003. Witness from another state summoned to testify in this state.

(1) If a person in any state, which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions, or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence, in this state, is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this state, or in a grand jury investigation, which has commenced or is about to commence, a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. This certificate will be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found.

(2) If said certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this state to assure his attendance in this state, such judge may direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him; and the judge being satisfied of the desirability of such custody and delivery, for which such determination said certificate shall be prima facie proof, may order that said witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of this state, which order shall be sufficient authority to such officer to take such witness into custody and hold him unless and until he may be released by bail, recognizance, or order of the judge issuing the certificate.

(3) If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this state, he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents (10¢) a mile for each mile and five dollars ($5.00) for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness, provided further that in those cases in which the state wherein the witness is found has by statutory enactment required that the summoned witness be paid an amount or amounts in excess of the amount hereinbefore in this paragraph provided, then said witness may be tendered said amount or amounts so required by said state to be tendered though the said amount or amounts so required to be tendered are in excess of the said amounts in this paragraph provided for. A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this state a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate, unless otherwise ordered by the court. If such witness fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this state.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment added the proviso to the first sentence of paragraph (3).

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 117, Laws 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 117, Laws 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 25, 1949.

CHAPTER 93—PROCEEDINGS ON INQUIRY AS TO SANITY OF A DEFENDANT

94-9301. (12213) Insane person cannot be tried or punished.

Declaratory of Common Law

This statute is declaratory of the common law as it has existed at least since Blackstone's day. Comparable or similar statutes have been enacted in all but four states of the Union. In these four, it seems the common law without the aid of statute remains in force. State v. Kitchens, — M —, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

94-9302. (12214) Doubts as to sanity of defendant, how determined, etc.

Construction

A doubt within the meaning of this section may come from matters which are brought to the attention of the trial judge wholly beyond the common-law record or which although occurring at the trial do not appear in the record, or which although shown in the record are not admissible as evidence bearing upon any issue before the trial court on the merits. The sources of that doubt need not be evidence. It is enough that the doubt comprehended by the statute arises from credible and trustworthy information brought to the attention of the trial court from any source at all. State v. Kitchens, — M —, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The question whether such a doubt is raised in any given case addresses itself directly to the sound judicial discretion of the trial court. But like any other matter thus committed to the discretion of a court or its judge this discretion may not be exercised arbitrarily. Its abuse will be reviewed on appeal, and where an abuse does appear the reviewing court will say as a matter of law a doubt did arise which commanded action, and which therefore works a reversal for the error of the judge below in failing to heed its command. State v. Kitchens, — M —, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The weight of successive adjudications by four different courts and judges, in other proceedings, that the defendant was insane, were sufficient as a matter of law to raise the doubt required by this section. The testimony of a witness that the defendant was sane does not alter the case, for at this stage of the proceedings the court is only concerned with the preliminary question whether there is reason to doubt the defendant's sanity. State v. Kitchens, — M —, 286 P 2d 1079, 1085.

Presumption of continuing insanity as applied to accused in criminal case. 27 ALR 2d 121.

CHAPTER 95—DISMISSAL OF ACTIONS FOR WANT OF PROSECUTION OR OTHER REASONS

94-9501. (12223) When action may be dismissed.

Dismissal on Other Grounds

Where district court dismissed information on grounds other than that provided by this section and record failed to show whether this ground was urged at the hearing in the district court or any ruling thereon, the case was reversed and the cause remanded to the district court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the opinion of the Supreme Court. State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1025; State v. McRae, 124 M 238, 220 P 2d 1025, 1027.

Interruption of Period

From the six months mentioned in subdivision 2 of this section must be excluded the time elapsing between the date the demurrer to the information was erroneously sustained and the date of the remittitur of the Supreme Court reversing the decision. State v. Israel, 124 M 152, 220 P 2d 1003, 1013.

Operation and Effect

Whether or not motion to dismiss information under this section because of delay in trial should be granted or denied depends on whether or not "good cause" is shown for delay. State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1025; State v. McRae, 124 M 238, 220 P 2d 1025, 1027.

In a prosecution for a misdemeanor, where the complaint is dismissed upon request by the state so that a new complaint may be issued which is substantially the same as the first complaint but amends it as to the time the offense was committed, such dismissal is not one under this section which would be a bar to the prosecution under section 94-9507. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 859, 860, 861.

94-9507. (12229) Dismissal a bar in misdemeanor, but not in felony.

Bar—How Raised

The defense of the bar arising under this section may properly be raised by a plea of not guilty, and all matters in proof thereof are admissible under the plea of not guilty by virtue of section 94-6805. State v. Porter, — M —, 300 P 2d 952, 954.

Operation and Effect

This section applies only to orders of dismissal as provided in section 94-9501. Therefore, in a justice of the peace proceeding where a complaint is dismissed upon request by the state so that a new complaint may be issued which is substantially the same as the first complaint but amends it as to the time the offense was committed, such dismissal is not a bar to the prosecution for the misdemeanor. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 859 to 861.

At the close of each fiscal year the board shall submit to the governor, to the board of prison commissioners and to the legislature, a report with statistical data of its work, including research studies which it may make of probation, sentencing, parole or related functions, and a compilation and analysis of dispositions by criminal courts throughout the state.

All other officers and employees of the board shall receive such compensation for their services as may be fixed by the board. All officers and employees of the board shall hold office at the pleasure of the board and shall perform such duties as are imposed on them by law or by the board.

He shall, subject to the approval of the board, divide the state into districts and assign probation and parole officers to serve in the various districts and courts; he shall obtain office quarters for such staff in each district as may be necessary. He shall assign the secretarial, bookkeeping and accounting work to the clerical employees, including receipt and disbursement of money. He shall direct the work of the probation and parole officers and other employees assigned to him. He shall formulate methods of investigation, supervision, record keeping and reports. He shall conduct training courses for the staff. He shall seek to cooperate with all agencies, public and private, which are concerned with the treatment or welfare of persons on probation or parole. He shall further be charged with the administration of the provisions of the interstate compact for the supervision of parolees and probationers.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9829. Duties of probation and parole officers. They shall furnish to each person released under their supervision a written statement of the conditions of probation or parole and shall instruct him regarding same. They shall keep informed of the conduct and condition of each person released under their supervision and use all suitable methods to aid and encourage him to bring about improvement in his conduct and condition. Probation and parole officers shall keep detailed records of their work. They shall supervise the collection and disbursement of all moneys when so instructed by the director in accordance with the orders of a court. They shall make such reports in writing as the director may require.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9830. Conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. The board may adopt general rules or regulations concerning the conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. Such conditions shall apply in the absence of any specific or inconsistent conditions imposed by a court. Nothing herein contained shall limit the authority of the court to impose or modify any general or specific conditions of probation or of suspension of sentence.

The probation and parole officer may recommend, and by order duly entered, a court may modify any conditions of probation or suspension of sentence at any time. Due notice shall be given to the probation and parole officer before any such conditions are modified and he shall be given an opportunity to be heard thereon. The court shall cause a copy of any such order to be delivered to the probation and parole officer and the probationer.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9831. Arrest—subsequent disposition. At any time during probation or suspension of sentence a court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant for violation of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be personally served upon the defendant. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such defendant to the custody of the court or to any suitable detention facility designated by the court. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such defendant without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power of arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the defendant has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the defendant by the arresting officer to the official in charge of a county jail or other place of detention shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the defendant. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Provisions regarding release on bail of persons charged with crime, shall be applicable to the defendants arrested under these provisions.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the court with jurisdiction over such prisoner, and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the defendant has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the court shall cause the defendant to be brought before it without unnecessary delay for a hearing on the violation charged. The hearing may be informal or summary. If the violation is established, the court may continue to revoke the probation or suspension of sentence, and may require him to serve the sentence imposed, or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was suspended, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed.

A probationer or defendant under suspension of sentence for whose return a warrant has been issued by the court, shall, after the issuance of the warrant, if it is found that such warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive from, or to have fled from, justice. If it shall appear that he has violated the provisions of his release, whether the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest, or any part of it, shall be counted as time served on probation or suspended sentence, shall be determined by the court.

94-9832. Parole authority and procedure. The board shall release on parole any person confined in the Montana state prison, except persons under sentence of death, when in its opinion there is reasonable probability that the prisoner can be released without detriment to himself or to the community, provided,

1. That no convict serving a time sentence shall be paroled until he shall have served at least one-quarter (¼) of his full term, less good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740; except that any convict serving a time sentence may be paroled after he shall have served, upon his term of sentence, twelve and one-half (12½) years;

2. No convict, serving a life sentence, shall be paroled until he shall have served twenty-five (25) years, less the good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740. All paroles shall issue upon order of the board, duly adopted.

Within two (2) months after his admission and at such intervals thereafter as it may determine, the board shall consider all pertinent information regarding each prisoner, including the circumstances of his offense, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and the reports of such physical and mental examinations as have been made.

Before ordering the parole of any prisoner, the board shall have the prisoner appear before it and shall interview him. A parole shall be ordered only for the best interest of society, not as an award of clemency; it shall not be considered a reduction of sentence or pardon. A prisoner shall be placed on parole only when the board believes that he is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen. Every prisoner while on parole shall remain in the legal custody of the institution from which he was released, but shall be subject to the orders of the board.

The board may adopt such other rules not inconsistent with law as it may deem proper or necessary, with respect to the eligibility of prisoners for parole, the conduct of parole hearings or conditions to be imposed upon parolees. Whenever an order for parole is issued it shall recite the conditions thereof.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9835. Persons may be heard—counsel. The board shall be required to hear oral statements from all persons desiring to be heard before the board and any person may be represented by counsel, provided that the board shall have the power to regulate procedure at all hearings.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9836. Subpoenas. The board shall have the power to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such records, books, papers and documents as it may deem necessary for investigation of the case of any person before it. Subpoenas may be signed and oaths administered by the board or any member thereof. Subpoenas so issued may be served by any sheriff, constable, police officer, parole and probation officer, or other law-enforcement officer. In case of contumacy by, or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena issued to such person, any member of the board or duly authorized representative of any of them may make application to any court of record of this state and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the board and there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof. Any person who shall without just cause fail, or refuse to attend and testify, or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce records, books, papers and other documents if it is in his power to do so, in obedience to a subpoena of the board or any member thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200) or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9837. Rules. The board shall have the power and duty to make rules for the conduct of persons heretofore or hereafter placed on parole or on probation under the supervision of the board by any court in this state, and for the investigation and supervision of such persons, except that the board shall not make any rule applying to a person on probation which conflicts with the conditions of probation imposed by the court.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9838. Return of parole violator. At any time during release on parole or conditional release the board may issue a warrant for the arrest of the released prisoner for violations of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be served personally upon the prisoner. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such prisoner to the actual custody of the penal institution from which he was released, or to any other suitable detention facility designated by the board. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such prisoner without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power to arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the prisoner has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the prisoner by the arresting officer to the official in charge of the institution from which the prisoner was released or other place of detention, shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the parolee or conditional releasee. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Pending hearing, as hereinafter provided, upon any charge of violation, the prisoner shall remain incarcerated in such institution.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the board and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the prisoner has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the board shall cause the prisoner to be promptly brought before it for a hearing on the violation charged, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. If the violation is established, the board may continue or revoke the parole or conditional release, or enter such other order as it may see fit.

A prisoner for whose return a warrant has been issued by the board shall, after the issuance of such warrant, if it is found that the warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive or to have fled from justice. If it shall appear that he has violated the provisions of his release, whether the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest, or any part of it, shall be counted as time served under the sentence, shall be determined by the board.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9839. Service of term for additional crime. A majority of the board shall advise, investigate, and approve each such case before the action of the governor shall be final. All applications for executive clemency shall be made to the board, which shall cause an investigation to be made of all the circumstances surrounding the crime for which the applicant was convicted, and as to the individual circumstances relating to social conditions of the applicant. If the board, or a majority thereof, approves such application for executive clemency, it shall advise the governor and recommend action to be taken.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9842. Notice of hearing applications for executive clemency. After the board has duly considered an application for executive clemency, and has by majority vote favored a recommendation of executive clemency to the governor, it must pass an order in substance as follows:

94-100-4. (12305) Plea, how put in.

Written "Special Plea in Bar" Not Authorized

Justice of the peace was acting within his jurisdiction and in accordance with the law in overruling the defendant's written "Special Plea in Bar" and ordering the defendant to answer to the complaint in accordance with this section and sections 94-6801 and 94-6802. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 859, 861.

94-100-25. (12326) Proceedings on plea of guilty or on conviction.

When the defendant pleads guilty, or is convicted, either by the court or by a jury, the court must render judgment thereon of fine or imprisonment, or both, as the case may be. The judgment must be executed by the sheriff, constable, marshal or policeman of the jurisdiction in which the conviction was had.

Application of Section

This section permitting appeal by notice in open court does not apply to the taking of an appeal to the Supreme Court from a judgment of a district court. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

94-100-38. (12339) Trial anew.

Operation and Effect

Where an appeal is taken to the district court from a conviction in a police court for a liquor law violation, but neither the city nor the defendant requested the cause be set for trial, the judge of the court could not order the appeal dismissed "for want of prosecution" without giving notice to the defendant. Such an order is void and in excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Healy v. District Court, 125 M 77, 230 P 2d 763.

(a) To require the defendant to furnish recognizance in the form of a cash deposit or bond of such character and in such amount as the court may deem proper to assure payment of any amount required to be paid by the defendant.

(b) To require the defendant to make payments at specified intervals to the clerk of the court or the obligee and to report personally to such clerk at such times as may be deemed necessary.

(c) To punish the defendant who shall violate any order of the court to the same extent as is provided by law for contempt of the court in any other suit or proceeding cognizable by the court.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 222, L. 1951.

94-901-16. Additional duties of the court of this state when acting as responding state. The court of this state when acting as a responding state shall have the following duties which may be carried out through the clerk of the court:

(a) Upon the receipt of a payment made by the defendant pursuant to any order of the court or otherwise, to transmit the same forthwith to the court of the initiating state, and
